

Angels Fear Where Man Treads

Written By One Who Fears

After the fall of Bastille in 1789 Edmund Burke wrote a letter in 1790. Published in 1790 the letter contained the phrase “Fools rush in where angels fear to tread” which later became known as Edmund Burke’s Reflections on the Revolution in Franc.

Whether man has existed on planet Earth for 10,000 years (per 56% of Republicans), 400,000 years (according to science) or longer is not the relevance that must be understood. Scripture provides that it was Satan that approached and deceived Eve and as such many believe that the female gender is subservient to the male gender. What if it was Satan that approached Adam first, would it then be the male gender that should be subservient to the female gender? With Satan be an outcast Angel of God for failing to follow God’s law, would Satan know of which was an easier target? Could it be said that Satan knew the frailties of man, regardless of gender? So it may not matter which was approached first, male or female.

Man, even in modern time, treads a path that Angels know should not be traveled. So is it that Angels fear where man is traveling? This writer does not believe that Angels fear to tread, in the opposite, the Angels know what man knows not.

Whereas an Angel of God knows the word of God, many a man has failed in reading and hearing the word of God and further failed in applying the learning. As such, religious leaders have to educate from the beginning. Do this, do that, just like learning math, one has to begin somewhere. Stand, sit, walk, run are directions easily understood and applied, for failure to follow, one just might get hit by a runaway. Listening, learning and comprehending can not be achieved without disciplining ones mind. Why man fails to listen to the message of God, each must ask themselves as to why. One needs to be able to adapt and overcome the desire of evil.

This writer has attended many a different religious service, it is not the teaching of God that is confusing, it is learning the rules of the particular church. Many will sit and not return, maybe because of embarrassment in not knowing when to sit and stand. To reach adults that know how to use crayons, process and procedures telling them when and how will assuredly meet with resistance. When this resistance interferes with learning of God, there is a problem that not even NASA could solve.
