

Taken before D'Lois L. Jones, Certified Shorthand Reporter in and for the State of Texas, reported by machine shorthand method, on the 7th day of November, 2007, between the hours of 9:36 a.m. and 11:46 a.m., at the Winstead, Sechrest & Minick, 401 Congress, Suite 2400, Austin, Texas 78701.

	Page 2		Page 4
1	*_*_*_*_*_	1	that, open it up if people have particular issues, and
2	MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Why don't we get	2	we'll probably go around again and let you say what they
3	started? We have lunch. I have no clue whether we're	3	are, what you think about it, and what we need to be 4	going to get there or not, and if we don't get there, I	4	doing, and then we'll go from there. Probably after the
5	don't care. If we get there, fine. It doesn't make any	5	meeting, we'll probably appoint some subcommittees that
6	difference. We'll do what we need to be doing. I first	6	will be after we see what's happening and so forth,
7	of all want to thank all of you for giving of your time	7	subcommittees that will deal with particular issues to
8	and talent. We want both, and the billable hours and the	8	work between when we do and then report back and see if we
9	money you get out of this are zero, so don't worry about	9	can't do it that way. Last time Tommy got to do a lot of 10	that. That's not a good start, but we're doing, I think,	10	drafting. This time Tommy is going to get to do a lot of 11	good things.	11	drafting because he did a good job last time, and he did
12	I will tell you that my view of what lawyers	12	not get fired, and nobody fussed at him.
13	have to do to make the world work better for everybody and	13	MR. BARRETT: Well, now wait a minute.
14	what I hope this task force does is get deals done and	14	MR. BAGGETT: So that's how 15	solve problems. If we'll all bear in mind that's what we	15	MR. BASTIAN: I still carry scars.
16	need to be doing, we'll do just fine, and we had this task	16	MR. BAGGETT: Oh, now, Tommy, give these
17	force, some of you were in here in '97 and '99, and when	17	people the right impression, not the wrong impression.
18	we got started we said we're going to do this together for	18	MR. TEMPLE: Mike, I think it's more
19	the benefit of the State of Texas. There's no winners or	19	accurate to say last time he did all the drafting and the 20	losers, whatever position you come in here, just	20	rest of us did the second-guessing.
21	contribute so we can all make an educated decision on	21	MR. BAGGETT: I think that is probably
22	what's the best for Texas. The only winners or losers are	22	accurate, so I probably didn't give him due credit. Tommy
23	this group if we all win together, so we're not going to	23	is the one that came up with the idea, and in the
24	come in here and argue points and all that.	24	materials you've got what he did to put this together, and
25	We're going to figure out how we make it	25	the Court agreed, so that's how we got here. Why don't we
	Page 3		Page 5
1	work for everybody, and I don't know whether this is	1	just start going around here, who you are, where you're
2	totally true, but I said it several times and nobody has	2	from, and what you bring to the table.
3	disagreed, so I'm going to keep on saying it. In '97 and	3	HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: I'm Phil Johnson,
4	'99 when we got through with the rules and the task force,	4	and I'm the Supreme Court liaison to the committee.
5	we all agreed unanimously on it, and we all got along	5	I'm
6	great, and we had a good time doing it, went to the	6	MR. BAGGETT: Hold on, we've got some new
7	Supreme Court and they approved it unanimously, and a	7	folks coming. Are you-all on the committee? Okay. You
8	couple of the judges said, "This never happens like this,"	8	should have nametags somewhere.
9	and I said, "Well, good. I'm glad we're going to do	9	MS. HOBBS: Right there.
10	that." So we're all going to be winners because we're	10	MR. BAGGETT: Just get one and get a seat.
11	going to do that again. We're going to come out where	11	I know Manny.
12	everybody agrees, and we're going to take it over there	12	MR. NEWBURGER: Sorry about that. I flew in 13	and they're going to all agree. So that's our goal in	13	late last night.
14	life. If we do that, we will all win. So that's kind of	14	MR. BAGGETT: I'm sorry. You-all missed a
15	where we are and what we're going to do.	15	great introduction, but you better ask them if it was any
16	I think what we're probably going to do this	16	good or not. So we're just getting started, going around
17	morning is go around the room. We want each of you to say	17	the room, who you are and kind of what your experience is
18	who you are, where you're from, and what you bring to the	18	in these areas and then we'll open it up for issues later
19	table in terms of expertise and experience, and we've	19	on. Judge, I apologize.
20	got we tried to when putting this committee together to	20	HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: That's all right.
21	get all sides of most of the issues so we can know what	21	I've been on the Court a couple of years. I was on the
22	all the issues are and deal with them fairly. That is	22	Court of Appeals in Amarillo before that, and before that
23 24	what we tried hard to do, and we'll see how successful we	23	I tried lawsuits, and all I looked forward to was someone
24 25	are at the end of it, but we tried to do that.	24 25	messing up the foreclosure, so I'm here to bring the
120	And then probably we'll go around after	40	Court's imprimatur to this and to encourage everybody.

2 (Pages 2 to 5)

	Page 6		Page 8
1	MR. BAGGETT: Thank you for participating.	1	Grande Legal Aid. We represent the homeowners who are
2	Lisa.	2	facing foreclosures in these kind of suits, and so I'll
3	MS. HOBBS: My name is Lisa Hobbs. I'm the	3	bring that perspective to the table I hope.
4	general counsel for the Supreme Court, and I'm here to be	4	MR. BAGGETT: Fred was on the committee
5	of staff assistance as I can be. I have no expertise in	5	before, and what did I lie about in the opening, Fred?
6	this area, and Jody Hughes is our rules attorney, and he	6	Was it okay?
7	will probably have a hand in this as well, but he is on	7	MR. FUCHS: I thought you were right on.
8	his honeymoon right now, so he couldn't make this meeting,	8	MS. RODGERS: I'm Kelly Rodgers. I'm an
9	but you will probably be working with him as well.	9	attorney and a lobbyist here in Austin, and I worked on
10	MR. McRAE: I'm Tock McRae. I'm from San	10	Senate Bill 1520 and the companion regulatory bill during
11	Antonio. I am in-house with C. H. Guenther & Son, which	11	the last session representing the interest of mortgage
12	is a privately held food manufacturer in San Antonio, and,	12	lenders.
13	no, we don't do any foreclosures there, but in my former	13	MR. TEMPLE: I'm Larry Temple. I'm an
14	life I've only been in-house about four years. In my	14	Austin lawyer, and I have for more than 35 years
15	former life I was a banking lending lawyer and was pretty	15	represented the Texas Mortgage Bankers Association, the
16	involved in foreclosures, depending on the economic	16	association of mortgage companies in the state, and they
17	cycles.	17	obviously have an interest in this.
18	MR. BAGGETT: Okay.	18	MR. CULBRETH: Ken Culbreth. I'm not on the
19	MR. REDDING: I'm Tim Redding. I'm with	19	force. I'm just kind of here auditing, was involved with
20	First American in Houston. I was in the mortgage business	20	the legislation before, and my client had hired Kelly
21	before I got in the title business, and I've been in the	21	Rodgers to help us with this, and represent mortgage
22	title business 30 years, so that tells you something. I	22	lenders and taxpayers and seen a lot of this in the courts
23	was in the mortgage business going to law school in	23	and the litigation and just continue to be interested.
24	Houston, and obviously I'm involved in foreclosures being	24	MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Manny.
25	in the title business.	25	MR. NEWBURGER: I'm Manny Newburger with
_	Page 7	-	Page 9
1	MS. HOBBS: Hi, Judge Davidson, I'm sorry, I	1	Barron, Newburger, Sinsley & Weir here in Austin. In my
2	was interrupting someone here, but we have you on the line	2	former life I represented consumers suing banks and
3	and we're doing introductions right now.	3	mortgage servicers and such. These days I represent a
4	HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: I apologize I was	4	large portion of the collection industry. I represent
5	late.	5	lawyers, debt buyers. My law firm represents I think four
6	MR. BAGGETT: No problem. Thank you, Judge.	6	trade groups that deal with the collection industry, and I
7	And I should have said something that I forgot to say in	7	still teach consumer law at UT and periodically still
8	my elaborate opening remarks, and that is that one of the	8	advocate for consumers.
9	things that we do need to be careful here is we've got	9	HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: My name is Bruce
10	about 200 years of title law, so whatever we do, we	10	Priddy, and I'm a district judge in Dallas in the 116th.
11	probably don't need to mess it up. So we do need to think	11	I've only been on the bench for about ten months now.
12	about titles and how we deal with those, and one of the	12	I've heard about probably about a hundred 736
13	things I guess about titles is certainty probably helps	13	applications in the short time I've been there and have a
14	the title business. Would you agree with that?	14	strong interest in this area of the law. Before I was
15	MR. REDDING: I'm sorry?	15	elected to the bench I was a consumer lawyer and had some
16	MR. BAGGETT: Certainty.	16	experience in home equity litigation, representing
17	MR. REDDING: Certainty, absolutely. I	17	consumers exclusively, mostly pro bono, some intentional,
18	mean, that's our biggest problem with fighting bills every	18	some nonintentional, but home equity lending is something
19	session that try to hide information, be it from public	19	that interests me a great deal.
20	officials or things like that. We're always, you know,	20	MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Thank you.
21	looking for the information.	21	MS. DOGGETT: I'm Mary Doggett. I'm an
22	MR. BAGGETT: And since foreclosures are a	22	attorney in San Antonio. I represent the Texas Property
23	part of the title we need to be careful about that, so	23	Tax Lenders Association and several companies that do
24	anyway.	24	property tax lending. My background is that I worked for
25	MR. FUCHS: Fred Fuchs with Texas Rio	25	eleven years with Linebarger, Goggan, Blair & Sampson

3 (Pages 6 to 9)

	Page 10		Page 12
1	collecting delinquent taxes for various taxing units in	1	knows who everybody is, and we have done all that yes.
2	Bexar County.	2	MR. REDDING: On the phone.
3	MR. BAGGETT: Okay.	3	MR. BAGGETT: Oh, Judge? Judge?
4	HON. AMALIA RODRIGUEZ-MENDOZA: Good	4	HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Yeah, I'm here.
5	morning. I'm Amalia Rodriguez-Mendoza. I'm the district	5	MR. BAGGETT: Okay.
6	clerk here in Travis County, and I guess the reason I'm on	6	HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: My name is Mark
7	this committee is to sort of give you the clerk's	7	Davidson. I'm judge of the 11th District Court in
8	perspective, but in Travis County on February 28th Judge	8	Houston. I'm also the administrative judge in Harris
9	Dietz signed an order mandating that certain cases be	9	County. I have been a judge for 18 years, and I have been
10	e-filed, and one of the type of cases that is e-filed is	10	doing these since the rule and the constitutional
11	home equity and foreclosures, and we receive a lot of	11	amendment went into effect a long time ago.
12	e-filing foreclosures, and I don't know if you're doing	12	MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Well, thank you very
13	that e-filing, but I guess that's one of the perspectives	13	much, and we clearly need the skills of the administrative
14	that I bring.	14	judge in Harris County. And whatever you see that's 15	MR. BAGGETT: It is. It is. It's a very	15	reality we need to know for sure, because we've got to
16	important perspective, so speak up and let us know what	16	deal with it at every level, so thank you very much for
17	we're doing good and bad because that's important. We	17	joining us, and what we'll probably do now is we have two
18	need to make sure we do that right. Okay. Thank you.	18	major areas that we probably need to think about and deal
19	All right, Linda.	19	with. One is the tax lien information and the other is 20	MS. KELLUM: I'm Linda Kellum. I'm the	20	what's working and isn't working in those two rules that
21	court coordinator for the 88th Judicial District Court,	21	we need to deal with, 735 and 736.
22	which is composed of Hardin and Tyler County. I'm also a	22	I will say this, that when we had the task
23	certified legal assistant. I've been in the legal	23	force before and we didn't have a rule, we started from
24	profession for probably about 28 years now. I just went	24	scratch, and a little bit of the history and I stand
25	off of the board of directors for the Texas Association of	25	for rebuttal from any of you who are in here if you think
	Page 11		Page 13
1	Court Administration. I also am a faculty member for the	1	I slipped in what I say here, that's fine, because we have
2	Texas Center of the Judiciary with their PDP program, and	2	several that have been on all the task forces, and but
3	like Mr. Redding there, I have spent some time in a in	3	what we were assigned to do because we got home equity for
4	the title business before as well. My perspective, I	4	the first time in a constitutional amendment that said
5	suppose, is going to be how the courts deal with it.	5	there has to be an order from a court in order to go
6	MR. BAGGETT: You have a very important	6	forward with a foreclosure. So these two rules were to
7	perspective, what are we doing good and what are we doing	7	try to address that requirement that there be an order
8	bad from the real life everyday stuff, and that's very	8	from the court in this area of foreclosures, and first in
9	important. So both of you, if we get off into esoteric	9	I guess '97 was home equity, and we talked about where do
10	stuff and we're not paying attention to reality, you let	10	we go and what do we do, and we were starting from 11	us know. Karen.	11	scratch.
12	MS. NEELEY: Karen Neeley. I'm general	12	And I will say this, although it wasn't
13	counsel for Independent Bankers Association of Texas and	13	popular to say this in the meeting, we borrowed from
14	of counsel with Cox Smith Matthews, and I followed and	14	Colorado, because Colorado had a process somewhat like
15	worked on this 1520 companion regulatory bills as it was	15	what we ended up with, and the big concerns were if
16	going through session.	16	there's a lot of this we don't want to clog up all the
17	MR. BARRETT: Hi, I'm Mike Barrett. I'm	17	dockets and make the administrative part of it very
18	chairman at Barrett Burke Wilson Castle Daffin & Frappier.	18	difficult and if, in fact, they are uncontested, proceed
19	I'm Manny's client and Tommy's boss, so I'm just here to	19	with it on a basis that the rule deals with, but if
20	make sure they're doing a good job.	20	anybody wants to contest it in any way, they can bring
21	MR. BAGGETT: Tommy says he's the boss.	21	another lawsuit, what I would call a full regular lawsuit
22	All right, Tommy.	22	in another court, file a notice of it where the
0.0	MR BANITAN' I'm Tommy Bestien and I'm the	23	application is filed, and it's automatically dismissed
23	MR. BASTIAN: I'm Tommy Bastian, and I'm the		•••
23 24 25	peon at Barrett Burke Wilson Castle Daffin & Frappier. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Now that everybody	24 25	without prejudice, and you flip over to full litigation, and that was our thought process about how we do it.

dee2jones@hwtx.com

4 (Pages 10 to 13)

	Page 14		Page 16
1	So it's a balance between full litigation if	1	impact what committees we have and who's on them. Having
2	and when you need it, and if it's not disputed, so we	2	said that, Tommy, do you want to talk about tax liens and
3	don't clog up the courts and so forth, go forward with	3	Karen and I guess Kelly? Yeah, go ahead.
4	this process that we came up with in 735 and 736, and I	4	MR. TEMPLE: Can I suggest something?
5	think it's different than what we've had before, so	5	MR. HEIMIEE. Can't suggest something? MR. BAGGETT: Sure.
6		6	MR. TEMPLE: I don't want to trump what you
7	administratively it caused some problems. Judges weren't familiar with it, which is very understandable, because it	7	just said, but it would be instructive to me if before we
8	was different than anything we've ever done, but I think	8	got into what additions we are going to make if the people
o 9		9	that are dealing with this on a regular basis could tell
10	everybody tried and it worked out pretty well, and then	10	me what problems there are with the present rule to which 11	when we got reverse mortgages two years later we just added reverse mortgages to those two rules, and now I	11	it's applicable anyway.
12		12	MR. BAGGETT: Sure.
13	guess the thing that probably triggers this more than	13	MR. TEMPLE: I know there is an issue about
$14^{13}$	anything else is we've got the tax lien issues that say	14	lines of credit and there is an issue about reverse
$14 \\ 15$	you've got to comply with 736.	15	mortgages and certainly going to be an issue about the
	So we again, we need to put into these two rules how we deal with the tax lien situation. That	16
16		17	property tax liens, and we'll need to make some additions
17 18	probably is the starting point for most of this, because	18	or changes probably, but without regard to that just a
	we've got to deal with that issue. Now, while we're at it, if there are other issues that have arisen, as much	19	minute, what it was intended to work for, I would be interested in knowing are there issues, are there problems
19 20		20	÷ .
20 21	from the administrative judge and the coordinators and the	21	in the way it has been working over the last decade in the areas to which it was originally applicable.
21	clerks, mechanically on how we can improve it or if there	22
22	are problems with it then we would like to hear any of that if we can.	23	MR. BAGGETT: I was going to go to that next, but that's fine. Let's start on that now. I don't
23 24		24	have any problem with that. That's fine. So why don't we 24 25	I will say our goal in life is not to reinvent the Constitution. No, no, no. We need to deal	24	do that? Anybody that's dealing with it everyday or has
25		20
1	Page 15	1	Page 17
1	with things as efficiently and as precisely as possible.
			issues with it or things that we can improve on the rules
2	We are not the Supreme Court. We are not the Legislature,	2	and how they work right now, you know, the floor is open
3	and we all haven't been voted into office, so our task, we	2 3	and how they work right now, you know, the floor is open and don't hold back, because we need it.
3 4	and we all haven't been voted into office, so our task, we need to bear in mind, we are not kings and queens, we're	2 3 4	and how they work right now, you know, the floor is open and don't hold back, because we need it. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Okay. Well, not
3 4 5	and we all haven't been voted into office, so our task, we need to bear in mind, we are not kings and queens, we're just folks trying to figure out how to make this work and	2 3 4 5	and how they work right now, you know, the floor is open and don't hold back, because we need it. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Okay. Well, not one to hold back, can I get my first little shot?
3 4 5 6	and we all haven't been voted into office, so our task, we need to bear in mind, we are not kings and queens, we're just folks trying to figure out how to make this work and do it in an efficient, easy way as opposed to rewriting	2 3 4 5 6	and how they work right now, you know, the floor is open and don't hold back, because we need it. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Okay. Well, not one to hold back, can I get my first little shot? MR. BAGGETT: You bet.
3 4 5 6 7	and we all haven't been voted into office, so our task, we need to bear in mind, we are not kings and queens, we're just folks trying to figure out how to make this work and do it in an efficient, easy way as opposed to rewriting the Constitution. We don't need to do that, I don't	2 3 4 5 6 7	and how they work right now, you know, the floor is open and don't hold back, because we need it. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Okay. Well, not one to hold back, can I get my first little shot? MR. BAGGETT: You bet. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: There appears to
3 4 5 6 7 8	and we all haven't been voted into office, so our task, we need to bear in mind, we are not kings and queens, we're just folks trying to figure out how to make this work and do it in an efficient, easy way as opposed to rewriting the Constitution. We don't need to do that, I don't think. So I'm not sure that little talk helped you very	2 3 4 5 6 7 8	and how they work right now, you know, the floor is open and don't hold back, because we need it. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Okay. Well, not one to hold back, can I get my first little shot? MR. BAGGETT: You bet. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: There appears to be a dispute between attorneys that represent the lenders
3 4 5 6 7 8 9	and we all haven't been voted into office, so our task, we need to bear in mind, we are not kings and queens, we're just folks trying to figure out how to make this work and do it in an efficient, easy way as opposed to rewriting the Constitution. We don't need to do that, I don't think. So I'm not sure that little talk helped you very much, but that's where we are.	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9	and how they work right now, you know, the floor is open and don't hold back, because we need it. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Okay. Well, not one to hold back, can I get my first little shot? MR. BAGGETT: You bet. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: There appears to be a dispute between attorneys that represent the lenders and some no, and most, but not all, judges as to
3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10	and we all haven't been voted into office, so our task, we need to bear in mind, we are not kings and queens, we're just folks trying to figure out how to make this work and do it in an efficient, easy way as opposed to rewriting the Constitution. We don't need to do that, I don't think. So I'm not sure that little talk helped you very much, but that's where we are. Why don't we talk first, because our primary	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10	and how they work right now, you know, the floor is open and don't hold back, because we need it. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Okay. Well, not one to hold back, can I get my first little shot? MR. BAGGETT: You bet. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: There appears to be a dispute between attorneys that represent the lenders and some no, and most, but not all, judges as to whether or not the papers that are filed with the Court
3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11	and we all haven't been voted into office, so our task, we need to bear in mind, we are not kings and queens, we're just folks trying to figure out how to make this work and do it in an efficient, easy way as opposed to rewriting the Constitution. We don't need to do that, I don't think. So I'm not sure that little talk helped you very much, but that's where we are. Why don't we talk first, because our primary goal is to deal with how we adapt this rule to tax liens,	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11	and how they work right now, you know, the floor is open and don't hold back, because we need it. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Okay. Well, not one to hold back, can I get my first little shot? MR. BAGGETT: You bet. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: There appears to be a dispute between attorneys that represent the lenders and some no, and most, but not all, judges as to whether or not the papers that are filed with the Court that establish the existence of the debt and the lien must
3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12	and we all haven't been voted into office, so our task, we need to bear in mind, we are not kings and queens, we're just folks trying to figure out how to make this work and do it in an efficient, easy way as opposed to rewriting the Constitution. We don't need to do that, I don't think. So I'm not sure that little talk helped you very much, but that's where we are. Why don't we talk first, because our primary goal is to deal with how we adapt this rule to tax liens, and I will also say this: This morning throw out	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12	and how they work right now, you know, the floor is open and don't hold back, because we need it. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Okay. Well, not one to hold back, can I get my first little shot? MR. BAGGETT: You bet. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: There appears to be a dispute between attorneys that represent the lenders and some no, and most, but not all, judges as to whether or not the papers that are filed with the Court that establish the existence of the debt and the lien must show that the movant, that is the current holder and owner
3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13	and we all haven't been voted into office, so our task, we need to bear in mind, we are not kings and queens, we're just folks trying to figure out how to make this work and do it in an efficient, easy way as opposed to rewriting the Constitution. We don't need to do that, I don't think. So I'm not sure that little talk helped you very much, but that's where we are. Why don't we talk first, because our primary goal is to deal with how we adapt this rule to tax liens, and I will also say this: This morning throw out everything that anybody has an issue with and we ought to	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13	and how they work right now, you know, the floor is open and don't hold back, because we need it. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Okay. Well, not one to hold back, can I get my first little shot? MR. BAGGETT: You bet. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: There appears to be a dispute between attorneys that represent the lenders and some no, and most, but not all, judges as to whether or not the papers that are filed with the Court that establish the existence of the debt and the lien must show that the movant, that is the current holder and owner of the note, is the party entitled to foreclose. In other
3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14	and we all haven't been voted into office, so our task, we need to bear in mind, we are not kings and queens, we're just folks trying to figure out how to make this work and do it in an efficient, easy way as opposed to rewriting the Constitution. We don't need to do that, I don't think. So I'm not sure that little talk helped you very much, but that's where we are. Why don't we talk first, because our primary goal is to deal with how we adapt this rule to tax liens, and I will also say this: This morning throw out everything that anybody has an issue with and we ought to talk about it as much as you want to. What we'll probably	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14	and how they work right now, you know, the floor is open and don't hold back, because we need it. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Okay. Well, not one to hold back, can I get my first little shot? MR. BAGGETT: You bet. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: There appears to be a dispute between attorneys that represent the lenders and some no, and most, but not all, judges as to whether or not the papers that are filed with the Court that establish the existence of the debt and the lien must show that the movant, that is the current holder and owner of the note, is the party entitled to foreclose. In other words, whether you have to attach the assignment
3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	and we all haven't been voted into office, so our task, we need to bear in mind, we are not kings and queens, we're just folks trying to figure out how to make this work and do it in an efficient, easy way as opposed to rewriting the Constitution. We don't need to do that, I don't think. So I'm not sure that little talk helped you very much, but that's where we are. Why don't we talk first, because our primary goal is to deal with how we adapt this rule to tax liens, and I will also say this: This morning throw out everything that anybody has an issue with and we ought to talk about it as much as you want to. What we'll probably do after this, after we see what the different issues are	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	and how they work right now, you know, the floor is open and don't hold back, because we need it. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Okay. Well, not one to hold back, can I get my first little shot? MR. BAGGETT: You bet. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: There appears to be a dispute between attorneys that represent the lenders and some no, and most, but not all, judges as to whether or not the papers that are filed with the Court that establish the existence of the debt and the lien must show that the movant, that is the current holder and owner of the note, is the party entitled to foreclose. In other words, whether you have to attach the assignment documents. If I get an application that shows a note paid
3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	and we all haven't been voted into office, so our task, we need to bear in mind, we are not kings and queens, we're just folks trying to figure out how to make this work and do it in an efficient, easy way as opposed to rewriting the Constitution. We don't need to do that, I don't think. So I'm not sure that little talk helped you very much, but that's where we are. Why don't we talk first, because our primary goal is to deal with how we adapt this rule to tax liens, and I will also say this: This morning throw out everything that anybody has an issue with and we ought to talk about it as much as you want to. What we'll probably do after this, after we see what the different issues are and so forth, we'll probably get some subcommittees that	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	and how they work right now, you know, the floor is open and don't hold back, because we need it. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Okay. Well, not one to hold back, can I get my first little shot? MR. BAGGETT: You bet. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: There appears to be a dispute between attorneys that represent the lenders and some no, and most, but not all, judges as to whether or not the papers that are filed with the Court that establish the existence of the debt and the lien must show that the movant, that is the current holder and owner of the note, is the party entitled to foreclose. In other words, whether you have to attach the assignment documents. If I get an application that shows a note paid to the ABC Lending Company and it's the XYZ Bank Company
3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	and we all haven't been voted into office, so our task, we need to bear in mind, we are not kings and queens, we're just folks trying to figure out how to make this work and do it in an efficient, easy way as opposed to rewriting the Constitution. We don't need to do that, I don't think. So I'm not sure that little talk helped you very much, but that's where we are. Why don't we talk first, because our primary goal is to deal with how we adapt this rule to tax liens, and I will also say this: This morning throw out everything that anybody has an issue with and we ought to talk about it as much as you want to. What we'll probably do after this, after we see what the different issues are and so forth, we'll probably get some subcommittees that will work between these meetings to come up with some	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	and how they work right now, you know, the floor is open and don't hold back, because we need it. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Okay. Well, not one to hold back, can I get my first little shot? MR. BAGGETT: You bet. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: There appears to be a dispute between attorneys that represent the lenders and some no, and most, but not all, judges as to whether or not the papers that are filed with the Court that establish the existence of the debt and the lien must show that the movant, that is the current holder and owner of the note, is the party entitled to foreclose. In other words, whether you have to attach the assignment documents. If I get an application that shows a note paid to the ABC Lending Company and it's the XYZ Bank Company that is seeking to foreclose, some judges say that the
3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	and we all haven't been voted into office, so our task, we need to bear in mind, we are not kings and queens, we're just folks trying to figure out how to make this work and do it in an efficient, easy way as opposed to rewriting the Constitution. We don't need to do that, I don't think. So I'm not sure that little talk helped you very much, but that's where we are. Why don't we talk first, because our primary goal is to deal with how we adapt this rule to tax liens, and I will also say this: This morning throw out everything that anybody has an issue with and we ought to talk about it as much as you want to. What we'll probably do after this, after we see what the different issues are and so forth, we'll probably get some subcommittees that will work between these meetings to come up with some proposed drafts. As Larry said, we did that to Tommy, and	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	and how they work right now, you know, the floor is open and don't hold back, because we need it. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Okay. Well, not one to hold back, can I get my first little shot? MR. BAGGETT: You bet. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: There appears to be a dispute between attorneys that represent the lenders and some no, and most, but not all, judges as to whether or not the papers that are filed with the Court that establish the existence of the debt and the lien must show that the movant, that is the current holder and owner of the note, is the party entitled to foreclose. In other words, whether you have to attach the assignment documents. If I get an application that shows a note paid to the ABC Lending Company and it's the XYZ Bank Company that is seeking to foreclose, some judges say that the motion should be denied, the application should be denied,
3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19	and we all haven't been voted into office, so our task, we need to bear in mind, we are not kings and queens, we're just folks trying to figure out how to make this work and do it in an efficient, easy way as opposed to rewriting the Constitution. We don't need to do that, I don't think. So I'm not sure that little talk helped you very much, but that's where we are. Why don't we talk first, because our primary goal is to deal with how we adapt this rule to tax liens, and I will also say this: This morning throw out everything that anybody has an issue with and we ought to talk about it as much as you want to. What we'll probably do after this, after we see what the different issues are and so forth, we'll probably get some subcommittees that will work between these meetings to come up with some proposed drafts. As Larry said, we did that to Tommy, and he did the work, and we came in and said, "Tommy did a	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19	and how they work right now, you know, the floor is open and don't hold back, because we need it. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Okay. Well, not one to hold back, can I get my first little shot? MR. BAGGETT: You bet. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: There appears to be a dispute between attorneys that represent the lenders and some no, and most, but not all, judges as to whether or not the papers that are filed with the Court that establish the existence of the debt and the lien must show that the movant, that is the current holder and owner of the note, is the party entitled to foreclose. In other words, whether you have to attach the assignment documents. If I get an application that shows a note paid to the ABC Lending Company and it's the XYZ Bank Company that is seeking to foreclose, some judges say that the motion should be denied, the application should be denied, because the unless the assignment from ABC to XYZ is
3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	and we all haven't been voted into office, so our task, we need to bear in mind, we are not kings and queens, we're just folks trying to figure out how to make this work and do it in an efficient, easy way as opposed to rewriting the Constitution. We don't need to do that, I don't think. So I'm not sure that little talk helped you very much, but that's where we are. Why don't we talk first, because our primary goal is to deal with how we adapt this rule to tax liens, and I will also say this: This morning throw out everything that anybody has an issue with and we ought to talk about it as much as you want to. What we'll probably do after this, after we see what the different issues are and so forth, we'll probably get some subcommittees that will work between these meetings to come up with some proposed drafts. As Larry said, we did that to Tommy, and he did the work, and we came in and said, "Tommy did a pretty good job, that's good." So maybe that will happen	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	and how they work right now, you know, the floor is open and don't hold back, because we need it. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Okay. Well, not one to hold back, can I get my first little shot? MR. BAGGETT: You bet. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: There appears to be a dispute between attorneys that represent the lenders and some no, and most, but not all, judges as to whether or not the papers that are filed with the Court that establish the existence of the debt and the lien must show that the movant, that is the current holder and owner of the note, is the party entitled to foreclose. In other words, whether you have to attach the assignment documents. If I get an application that shows a note paid to the ABC Lending Company and it's the XYZ Bank Company that is seeking to foreclose, some judges say that the motion should be denied, the application should be denied, because the unless the assignment from ABC to XYZ is contained in the file.
3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	and we all haven't been voted into office, so our task, we need to bear in mind, we are not kings and queens, we're just folks trying to figure out how to make this work and do it in an efficient, easy way as opposed to rewriting the Constitution. We don't need to do that, I don't think. So I'm not sure that little talk helped you very much, but that's where we are. Why don't we talk first, because our primary goal is to deal with how we adapt this rule to tax liens, and I will also say this: This morning throw out everything that anybody has an issue with and we ought to talk about it as much as you want to. What we'll probably do after this, after we see what the different issues are and so forth, we'll probably get some subcommittees that will work between these meetings to come up with some proposed drafts. As Larry said, we did that to Tommy, and he did the work, and we came in and said, "Tommy did a pretty good job, that's good." So maybe that will happen again. That will be fine with me if we do that.	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	and how they work right now, you know, the floor is open and don't hold back, because we need it. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Okay. Well, not one to hold back, can I get my first little shot? MR. BAGGETT: You bet. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: There appears to be a dispute between attorneys that represent the lenders and some no, and most, but not all, judges as to whether or not the papers that are filed with the Court that establish the existence of the debt and the lien must show that the movant, that is the current holder and owner of the note, is the party entitled to foreclose. In other words, whether you have to attach the assignment documents. If I get an application that shows a note paid to the ABC Lending Company and it's the XYZ Bank Company that is seeking to foreclose, some judges say that the motion should be denied, the application should be denied, because the unless the assignment from ABC to XYZ is contained in the file. Other judges maintain that as long as it is
3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	and we all haven't been voted into office, so our task, we need to bear in mind, we are not kings and queens, we're just folks trying to figure out how to make this work and do it in an efficient, easy way as opposed to rewriting the Constitution. We don't need to do that, I don't think. So I'm not sure that little talk helped you very much, but that's where we are. Why don't we talk first, because our primary goal is to deal with how we adapt this rule to tax liens, and I will also say this: This morning throw out everything that anybody has an issue with and we ought to talk about it as much as you want to. What we'll probably do after this, after we see what the different issues are and so forth, we'll probably get some subcommittees that will work between these meetings to come up with some proposed drafts. As Larry said, we did that to Tommy, and he did the work, and we came in and said, "Tommy did a pretty good job, that's good." So maybe that will happen again. That will be fine with me if we do that. But we'll probably do that, so y'all will	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	and how they work right now, you know, the floor is open and don't hold back, because we need it. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Okay. Well, not one to hold back, can I get my first little shot? MR. BAGGETT: You bet. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: There appears to be a dispute between attorneys that represent the lenders and some no, and most, but not all, judges as to whether or not the papers that are filed with the Court that establish the existence of the debt and the lien must show that the movant, that is the current holder and owner of the note, is the party entitled to foreclose. In other words, whether you have to attach the assignment documents. If I get an application that shows a note paid to the ABC Lending Company and it's the XYZ Bank Company that is seeking to foreclose, some judges say that the motion should be denied, the application should be denied, because the unless the assignment from ABC to XYZ is contained in the file. Other judges maintain that as long as it is pled under oath that the applicant is the holder and owner
3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	and we all haven't been voted into office, so our task, we need to bear in mind, we are not kings and queens, we're just folks trying to figure out how to make this work and do it in an efficient, easy way as opposed to rewriting the Constitution. We don't need to do that, I don't think. So I'm not sure that little talk helped you very much, but that's where we are. Why don't we talk first, because our primary goal is to deal with how we adapt this rule to tax liens, and I will also say this: This morning throw out everything that anybody has an issue with and we ought to talk about it as much as you want to. What we'll probably do after this, after we see what the different issues are and so forth, we'll probably get some subcommittees that will work between these meetings to come up with some proposed drafts. As Larry said, we did that to Tommy, and he did the work, and we came in and said, "Tommy did a pretty good job, that's good." So maybe that will happen again. That will be fine with me if we do that. But we'll probably do that, so y'all will probably be hearing after this sometime that you might be	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	and how they work right now, you know, the floor is open and don't hold back, because we need it. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Okay. Well, not one to hold back, can I get my first little shot? MR. BAGGETT: You bet. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: There appears to be a dispute between attorneys that represent the lenders and some no, and most, but not all, judges as to whether or not the papers that are filed with the Court that establish the existence of the debt and the lien must show that the movant, that is the current holder and owner of the note, is the party entitled to foreclose. In other words, whether you have to attach the assignment documents. If I get an application that shows a note paid to the ABC Lending Company and it's the XYZ Bank Company that is seeking to foreclose, some judges say that the motion should be denied, the application should be denied, because the unless the assignment from ABC to XYZ is contained in the file. Other judges maintain that as long as it is pled under oath that the applicant is the holder and owner of the note, that the purpose and effect of the statute
3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	and we all haven't been voted into office, so our task, we need to bear in mind, we are not kings and queens, we're just folks trying to figure out how to make this work and do it in an efficient, easy way as opposed to rewriting the Constitution. We don't need to do that, I don't think. So I'm not sure that little talk helped you very much, but that's where we are. Why don't we talk first, because our primary goal is to deal with how we adapt this rule to tax liens, and I will also say this: This morning throw out everything that anybody has an issue with and we ought to talk about it as much as you want to. What we'll probably do after this, after we see what the different issues are and so forth, we'll probably get some subcommittees that will work between these meetings to come up with some proposed drafts. As Larry said, we did that to Tommy, and he did the work, and we came in and said, "Tommy did a pretty good job, that's good." So maybe that will happen again. That will be fine with me if we do that. But we'll probably do that, so y'all will	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	and how they work right now, you know, the floor is open and don't hold back, because we need it. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Okay. Well, not one to hold back, can I get my first little shot? MR. BAGGETT: You bet. HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: There appears to be a dispute between attorneys that represent the lenders and some no, and most, but not all, judges as to whether or not the papers that are filed with the Court that establish the existence of the debt and the lien must show that the movant, that is the current holder and owner of the note, is the party entitled to foreclose. In other words, whether you have to attach the assignment documents. If I get an application that shows a note paid to the ABC Lending Company and it's the XYZ Bank Company that is seeking to foreclose, some judges say that the motion should be denied, the application should be denied, because the unless the assignment from ABC to XYZ is contained in the file. Other judges maintain that as long as it is pled under oath that the applicant is the holder and owner

(512) 751-2618 D'Lois L. Jones, CSR

	Page 18		Page 20
1	because that's an issue we have around the state with	1	those, and he doesn't want to hear all that kind of stuff,
2	different judges, and I think we ought to do it. Let me	2	and I do understand that. I think we probably ought to
3	tell you what I think about it generally, then I want to	3	talk about the practicalities of it some; and I think
4	go to Tommy who does it more. But I need to tell you,	4	Tommy probably knows that more and a lot of you do, so I
+ 5	too, we do commercial litigation when it's probably big	5	••••••
6	issues and big problems. We do not do volume foreclosures	6	particularly want to hear from the court personnel about
7	and so forth, so to the extent that people deal with it on	7	that; but I think originally when we did those two rules
8	a daily basis, that's not me, so you need to know that, so	8	the application was to be verified with respect to debt and ownership of it and default; and that was what was
	I'm giving you a disclaimer before I start.	9
9 10	But I think what the issue is that I've	10	supposed to be verified; and if there was an issue with 11		11	that in any way then you would file a regular lawsuit and
11	heard some is who's the owner and holder and how do you	12	get into it, and you get into all these issues because now
13	establish that and you have to establish that in order to	13	obviously you have pooling of all these mortgages, you've
13	proceed with the process. This is not this is just	14	got entranches, you've got it sold with different levels
	some general comments. When you have a debt you have	1	of assets and collectability; and the one commonality of 15 16	several sources of repayment, and I'm going beyond the	15	the marketplace is you have a, quote, mortgage servicer, rules here. This is more of my foreclosure general stuff	16	which was added to the statute; and that's the party to 17	than it is the rules. You could have a source of	17	whom the payments are being made.
18	repayment for from the maker of the note, or it could	18	And the old concept of owner and holder sort
19	be nonrecourse. You could have a source or a payment from	19	of works in the sense that if you went into Frost Bank and
20	real property collateral, you could have a source or	20	you got a mortgage and you paid it back to Frost Bank,
21	payment from personal property collateral, you could have	21	then you know who the owner and holder is. Now, what
22	guarantors.	22	happens now is you have this is not necessarily in just
23	So owner and holder of the note, the lien	23	a single family. It's in the commercial, it's in all of 24 25	goes with the debt, no question about that, but does not	24 25	it. All these loans are generated. They're put into a
20	necessarily mean who had what's the primary source of	25	pool that satisfies these tax issues and trust issues, and
	Page 19		D 01
			Page 21
1	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the	1	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors,
1 2	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the UCC provisions that have to do with enforcing a note.	2	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors, and they're rated by the rating agency, and you've got
	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the UCC provisions that have to do with enforcing a note. They don't necessarily deal with real estate foreclosures,	2 3	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors, and they're rated by the rating agency, and you've got triple A and double A and A and all this stuff.
2	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the UCC provisions that have to do with enforcing a note. They don't necessarily deal with real estate foreclosures, personal property foreclosures. There are other sources	2 3 4	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors, and they're rated by the rating agency, and you've got triple A and double A and A and all this stuff. So what happens is these loans get into a
2 3	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the UCC provisions that have to do with enforcing a note. They don't necessarily deal with real estate foreclosures, personal property foreclosures. There are other sources of repayment on an obligation. So there is a I think	2 3	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors, and they're rated by the rating agency, and you've got triple A and double A and A and all this stuff. So what happens is these loans get into a pool, which now the market's having trouble with subprime
2 3 4 5 6	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the UCC provisions that have to do with enforcing a note. They don't necessarily deal with real estate foreclosures, personal property foreclosures. There are other sources of repayment on an obligation. So there is a I think that's an issue in Florida and some other places, so we've	2 3 4 5 6	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors, and they're rated by the rating agency, and you've got triple A and double A and A and all this stuff. So what happens is these loans get into a pool, which now the market's having trouble with subprime pool, so I don't know what's going to happen to all that,
2 3 4 5	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the UCC provisions that have to do with enforcing a note. They don't necessarily deal with real estate foreclosures, personal property foreclosures. There are other sources of repayment on an obligation. So there is a I think that's an issue in Florida and some other places, so we've got to pay attention to the how this affects the	2 3 4 5	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors, and they're rated by the rating agency, and you've got triple A and double A and A and all this stuff. So what happens is these loans get into a pool, which now the market's having trouble with subprime
2 3 4 5 6	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the UCC provisions that have to do with enforcing a note. They don't necessarily deal with real estate foreclosures, personal property foreclosures. There are other sources of repayment on an obligation. So there is a I think that's an issue in Florida and some other places, so we've	2 3 4 5 6 7 8	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors, and they're rated by the rating agency, and you've got triple A and double A and A and all this stuff. So what happens is these loans get into a pool, which now the market's having trouble with subprime pool, so I don't know what's going to happen to all that, but when they get into a pool they are in a group of a lot of assets in that pool that go into a trust and then
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the UCC provisions that have to do with enforcing a note. They don't necessarily deal with real estate foreclosures, personal property foreclosures. There are other sources of repayment on an obligation. So there is a I think that's an issue in Florida and some other places, so we've got to pay attention to the how this affects the overall body of foreclosure law, but we've got to also be realistic.	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors, and they're rated by the rating agency, and you've got triple A and double A and A and all this stuff. So what happens is these loans get into a pool, which now the market's having trouble with subprime pool, so I don't know what's going to happen to all that, but when they get into a pool they are in a group of a lot of assets in that pool that go into a trust and then layers of that are sold out to investors. So the only
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the UCC provisions that have to do with enforcing a note. They don't necessarily deal with real estate foreclosures, personal property foreclosures. There are other sources of repayment on an obligation. So there is a I think that's an issue in Florida and some other places, so we've got to pay attention to the how this affects the overall body of foreclosure law, but we've got to also be realistic. The original, I think, intent of those rules	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors, and they're rated by the rating agency, and you've got triple A and double A and A and all this stuff. So what happens is these loans get into a pool, which now the market's having trouble with subprime pool, so I don't know what's going to happen to all that, but when they get into a pool they are in a group of a lot of assets in that pool that go into a trust and then layers of that are sold out to investors. So the only common denominator of that which would be even close to an
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the UCC provisions that have to do with enforcing a note. They don't necessarily deal with real estate foreclosures, personal property foreclosures. There are other sources of repayment on an obligation. So there is a I think that's an issue in Florida and some other places, so we've got to pay attention to the how this affects the overall body of foreclosure law, but we've got to also be realistic. The original, I think, intent of those rules was that you file an application, you have to swear to	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors, and they're rated by the rating agency, and you've got triple A and double A and A and all this stuff. So what happens is these loans get into a pool, which now the market's having trouble with subprime pool, so I don't know what's going to happen to all that, but when they get into a pool they are in a group of a lot of assets in that pool that go into a trust and then layers of that are sold out to investors. So the only common denominator of that which would be even close to an owner and holder is the mortgage servicer, because the
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the UCC provisions that have to do with enforcing a note. They don't necessarily deal with real estate foreclosures, personal property foreclosures. There are other sources of repayment on an obligation. So there is a I think that's an issue in Florida and some other places, so we've got to pay attention to the how this affects the overall body of foreclosure law, but we've got to also be realistic. The original, I think, intent of those rules was that you file an application, you have to swear to that there is a debt and that it's in default. Nothing	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors, and they're rated by the rating agency, and you've got triple A and double A and A and all this stuff. So what happens is these loans get into a pool, which now the market's having trouble with subprime pool, so I don't know what's going to happen to all that, but when they get into a pool they are in a group of a lot of assets in that pool that go into a trust and then layers of that are sold out to investors. So the only common denominator of that which would be even close to an owner and holder is the mortgage servicer, because the mortgage servicer is the one that knows where all this
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the UCC provisions that have to do with enforcing a note. They don't necessarily deal with real estate foreclosures, personal property foreclosures. There are other sources of repayment on an obligation. So there is a I think that's an issue in Florida and some other places, so we've got to pay attention to the how this affects the overall body of foreclosure law, but we've got to also be realistic. The original, I think, intent of those rules was that you file an application, you have to swear to that there is a debt and that it's in default. Nothing else is required to be certified, and it's really there	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors, and they're rated by the rating agency, and you've got triple A and double A and A and all this stuff. So what happens is these loans get into a pool, which now the market's having trouble with subprime pool, so I don't know what's going to happen to all that, but when they get into a pool they are in a group of a lot of assets in that pool that go into a trust and then layers of that are sold out to investors. So the only common denominator of that which would be even close to an owner and holder is the mortgage servicer, because the mortgage servicer is the one that knows where all this goes. They know where the waterfall payments go, they
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the UCC provisions that have to do with enforcing a note. They don't necessarily deal with real estate foreclosures, personal property foreclosures. There are other sources of repayment on an obligation. So there is a I think that's an issue in Florida and some other places, so we've got to pay attention to the how this affects the overall body of foreclosure law, but we've got to also be realistic. The original, I think, intent of those rules was that you file an application, you have to swear to that there is a debt and that it's in default. Nothing else is required to be certified, and it's really there for a situation where you have an uncontested issues to a	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors, and they're rated by the rating agency, and you've got triple A and double A and A and all this stuff. So what happens is these loans get into a pool, which now the market's having trouble with subprime pool, so I don't know what's going to happen to all that, but when they get into a pool they are in a group of a lot of assets in that pool that go into a trust and then layers of that are sold out to investors. So the only common denominator of that which would be even close to an owner and holder is the mortgage servicer, because the mortgage servicer is the one that knows where all this goes. They know where the waterfall payments go, they know where the defaults are, and none of these investors
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the UCC provisions that have to do with enforcing a note. They don't necessarily deal with real estate foreclosures, personal property foreclosures. There are other sources of repayment on an obligation. So there is a I think that's an issue in Florida and some other places, so we've got to pay attention to the how this affects the overall body of foreclosure law, but we've got to also be realistic. The original, I think, intent of those rules was that you file an application, you have to swear to that there is a debt and that it's in default. Nothing else is required to be certified, and it's really there for a situation where you have an uncontested issues to a great extent. If there's ever an issue about who's the	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors, and they're rated by the rating agency, and you've got triple A and double A and A and all this stuff. So what happens is these loans get into a pool, which now the market's having trouble with subprime pool, so I don't know what's going to happen to all that, but when they get into a pool they are in a group of a lot of assets in that pool that go into a trust and then layers of that are sold out to investors. So the only common denominator of that which would be even close to an owner and holder is the mortgage servicer, because the mortgage servicer is the one that knows where all this goes. They know where the waterfall payments go, they know where the defaults are, and none of these investors ever anticipated they're going to do anything with it,
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the UCC provisions that have to do with enforcing a note. They don't necessarily deal with real estate foreclosures, personal property foreclosures. There are other sources of repayment on an obligation. So there is a I think that's an issue in Florida and some other places, so we've got to pay attention to the how this affects the overall body of foreclosure law, but we've got to also be realistic. The original, I think, intent of those rules was that you file an application, you have to swear to that there is a debt and that it's in default. Nothing else is required to be certified, and it's really there for a situation where you have an uncontested issues to a great extent. If there's ever an issue about who's the owner and holder or anything like that, a lawsuit, I think	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors, and they're rated by the rating agency, and you've got triple A and double A and A and all this stuff. So what happens is these loans get into a pool, which now the market's having trouble with subprime pool, so I don't know what's going to happen to all that, but when they get into a pool they are in a group of a lot of assets in that pool that go into a trust and then layers of that are sold out to investors. So the only common denominator of that which would be even close to an owner and holder is the mortgage servicer, because the mortgage servicer is the one that knows where all this goes. They know where the waterfall payments go, they know where the defaults are, and none of these investors ever anticipated they're going to do anything with it, because the services are going to do it, and MERS has all
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the UCC provisions that have to do with enforcing a note. They don't necessarily deal with real estate foreclosures, personal property foreclosures. There are other sources of repayment on an obligation. So there is a I think that's an issue in Florida and some other places, so we've got to pay attention to the how this affects the overall body of foreclosure law, but we've got to also be realistic. The original, I think, intent of those rules was that you file an application, you have to swear to that there is a debt and that it's in default. Nothing else is required to be certified, and it's really there for a situation where you have an uncontested issues to a great extent. If there's ever an issue about who's the owner and holder or anything like that, a lawsuit, I think we contemplated, could be filed in district court, notice	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors, and they're rated by the rating agency, and you've got triple A and double A and A and all this stuff. So what happens is these loans get into a pool, which now the market's having trouble with subprime pool, so I don't know what's going to happen to all that, but when they get into a pool they are in a group of a lot of assets in that pool that go into a trust and then layers of that are sold out to investors. So the only common denominator of that which would be even close to an owner and holder is the mortgage servicer, because the mortgage servicer is the one that knows where all this goes. They know where the waterfall payments go, they know where the defaults are, and none of these investors ever anticipated they're going to do anything with it, because the services are going to do it, and MERS has all this recording and all that in D.C. about where all these
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the UCC provisions that have to do with enforcing a note. They don't necessarily deal with real estate foreclosures, personal property foreclosures. There are other sources of repayment on an obligation. So there is a I think that's an issue in Florida and some other places, so we've got to pay attention to the how this affects the overall body of foreclosure law, but we've got to also be realistic. The original, I think, intent of those rules was that you file an application, you have to swear to that there is a debt and that it's in default. Nothing else is required to be certified, and it's really there for a situation where you have an uncontested issues to a great extent. If there's ever an issue about who's the owner and holder or anything like that, a lawsuit, I think we contemplated, could be filed in district court, notice of that filed in the application, and the application	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors, and they're rated by the rating agency, and you've got triple A and double A and A and all this stuff. So what happens is these loans get into a pool, which now the market's having trouble with subprime pool, so I don't know what's going to happen to all that, but when they get into a pool they are in a group of a lot of assets in that pool that go into a trust and then layers of that are sold out to investors. So the only common denominator of that which would be even close to an owner and holder is the mortgage servicer, because the mortgage servicer is the one that knows where all this goes. They know where the waterfall payments go, they know where the defaults are, and none of these investors ever anticipated they're going to do anything with it, because the services are going to do it, and MERS has all this recording and all that in D.C. about where all these tranches are, and so when you get into owner and holder
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the UCC provisions that have to do with enforcing a note. They don't necessarily deal with real estate foreclosures, personal property foreclosures. There are other sources of repayment on an obligation. So there is a I think that's an issue in Florida and some other places, so we've got to pay attention to the how this affects the overall body of foreclosure law, but we've got to also be realistic. The original, I think, intent of those rules was that you file an application, you have to swear to that there is a debt and that it's in default. Nothing else is required to be certified, and it's really there for a situation where you have an uncontested issues to a great extent. If there's ever an issue about who's the owner and holder or anything like that, a lawsuit, I think we contemplated, could be filed in district court, notice of that filed in the application, and the application dismissed. This is not necessarily supposed to be a	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors, and they're rated by the rating agency, and you've got triple A and double A and A and all this stuff. So what happens is these loans get into a pool, which now the market's having trouble with subprime pool, so I don't know what's going to happen to all that, but when they get into a pool they are in a group of a lot of assets in that pool that go into a trust and then layers of that are sold out to investors. So the only common denominator of that which would be even close to an owner and holder is the mortgage servicer, because the mortgage servicer is the one that knows where all this goes. They know where the waterfall payments go, they know where the defaults are, and none of these investors ever anticipated they're going to do anything with it, because the services are going to do it, and MERS has all this recording and all that in D.C. about where all these tranches are, and so when you get into owner and holder from our old traditional concept of it, the way the
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the UCC provisions that have to do with enforcing a note. They don't necessarily deal with real estate foreclosures, personal property foreclosures. There are other sources of repayment on an obligation. So there is a I think that's an issue in Florida and some other places, so we've got to pay attention to the how this affects the overall body of foreclosure law, but we've got to also be realistic. The original, I think, intent of those rules was that you file an application, you have to swear to that there is a debt and that it's in default. Nothing else is required to be certified, and it's really there for a situation where you have an uncontested issues to a great extent. If there's ever an issue about who's the owner and holder or anything like that, a lawsuit, I think we contemplated, could be filed in district court, notice of that filed in the application, and the application dismissed. This is not necessarily supposed to be a mini-trial in any way. It's supposed to be dealing with	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors, and they're rated by the rating agency, and you've got triple A and double A and A and all this stuff. So what happens is these loans get into a pool, which now the market's having trouble with subprime pool, so I don't know what's going to happen to all that, but when they get into a pool they are in a group of a lot of assets in that pool that go into a trust and then layers of that are sold out to investors. So the only common denominator of that which would be even close to an owner and holder is the mortgage servicer, because the mortgage servicer is the one that knows where all this goes. They know where the waterfall payments go, they know where the defaults are, and none of these investors ever anticipated they're going to do anything with it, because the services are going to do it, and MERS has all this recording and all that in D.C. about where all these tranches are, and so when you get into owner and holder from our old traditional concept of it, the way the market's working on pooling these mortgages, it really
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the UCC provisions that have to do with enforcing a note. They don't necessarily deal with real estate foreclosures, personal property foreclosures. There are other sources of repayment on an obligation. So there is a I think that's an issue in Florida and some other places, so we've got to pay attention to the how this affects the overall body of foreclosure law, but we've got to also be realistic. The original, I think, intent of those rules was that you file an application, you have to swear to that there is a debt and that it's in default. Nothing else is required to be certified, and it's really there for a situation where you have an uncontested issues to a great extent. If there's ever an issue about who's the owner and holder or anything like that, a lawsuit, I think we contemplated, could be filed in district court, notice of that filed in the application, and the application dismissed. This is not necessarily supposed to be a mini-trial in any way. It's supposed to be dealing with situations that are uncontested, because if there is a	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors, and they're rated by the rating agency, and you've got triple A and double A and A and all this stuff. So what happens is these loans get into a pool, which now the market's having trouble with subprime pool, so I don't know what's going to happen to all that, but when they get into a pool they are in a group of a lot of assets in that pool that go into a trust and then layers of that are sold out to investors. So the only common denominator of that which would be even close to an owner and holder is the mortgage servicer, because the mortgage servicer is the one that knows where all this goes. They know where the waterfall payments go, they know where the defaults are, and none of these investors ever anticipated they're going to do anything with it, because the services are going to do it, and MERS has all this recording and all that in D.C. about where all these tranches are, and so when you get into owner and holder from our old traditional concept of it, the way the market's working on pooling these mortgages, it really doesn't apply, and that's why this is a huge issue about
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the UCC provisions that have to do with enforcing a note. They don't necessarily deal with real estate foreclosures, personal property foreclosures. There are other sources of repayment on an obligation. So there is a I think that's an issue in Florida and some other places, so we've got to pay attention to the how this affects the overall body of foreclosure law, but we've got to also be realistic. The original, I think, intent of those rules was that you file an application, you have to swear to that there is a debt and that it's in default. Nothing else is required to be certified, and it's really there for a situation where you have an uncontested issues to a great extent. If there's ever an issue about who's the owner and holder or anything like that, a lawsuit, I think we contemplated, could be filed in district court, notice of that filed in the application, and the application dismissed. This is not necessarily supposed to be a mini-trial in any way. It's supposed to be dealing with situations that are uncontested, because if there is a problem with it, file a regular lawsuit, do full	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors, and they're rated by the rating agency, and you've got triple A and double A and A and all this stuff. So what happens is these loans get into a pool, which now the market's having trouble with subprime pool, so I don't know what's going to happen to all that, but when they get into a pool they are in a group of a lot of assets in that pool that go into a trust and then layers of that are sold out to investors. So the only common denominator of that which would be even close to an owner and holder is the mortgage servicer, because the mortgage servicer is the one that knows where all this goes. They know where the waterfall payments go, they know where the defaults are, and none of these investors ever anticipated they're going to do anything with it, because the services are going to do it, and MERS has all this recording and all that in D.C. about where all these tranches are, and so when you get into owner and holder from our old traditional concept of it, the way the market's working on pooling these mortgages, it really doesn't apply, and that's why this is a huge issue about how you deal with it. That's why I think the statute was
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the UCC provisions that have to do with enforcing a note. They don't necessarily deal with real estate foreclosures, personal property foreclosures. There are other sources of repayment on an obligation. So there is a I think that's an issue in Florida and some other places, so we've got to pay attention to the how this affects the overall body of foreclosure law, but we've got to also be realistic. The original, I think, intent of those rules was that you file an application, you have to swear to that there is a debt and that it's in default. Nothing else is required to be certified, and it's really there for a situation where you have an uncontested issues to a great extent. If there's ever an issue about who's the owner and holder or anything like that, a lawsuit, I think we contemplated, could be filed in district court, notice of that filed in the application, and the application dismissed. This is not necessarily supposed to be a mini-trial in any way. It's supposed to be dealing with situations that are uncontested, because if there is a problem with it, file a regular lawsuit, do full discovery, and do whatever you want to with it.	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors, and they're rated by the rating agency, and you've got triple A and double A and A and all this stuff. So what happens is these loans get into a pool, which now the market's having trouble with subprime pool, so I don't know what's going to happen to all that, but when they get into a pool they are in a group of a lot of assets in that pool that go into a trust and then layers of that are sold out to investors. So the only common denominator of that which would be even close to an owner and holder is the mortgage servicer, because the mortgage servicer is the one that knows where all this goes. They know where the waterfall payments go, they know where the defaults are, and none of these investors ever anticipated they're going to do anything with it, because the services are going to do it, and MERS has all this recording and all that in D.C. about where all these tranches are, and so when you get into owner and holder from our old traditional concept of it, the way the market's working on pooling these mortgages, it really doesn't apply, and that's why this is a huge issue about how you deal with it. That's why I think the statute was changed two sessions ago, so you now have the mortgage
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	repayment. So, basically, owner and holder deals with the UCC provisions that have to do with enforcing a note. They don't necessarily deal with real estate foreclosures, personal property foreclosures. There are other sources of repayment on an obligation. So there is a I think that's an issue in Florida and some other places, so we've got to pay attention to the how this affects the overall body of foreclosure law, but we've got to also be realistic. The original, I think, intent of those rules was that you file an application, you have to swear to that there is a debt and that it's in default. Nothing else is required to be certified, and it's really there for a situation where you have an uncontested issues to a great extent. If there's ever an issue about who's the owner and holder or anything like that, a lawsuit, I think we contemplated, could be filed in district court, notice of that filed in the application, and the application dismissed. This is not necessarily supposed to be a mini-trial in any way. It's supposed to be dealing with situations that are uncontested, because if there is a problem with it, file a regular lawsuit, do full	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	then layers of that pool are sold to different investors, and they're rated by the rating agency, and you've got triple A and double A and A and all this stuff. So what happens is these loans get into a pool, which now the market's having trouble with subprime pool, so I don't know what's going to happen to all that, but when they get into a pool they are in a group of a lot of assets in that pool that go into a trust and then layers of that are sold out to investors. So the only common denominator of that which would be even close to an owner and holder is the mortgage servicer, because the mortgage servicer is the one that knows where all this goes. They know where the waterfall payments go, they know where the defaults are, and none of these investors ever anticipated they're going to do anything with it, because the services are going to do it, and MERS has all this recording and all that in D.C. about where all these tranches are, and so when you get into owner and holder from our old traditional concept of it, the way the market's working on pooling these mortgages, it really doesn't apply, and that's why this is a huge issue about how you deal with it. That's why I think the statute was

6 (Pages 18 to 21)

	Page 22		Page 24
1	the entity to who the payments are made.	1	up with a one piece a single piece of paper that the,
2	HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: That is who is	2	you know, ABC Mortgage Company does hereby assign the
3	making the application to foreclose.	3	rights to collect and foreclose on any lien to the XYZ
4	MR. BAGGETT: That's right, and that's the	4	Bank, and that the XYZ Bank that is seeking the relief and
5	closest thing you're going to have to who the owner and	5	that is what we require, but there are the rule is
6	holder of the debt is.	6	silent as to whether this is required, but generally
7	HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Okay. So need the	7	MR. BAGGETT: That's true.
8	application filed with the court have a copy of the	8	HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: it takes one
9	assignment or whatever the agreement is that authorizes	9	piece of paper.
10	that entity to do that?	10	MR. BASTIAN: There might be an easy
11	MR. BAGGETT: Well	11	solution to all of this because just about every
12	HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Or can a naked	12	foreclosure referral that comes from a mortgage servicer
13	stranger to the original transaction come in and seek	13	always says "The investor is," and the investor is the 14	foreclosure of the lien without proof that they have	14	person that that servicer ultimately is going to be
15	standing to do so?	15	sending the principal and interest to. So it would be a
16	MR. BAGGETT: Right. And that's a good	16	very simple thing to just say "The investor is," blank,
17	question. Manny, you want to	17	"the mortgage servicer is," blank, because that's who the 18	MR. NEWBURGER: I'm just curious, if I could	18	borrower is making their payments to, so you kind of have
19	ask a question, isn't lack of standing an affirmative	19	the fail-safe that the borrower knows, well, this is who
20	defense that's waived if it's not pled, and if the rules	20	I've been making the payments to. Plus if it's a
21	simply have Rules 93 and 94 applicable to this proceeding,	21	Federally insured mortgage, that borrower has to know, and
22	doesn't that answer the question?	22	I think it's included in your materials the definitions of
23	MR. BAGGETT: Did you hear that, Judge?	23	servicer and what the servicer does.
24	HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: I did.	24	So if you had that "the investor is," and
25	HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: Let me say, I'm not	25	that kind of takes care of it's kind of a fail-safe in
	Page 23		Page 25
1	sure, when you say standing, standing generally goes to	1	itself in that five years from now somebody comes in and
2	jurisdiction and goes to whether something is void or not,	2	says, "Okay, I paid or I think I paid that and somebody
3	so when you say standing you need to be a little more	3	else is suing me," you go back and say, "Well, who was the
4	discriminating.	4	investor," and then you have the mortgage servicer who is
5	MR. BAGGETT: Judge, let me butt in. What	5	the money maid, and that's real simple for people to
6	we're the rules are very important. I don't have any	6	provide because that's what your lender's going to be
7	question about that, but the problem here, let's think	7	sending to you when you do a foreclosure and initiate the
8	about who would be the owner and holder in a situation	8	foreclosure, and it basically just has transparency and it
9	where it's a mortgage that's one of 5,000 mortgages in a	9	has full disclosure on the parties and the roles that they 10
	pool and that pool has been put together where you have	10	play. The big thing that's kind of the fly in the 11	pool and that pool has been put together where you have triple A investors, double A investors, B, double B	10 11	play. The big thing that's kind of the fly in the ointment of all of this is MERS because MERS is going to 11 12
	triple A investors, double A investors, B, double B	11	ointment of all of this is MERS because MERS is going to
12	triple A investors, double A investors, B, double B investors, and the only commonality of dealing with that	11 12	ointment of all of this is MERS because MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record, and that kind of changes
12 13 14 15	triple A investors, double A investors, B, double B investors, and the only commonality of dealing with that pool of debt is the mortgage servicer to whom the payments	11 12 13	ointment of all of this is MERS because MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record, and that kind of changes things.
12 13 14	triple A investors, double A investors, B, double B investors, and the only commonality of dealing with that pool of debt is the mortgage servicer to whom the payments are made, and the rule, 92 well, I mean, our regular rule was amended to put that in there for that reason. Now, this doesn't necessarily become a big	11 12 13 14	ointment of all of this is MERS because MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record, and that kind of changes things. MR. BAGGETT: Explain to people what MERS
12 13 14 15 16 17	triple A investors, double A investors, B, double B investors, and the only commonality of dealing with that pool of debt is the mortgage servicer to whom the payments are made, and the rule, 92 well, I mean, our regular rule was amended to put that in there for that reason. Now, this doesn't necessarily become a big issue if you just have a traditional situation where	11 12 13 14 15	ointment of all of this is MERS because MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record, and that kind of changes things. MR. BAGGETT: Explain to people what MERS is. MR. BASTIAN: Well, MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record. In about 60 percent of all loans
12 13 14 15 16 17 18	triple A investors, double A investors, B, double B investors, and the only commonality of dealing with that pool of debt is the mortgage servicer to whom the payments are made, and the rule, 92 well, I mean, our regular rule was amended to put that in there for that reason. Now, this doesn't necessarily become a big issue if you just have a traditional situation where you've got the party who originated the loan as the holder	11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	ointment of all of this is MERS because MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record, and that kind of changes things. MR. BAGGETT: Explain to people what MERS is. MR. BASTIAN: Well, MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record. In about 60 percent of all loans MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record, but all MERS
12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19	triple A investors, double A investors, B, double B investors, and the only commonality of dealing with that pool of debt is the mortgage servicer to whom the payments are made, and the rule, 92 well, I mean, our regular rule was amended to put that in there for that reason. Now, this doesn't necessarily become a big issue if you just have a traditional situation where you've got the party who originated the loan as the holder of the debt. That's not too difficult, but when you	11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19	ointment of all of this is MERS because MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record, and that kind of changes things. MR. BAGGETT: Explain to people what MERS is. MR. BASTIAN: Well, MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record. In about 60 percent of all loans
12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	triple A investors, double A investors, B, double B investors, and the only commonality of dealing with that pool of debt is the mortgage servicer to whom the payments are made, and the rule, 92 well, I mean, our regular rule was amended to put that in there for that reason. Now, this doesn't necessarily become a big issue if you just have a traditional situation where you've got the party who originated the loan as the holder of the debt. That's not too difficult, but when you get I don't know how you get proof of all that. I	11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	ointment of all of this is MERS because MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record, and that kind of changes things. MR. BAGGETT: Explain to people what MERS is. MR. BASTIAN: Well, MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record. In about 60 percent of all loans MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record, but all MERS is is a registration system. That's all it is. It really is a piggyback on what happened in the securities market
12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	triple A investors, double A investors, B, double B investors, and the only commonality of dealing with that pool of debt is the mortgage servicer to whom the payments are made, and the rule, 92 well, I mean, our regular rule was amended to put that in there for that reason. Now, this doesn't necessarily become a big issue if you just have a traditional situation where you've got the party who originated the loan as the holder of the debt. That's not too difficult, but when you get I don't know how you get proof of all that. I mean, you would have to go through all those layers of	11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	ointment of all of this is MERS because MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record, and that kind of changes things. MR. BAGGETT: Explain to people what MERS is. MR. BASTIAN: Well, MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record. In about 60 percent of all loans MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record, but all MERS is is a registration system. That's all it is. It really is a piggyback on what happened in the securities market back in the early Seventies when Wall Street was
12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	triple A investors, double A investors, B, double B investors, and the only commonality of dealing with that pool of debt is the mortgage servicer to whom the payments are made, and the rule, 92 well, I mean, our regular rule was amended to put that in there for that reason. Now, this doesn't necessarily become a big issue if you just have a traditional situation where you've got the party who originated the loan as the holder of the debt. That's not too difficult, but when you get I don't know how you get proof of all that. I mean, you would have to go through all those layers of here's the trust, here's the parties who have the	11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	ointment of all of this is MERS because MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record, and that kind of changes things. MR. BAGGETT: Explain to people what MERS is. MR. BASTIAN: Well, MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record. In about 60 percent of all loans MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record, but all MERS is is a registration system. That's all it is. It really is a piggyback on what happened in the securities market back in the early Seventies when Wall Street was exploding, and back in those days whenever you bought and
12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	triple A investors, double A investors, B, double B investors, and the only commonality of dealing with that pool of debt is the mortgage servicer to whom the payments are made, and the rule, 92 well, I mean, our regular rule was amended to put that in there for that reason. Now, this doesn't necessarily become a big issue if you just have a traditional situation where you've got the party who originated the loan as the holder of the debt. That's not too difficult, but when you get I don't know how you get proof of all that. I mean, you would have to go through all those layers of here's the trust, here's the parties who have the different layers, here's the mortgage servicer.	11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	ointment of all of this is MERS because MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record, and that kind of changes things. MR. BAGGETT: Explain to people what MERS is. MR. BASTIAN: Well, MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record. In about 60 percent of all loans MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record, but all MERS is is a registration system. That's all it is. It really is a piggyback on what happened in the securities market back in the early Seventies when Wall Street was exploding, and back in those days whenever you bought and sold stocks or bonds you had to have a paper certificate.
12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	triple A investors, double A investors, B, double B investors, and the only commonality of dealing with that pool of debt is the mortgage servicer to whom the payments are made, and the rule, 92 well, I mean, our regular rule was amended to put that in there for that reason. Now, this doesn't necessarily become a big issue if you just have a traditional situation where you've got the party who originated the loan as the holder of the debt. That's not too difficult, but when you get I don't know how you get proof of all that. I mean, you would have to go through all those layers of here's the trust, here's the parties who have the	11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	ointment of all of this is MERS because MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record, and that kind of changes things. MR. BAGGETT: Explain to people what MERS is. MR. BASTIAN: Well, MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record. In about 60 percent of all loans MERS is going to be the mortgagee of record, but all MERS is is a registration system. That's all it is. It really is a piggyback on what happened in the securities market back in the early Seventies when Wall Street was exploding, and back in those days whenever you bought and

7 (Pages 22 to 25)

	Page 26		Page 28
1	system that everybody is familiar with today where loans	1	courts in Dallas require some sort of assignment of the
2	are bought and sold, and that's basically what MERS is.	2	note to the applicant so the applicant is actually the
3	It's just a listing of who has all the beneficial	3	person or the entity that has the rights under the
4	ownership interest in a mortgage, and that's going to be	4	MR. BAGGETT: Judge Davidson, can you hear
5	the investor, it's going to be the mortgage servicer, it's	5	that?
6	going to be the subservicers. It gives you four or five,	6	HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Most of it.
7	six pieces of corroborating information about the borrower	7	MR. BAGGETT: Speak up.
8	and that particular loan. I mean, it has the detail on	8	HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: And what the 9	their status sheet that says, "This is when the loan was	9	happens is they just execute a document like Mr. Barrett
10	made, here is the borrower, and here's the amount of the	10	says doesn't exist. They just create one for the most
11	loan." I mean, all that information is right there so	11	part sometimes, and the servicer signs it themselves
12	that if the loan is registered on MERS it's real easy to	12	saying that it's been transferred to whatever entity they
13	determine all the different parties in the transaction,	13	name as the applicant. I think we can avoid a lot of
14	and that's the way the world's going, so maybe that's kind	14	problems if we specifically allow the servicer standing
15	of the place we need to be going.	15	under Rule 736, because I think it's we don't
16	MR. BAGGETT: But MERS is in D.C. and it's	16	specifically allow the servicer to proceed, and I think if
17	national and	17	we tie in with the Property Code provision that the 18	MR. BASTIAN: Yeah. It is the book entry	18	servicer can proceed with foreclosure if certain
19	that's referenced in 51.001 as the book the book entry	19	circumstances are met, if we tie into that in the rule I
20	system. That's what MERS is.	20	think we'll avoid a lot of these problems.
21	HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Well, all I'm	21	MR. BAGGETT: Yeah, I think you might be
22	saying is I don't I see reasons for the rule to be one	22	right because whatever vehicles we have, you do have a
23	way or the other, but I think the rule should be clearer	23	servicer if there's multiple parties, and that is the most
24	as to whether capacity, standing, ability, power, call it	24	logical entity to go forward. We just need if we're
25	what you will, has to be affirmatively proven within the	25	going to do that, we need to figure out how we do it
	Page 27		Page 29
1	four corners of the papers filed with the court or whether	1	cleanly so that everybody understands it.
2	the verified application without any paperwork being	2	Manny, did you have a comment you want to
3	attached is enough to require a judge to sign the request	3	make? Larry, you want to talk?
4	for relief.	4	MR. TEMPLE: Mike suggested I do that and
5	MR. BAGGETT: Right. That's fair.	5	then he did it so well there's nothing for me to add.
б	MR. BARRETT: Judge, I think that's a very	6	That really tells you what the servicers do, and I just
7	good point. This is Mike Barrett, and I know we've had	7	wonder if you added into Rule 736 in what has to be pled
8	this difficulty. There really isn't such a document, and	8	just a statement that the person, the movant, is either
9	maybe, Larry, you might explain mortgage servicing rights	9	the owner or is the servicer with the power from the owner
10	because the servicer usually acquired their position in	10	to 11	the file through the purchase of MSRs. There is an	11	MR. BAGGETT: Yeah.
12	organized market in MSRs that really makes up maybe as	12	MR. TEMPLE: therefore proceed.
13 14	much as 40 to 50 percent of any mortgage company's assets, and they acquired this their status of being a servicer	13 14	MR. BAGGETT: And swear to that as part of 1 1 4		- 4	the application process. Judge, would that do it?
	• •	15	HONODADIE DDUCE DDUDDV. Darhana
15	through the purchase of an MSR most of the time, or they	15	HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: Perhaps.
15 16	through the purchase of an MSR most of the time, or they did it themselves, they created their own loan. So	16	MR. BAGGETT: Okay.
15 16 17	through the purchase of an MSR most of the time, or they did it themselves, they created their own loan. So finding a document that says, "I am the owner and holder,	16 17	MR. BAGGETT: Okay. HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: One of the other
15 16 17 18	through the purchase of an MSR most of the time, or they did it themselves, they created their own loan. So finding a document that says, "I am the owner and holder, and I hereby grant to the servicer the right to foreclose	16 17 18	MR. BAGGETT: Okay. HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: One of the other concerns I have is that most of the applications, the rule
15 16 17 18 19	through the purchase of an MSR most of the time, or they did it themselves, they created their own loan. So finding a document that says, "I am the owner and holder, and I hereby grant to the servicer the right to foreclose in my name" is an impossibility in 90 percent of the	16 17 18 19	MR. BAGGETT: Okay. HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: One of the other concerns I have is that most of the applications, the rule says it can be on information it can be on personal
15 16 17 18 19 20	through the purchase of an MSR most of the time, or they did it themselves, they created their own loan. So finding a document that says, "I am the owner and holder, and I hereby grant to the servicer the right to foreclose in my name" is an impossibility in 90 percent of the cases. So we're going to have to deal with that	16 17 18 19 20	MR. BAGGETT: Okay. HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: One of the other concerns I have is that most of the applications, the rule says it can be on information it can be on personal knowledge or information and belief, if they state the
15 16 17 18 19 20 21	through the purchase of an MSR most of the time, or they did it themselves, they created their own loan. So finding a document that says, "I am the owner and holder, and I hereby grant to the servicer the right to foreclose in my name" is an impossibility in 90 percent of the cases. So we're going to have to deal with that particular issue, and an understanding of who the servicer	16 17 18 19 20 21	MR. BAGGETT: Okay. HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: One of the other concerns I have is that most of the applications, the rule says it can be on information it can be on personal knowledge or information and belief, if they state the basis for information and belief. Nearly all of the
15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	through the purchase of an MSR most of the time, or they did it themselves, they created their own loan. So finding a document that says, "I am the owner and holder, and I hereby grant to the servicer the right to foreclose in my name" is an impossibility in 90 percent of the cases. So we're going to have to deal with that particular issue, and an understanding of who the servicer is and what an MSR is may be important to the transaction.	16 17 18 19 20 21 22	MR. BAGGETT: Okay. HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: One of the other concerns I have is that most of the applications, the rule says it can be on information it can be on personal knowledge or information and belief, if they state the basis for information and belief. Nearly all of the applications I see are on personal knowledge, and you can
15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	through the purchase of an MSR most of the time, or they did it themselves, they created their own loan. So finding a document that says, "I am the owner and holder, and I hereby grant to the servicer the right to foreclose in my name" is an impossibility in 90 percent of the cases. So we're going to have to deal with that particular issue, and an understanding of who the servicer is and what an MSR is may be important to the transaction. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Judge.	16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	MR. BAGGETT: Okay. HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: One of the other concerns I have is that most of the applications, the rule says it can be on information it can be on personal knowledge or information and belief, if they state the basis for information and belief. Nearly all of the applications I see are on personal knowledge, and you can tell that there's no way that one person can have personal
15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	through the purchase of an MSR most of the time, or they did it themselves, they created their own loan. So finding a document that says, "I am the owner and holder, and I hereby grant to the servicer the right to foreclose in my name" is an impossibility in 90 percent of the cases. So we're going to have to deal with that particular issue, and an understanding of who the servicer is and what an MSR is may be important to the transaction.	16 17 18 19 20 21 22	MR. BAGGETT: Okay. HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: One of the other concerns I have is that most of the applications, the rule says it can be on information it can be on personal knowledge or information and belief, if they state the basis for information and belief. Nearly all of the applications I see are on personal knowledge, and you can

	Page 30		Page 32
1	MR. BARRETT: Exactly.	1	mortgage servicer.
2	HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: It's just to me,	2	MR. BASTIAN: And the definitions to 51.002
3	I think we need to massage it a little bit and not	3	were done after Rule 735 and 736 were drafted, and that's
4	encourage folks who do this, because it really kind of	4	one of the things that we asked the Supreme Court to look
5	devalues the idea of personal knowledge in my court	5	to, is to marry those two ideas and make 735 and 736 now a
6	because of what they're saying they have personal	6	master definition in the foreclosure statute.
7	knowledge to they can't possibly have personal knowledge	7	MR. BAGGETT: Yeah, that's right.
8	to.	8	MR. BASTIAN: And what we're talking about
9	MR. BAGGETT: That's probably right.	9	would probably be taken care of. I mean, it needs to be
10	HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: And so I would like	10	more specific, but
11	to have some tweaks of that.	11	MR. BAGGETT: Yeah, because the mortgage
12	MR. BAGGETT: And we shouldn't write the	12	servicer definition that y'all dealt with is in the
13	rule in a way that they can't possibly comply with it.	13	probate I mean, in the real property law, not in the 14	That's not very smart.	14	rules. So we clearly need to make the rules reflect
15	HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: Right. But they	15	what's in the foreclosure law, and maybe that's a way to
16	can do it if they do it on information and belief and just	16	do it. What do you say, chief?
17	say that it's based on their records, but no one does	17	MR. BASTIAN: No, I agree. Because that's
18	that. They just say they have personal knowledge, and you	18	who the borrower is making their payments to, that's who
19	can't have personal knowledge that a loan occurred in	19	they assume is the mortgage servicer. I mean, I've
20	1978.	20	tried a bunch or had a bunch of these hearings before
21	MR. BARRETT: That is exactly right. Some	21	judges, and they think the person that they're making
22	of these companies are servicing six million mortgages.	22	their own home loan payment to is the owner and holder of
23	The records with those mortgages are spread out in cities	23	the note. It's always the mortgage servicer. I mean,
24	across America. The clerk who is preparing the document	24	they don't even know that, so and that's kind of the 25	the judge refers to is usually an employee for less than a	25	fail-safe because that's who the borrower expects to be
	Page 31		Page 33
1	year or two, and there's no way they know, so you're	1	enforcing this note, not some, you know, Bank of New York
2	absolutely right, Judge.	2	as trustee for series XYZ home equity loan
3	MR. BAGGETT: Yeah, but we also we've	3	MR. BAGGETT: Pool No. 216.
4	also got to write it in a way that they take enough time	4	MR. BASTIAN: That just creates problems.
5	and effort to make sure that it really is the right	5	MR. REDDING: Well, the other problem
6	servicer doing it. I don't want to go so far on the other	6	Judge, this is Tim Redding. The other problem that I see
7	side that they just say "slap it on them" once they get in	7	and, Tommy, you and I talk about it regularly that
8	the door, and that's all you've got to do. They ought to	8	we have a bunch of servicers that are corporations or
9	take it's a foreclosure. They ought to take time to	9	trusts attempting to foreclose on behalf of other trusts
10	make sure it's the servicer that's doing it. Whatever	10	using a power of attorney, and I don't think that's really
11	that means. Okay. Other comments?	11	proper. I mean, we all kind of turn a blind eye to it,
12	MR. REDDINGS: Mike?	12	but I think that's an issue that's out there that somebody
13	MR. BAGGETT: Yeah.	13	could use to potentially attack a foreclosure.
14	MR. REDDING: Mike, I was just looking at	14	MR. NEWBURGER: That's what basically
15	736. You know, there is no definition of "applicant" in	15	happened in Florida where MERS has been held as being 16	it.	16	unauthorized practice of law by a few judges when they
17	MR. BAGGETT: Well, I don't remember what it	17	filed foreclosures.
18	says.	18	MR. BAGGETT: Speak up. Speak up, Manny, so
19	MR. BASTIAN: That's exactly right.	19	the judge can hear you.
20	MR. BAGGETT: Yeah, that's true. Maybe we	20	MR. NEWBURGER: That's what's happened in 21	just define "applicant," and the applicant really would be	21	Florida where some judges have decided that MERS' attempt
22 23	the mortgage servicer.	22 23	to conduct a foreclosure as the applicant was an
23 24	MR. BASTIAN: Yeah.	1	unauthorizerd practice of law. Now, they've got some 24 25	MR. REDDING: Or the mortgagee. MR. BAGGETT: Or owner and holder or	24 25	really good arguments for why they think that's wrong, but that's been a major battleground over in that state.
	MIN. DAUGETT: OF OWHER and HOLDER OF	140	mat's been a major battleground over in that state.

	Page 34		Page 36
1	MR. BAGGETT: But all MERS is a recording	1	MR. BARRETT: Yes.
2	vehicle, right?	2	MR. BAGGETT: It was started by Fannie Mae
3	MR. NEWBURGER: Well, but they've been	3	or Freddie Mac.
4	filing foreclosures in the name of MERS. I don't think	4	MR. REDDING: Consortium.
5	anyone is doing it anymore since judges decided that that	5	MR. BASTIAN: Well, yeah, there's 270 I
6	constituted an unauthorized practice of law, but	6	mean, 2,700 members. It's Fannie Mae/Freddie Mac, VA,
7	MR. BASTIAN: Well, part of that in Florida,	7	HUD, Texas Mortgage Bankers, American Land Title, I mean,
8	their foreclosure statute says only the owner and holder	8	all the people that are involved in the mortgage banking
9	of the note can bring the foreclosure, and MERS wasn't the	9	industry, has three classes of stock, and it's basically a
10	owner and holder of the note, and yet everybody was	10	utility for the mortgage banking industry simply to track
11	pleading them as the owner and holder of note. All they	11	all the beneficial interests in loans that are registered
12	were was the mortgagee of record in the land title	12	on the system.
13	records, and it got everybody confused, and like anything	13	HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: But it's an entity
14	new, it just created problems.	14	that is owned by stock, stockholders?
15	MR. BARRETT: Well, MERS was at great	15	MR. BASTIAN: Yes. It's a stockholding
16	greatly at fault for creating all of those impressions.	16	entity just like the Depository Trust Corp. for Wall
17	They may be supposed to be merely a registrant, but they	17	Street.
18	haven't acted as a registrant. They have acted as a	18	MR. BAGGETT: Owned by investors primarily.
19	for-profit business, and they have gone out and tried to	19	MR. BASTIAN: Yeah, the investors, the
20	get into the default servicing business. At one point in	20	mortgage the people that are involved in the mortgage
20	time they considered themselves a huge competitor for	21	banking industry. It has about 80 employees. That's it.
22	doing foreclosure business, and they actually went out and	22	All of its work is done through the mortgage servicers.
23	marketed their services to bring foreclosures.	23	MR. BAGGETT: There's going to be a chapter
23	MR. BAGGETT: They've quit doing all that,	24	in the foreclosure book added by him on MERS, what MERS
24 25	right?	25	is.
23	Page 35	2.5	Page 37
1	MR. BARRETT: Well, I don't know whether	1	MR. BASTIAN: I'm sure that will solve all
2	they have or not.	2	of the world's problems.
3	MR. BAGGETT: Okay.	3	MS. NEELEY: Mike?
4	MR. BARGETT: Ukay. MR. BARRETT: It's a big company. You might	4	MR. BAGGETT: Yeah.
5	ask one and they say "We quit," and you ask three others,	5	MS. NEELEY: Just sort of an observation,
6	they say, "Oh, no, we still like your business." They're	6	here's what I'm hearing, that in order to resolve these
7	competitors, Mike.	7	issues a couple of things need to happen, define
8	MR. BAGGETT: All right. Other comments on	8	"applicant" to include mortgage servicer, regularize the
9	this, because this is the issue I hear about mostly from	9	rules with the Property Code, which have been carefully
10	judges, which is a fair issue?	10	thought out to deal with this issue that's developed over
11	HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: Could I ask a	11	time, and also clarify in the rules what we mean by a
12	question?	12	verified application so that it's clearer that it can be
13	1	13	on information and belief. That's actually in another
1.5	MIK, BAGGELL: Yean.		su mornarion and conor. That's actuary in another
	MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: Is this a private	14	part
14	HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: Is this a private	14 15	part. MS. HOBBS: Yeah, it's pretty clear.
14 15	HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: Is this a private corporation, corporate entity?	15	MS. HOBBS: Yeah, it's pretty clear.
14 15 16	HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: Is this a private corporation, corporate entity? MR. BAGGETT: Tell him the history of it.	15 16	MS. HOBBS: Yeah, it's pretty clear. MS. NEELEY: But it's not as clear as it
14 15 16 17	HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: Is this a private corporation, corporate entity? MR. BAGGETT: Tell him the history of it. MR. BASTIAN: Well, basically it is a	15 16 17	MS. HOBBS: Yeah, it's pretty clear. MS. NEELEY: But it's not as clear as it could be in the first part, so we don't get people just,
14 15 16 17 18	HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: Is this a private corporation, corporate entity? MR. BAGGETT: Tell him the history of it. MR. BASTIAN: Well, basically it is a utility of the mortgage banking industry to register	15 16 17 18	MS. HOBBS: Yeah, it's pretty clear. MS. NEELEY: But it's not as clear as it could be in the first part, so we don't get people just, you know, lying in the affidavits, but they actually have
14 15 16 17 18 19	HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: Is this a private corporation, corporate entity? MR. BAGGETT: Tell him the history of it. MR. BASTIAN: Well, basically it is a utility of the mortgage banking industry to register loans, so that they can debunk so it's just like the	15 16 17 18 19	MS. HOBBS: Yeah, it's pretty clear. MS. NEELEY: But it's not as clear as it could be in the first part, so we don't get people just, you know, lying in the affidavits, but they actually have a basis for the verified affidavit.
14 15 16 17 18 19 20	HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: Is this a private corporation, corporate entity? MR. BAGGETT: Tell him the history of it. MR. BASTIAN: Well, basically it is a utility of the mortgage banking industry to register loans, so that they can debunk so it's just like the Depository Trust Corporation for stocks and bonds. When	15 16 17 18	MS. HOBBS: Yeah, it's pretty clear. MS. NEELEY: But it's not as clear as it could be in the first part, so we don't get people just, you know, lying in the affidavits, but they actually have a basis for the verified affidavit. MR. BAGGETT: I think you're right.
14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: Is this a private corporation, corporate entity? MR. BAGGETT: Tell him the history of it. MR. BASTIAN: Well, basically it is a utility of the mortgage banking industry to register loans, so that they can debunk so it's just like the Depository Trust Corporation for stocks and bonds. When you buy and sell stock, that's where it's registered so	15 16 17 18 19 20 21	MS. HOBBS: Yeah, it's pretty clear. MS. NEELEY: But it's not as clear as it could be in the first part, so we don't get people just, you know, lying in the affidavits, but they actually have a basis for the verified affidavit. MR. BAGGETT: I think you're right. MS. NEELEY: Does that make sense?
14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: Is this a private corporation, corporate entity? MR. BAGGETT: Tell him the history of it. MR. BASTIAN: Well, basically it is a utility of the mortgage banking industry to register loans, so that they can debunk so it's just like the Depository Trust Corporation for stocks and bonds. When you buy and sell stock, that's where it's registered so you can figure out who is the owner and holder of that	15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	MS. HOBBS: Yeah, it's pretty clear. MS. NEELEY: But it's not as clear as it could be in the first part, so we don't get people just, you know, lying in the affidavits, but they actually have a basis for the verified affidavit. MR. BAGGETT: I think you're right. MS. NEELEY: Does that make sense? MR. BAGGETT: We struggled with the issue of
14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: Is this a private corporation, corporate entity? MR. BAGGETT: Tell him the history of it. MR. BASTIAN: Well, basically it is a utility of the mortgage banking industry to register loans, so that they can debunk so it's just like the Depository Trust Corporation for stocks and bonds. When you buy and sell stock, that's where it's registered so you can figure out who is the owner and holder of that stock when you buy and sell it.	15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	MS. HOBBS: Yeah, it's pretty clear. MS. NEELEY: But it's not as clear as it could be in the first part, so we don't get people just, you know, lying in the affidavits, but they actually have a basis for the verified affidavit. MR. BAGGETT: I think you're right. MS. NEELEY: Does that make sense? MR. BAGGETT: We struggled with the issue of what needed to be sworn to in '97 and '99, and we really
14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: Is this a private corporation, corporate entity? MR. BAGGETT: Tell him the history of it. MR. BASTIAN: Well, basically it is a utility of the mortgage banking industry to register loans, so that they can debunk so it's just like the Depository Trust Corporation for stocks and bonds. When you buy and sell stock, that's where it's registered so you can figure out who is the owner and holder of that	15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	MS. HOBBS: Yeah, it's pretty clear. MS. NEELEY: But it's not as clear as it could be in the first part, so we don't get people just, you know, lying in the affidavits, but they actually have a basis for the verified affidavit. MR. BAGGETT: I think you're right. MS. NEELEY: Does that make sense? MR. BAGGETT: We struggled with the issue of

dee2jones@hwtx.com (512) 751-2618 D'Lois L. Jones, CSR

	Page 38		Page 40
1	issue. I think what you said is probably right, if we can	1	cause number and no court, so they don't know the judicial
2	figure out how to deal with those three things it probably	2	district; and the good firms file it and then send it out
3	would help significantly, and we didn't really all we	3	with a cause number in a court, but there are some firms
4	did you-all tell me when I mess this up. All we did	4	that aren't doing that. So the homeowner has and
5	was swear that there was a debt and it's in default. The	5	doesn't know the cause number in which to file a response
6	rest of it didn't need to be sworn to, and the concept	6	if he or she wishes to file a response.
7	was, is that has to be served and everybody knows about	7	MR. BAGGETT: Okay.
8	it, but when you get it, go to a lawyer, and a lawyer	8	MR. FUCHS: And, believe it or not, we've
9	says, "No, you're not there's something wrong with	9	had some problems with law firms then when you call them
10	that," they file the lawsuit and this just gets dismissed.	10	up and ask them to provide that information, which as a
11	MS. NEELEY: And I don't think people	11	courtesy you would do in any kind of litigation it seems
12	realized that these were going to get packaged as much as	12	to me, refuse to tell us over the telephone the number
13	they are.	13	that's been assigned to the pending application.
14	MR. BAGGETT: The secondary market has	14	There's the form here, which is implicit it
15	obviously increased, and it's going to keep increasing,	15	seems that you would state the cause number, but the way
16	and how do you deal with that because we did not attempt	16	the rule is written you simply have to certify as the
17	to deal with that in '97 and '99. We did not know it was	17	attorney filing the application that you served it by
18	a big issue, and so that's very appropriate to talk about	18	first class mail and certified mail and along with the
19	now, but I also want I want you guys who are on the	19	notice, but there's no requirement actually in the rule
20	consumer side to make sure that what we're doing is fair	20	that the cause number and the court actually be included
21	to the consumers, too.	21	in the correspondence to the consumer, and that's one of 22	MS. NEELEY: I was going to make an	22	the little things that I think need to be tweaked along
23	observation. Under RESPA you have to be a federally	23	with the other three issues that have been discussed here.
24	related lender, and some of these tax lien financiers are	24	MR. BASTIAN: That's a real simple one to
25	below the one million threshold, and so they are not	25	fix. I mean, that there's a lot of little tiny tweaks
	Page 39	-	Page 41
1	necessarily subject to RESPA, and under RESPA you've got	1	that need to be taken care of where it ends up being a
2	to give the disclosure of the transfer of servicing rights	2	loophole that I think can be taken care of.
3	that was added in by Henry B. Gonzalez a number of years	3	MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Anybody else got any
4	ago, but I don't recall, and I don't know if any of you	4	comments on this?
5	guys remember, a record retention requirement as to how	5	HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: On that last issue
6	long that servicing right disclosure is actually retained	6	that Mr. Fuchs brought up, there is one particular firm
7	by the lender such that that document would be available	7	that persists in doing this, and in my court those
8	to I don't think it's retained.	8	applications get denied, and I wrote a three-page opinion
9	MR. BASTIAN: It's five years.	9	which I sent off to the law firm telling them don't do it
10	MS. NEELEY: Yeah. So you don't have that	10	again. I likened the notice to a citation, and if the 11	necessarily when you're getting ready to foreclose to	11	citation is missing certain information like that then
12	establish that as one of the pieces of evidence. So the	12	that would be the case would be dismissed or there
13	verification process I think works and then the debtor is	13	would be no way to get a default judgment. I kind of 14	going to know, "I wasn't making payments to that servicer.	14	analogized to that, and I believe that fair notice
15	I'm going to contest this, because that's not really the	15	requires them to tell the to not send the notice out at 16	right party," I think.	16	the same time. What they do if they're in another city,
17	MR. BARRETT: Good point.	17	they send the Fed Ex the application to be filed at the 18	MS. NEELEY: Fred, does that make sense?	18	same time they send the notice out, and so actually the 19	MR. FUCHS: Well, I was actually thinking of	19	notice is sent out the day before.
20	one other issue that we've seen from the homeowners'	20	MR. BAGGETT: Right. They don't know what 21	perspective; and if you'll look at the rule, the it	21	it is.
22	doesn't identify or require actually that the notice or	22	HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: The day before, and
23	the application state the cause number in the court; and	23	I just don't think that's that that's allowed, that you
24	believe it or not, we see homeowners coming in who have	24	have to file it and then have the notice so you can give
25	received the application and the notice, and there is no	25	the borrower the notice of the court and the case number

1 so they know where to file the answer and what to put on 1 ten months and then they get this noti	Page 44
$\pm$ 39 meV know where to me up wer and what to but on $\pm$ 1 $\pm$ 1EII IIIOIIIIN AND THEN HEV SET IIIN 1001	ce. They may not
2 the answer, because if you don't have the case number the 2 even open it because it's from the law 3 answer is going to get lost. 3 think it's another dunning notice, and 4 MR. BAGGETT: Okay. I see you shaking your 4 and they may not even realize it's a co 5 head yes, and I agree. 5 something. If they can get notice from 6 MS. KELLUM: I agree with judge, and that's 6 notice from personal service or somet 7 I don't know if you would call it an issue, but it's 7 home that there's a court proceeding t
<ul> <li>8 certainly a concern in our court, the service process,</li> <li>8 lose their house, and I just think that i</li> </ul>	-
<ul> <li>9 period, because we have a lot of attorneys that we have to</li> <li>9 make sense to have some sort of more</li> </ul> 10 double-check and make sure that service was proper and 10 the notice solely from a law firm, and
1 everything, because it's we just are concerned with due 11 issue that I want to throw out there.	that's just one
12MR. BARRETT: We may h	ave gotten that one
13 HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: Yeah. And I have 13 wrong, Judge. What we were primari
14 two issues that I was going to wanted to bring up, and 14 old committees and in the past is the s	-
15 that was the one of them, and that's the outsourcing the 15 $50 is ten percent of the cost of the w
16 citation in the service of process to the applicant's law 16 that's a significant charge when you st	-
17 firm, and that's what they do, with a notice that is 17 use because all of these servicers ar
18 instead of the citation and then the service where they 18 day, they want you to go out and hire	0
19have to send it by regular mail and certified mail is19processor, and now you're talking abo
20stands in for the service of process. Now, the vast20bucks.	at a hundred to 150
21majority of the applications in our courts are default.21When you want to reinstate	and Texas is 22 Now, either that means the borrowers don't have any 22 the cheapest state in all the country to 23 objection and everything is fine, we can just go forward, 23 mortgages. We are thousands of dolla 24       or it means the borrower may not be getting notice       24       California, so if you lose your job, yo 25MR. BAGGETT: Right.25you need to go reinstate your mortgag
Page 43	Page 45
1 HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: or may not be 1 place on earth to do it, and we did it by	_
2 getting sufficient notice that they really understand 2 out of the process. Most states use sub 3 what's going on. I often set a final disposition hearing 3 providers, and in some states the fee for 4 on my applications unless the unless a default is I 4 the way to nearly 400 bucks, so it's a s 5 can clearly do a default. If they've proven everything 5 which is tacked on each and every case <ul> <li>6 they need to prove to get the default, I'll grant the</li> <li>6 be beneficial only to the few who for s</li> </ul>
7default, but otherwise I will just set a final disposition7justified reason for not getting the letter 8 hearing, and I send notice directly to the borrower, and 8 think not opening your letter is a justifi 9 this is a default situation where the borrower has not 9 then I'd be interested to know when the 10answered. About 30 percent of those the borrower shows10up, do they have meritorious defenses	-
11 up, and this is in a default situation, so I'm kind of 11 fact, made payments that nobody disco	-
12 concerned that the borrowers may not be getting notice. 12 appeared?	· · · · · · ·
13There is due process concerns, there is the13MR. BAGGETT: Yeah, but	I understand your 14 Jones vs. Flowers case out of the U.S. Supreme Court 14 issue. You want to make sure they get 15 involving the Arkansas tax debt that has some implication 15 way that they know that it's different, a	- 16 here about notice, and I think we need to think about I 16 cost of the process, I you know, the 17 would like to rethink whether going back to real service 17 going to have to deal with that issue. I	-
18of process. I think 60 bucks would be a small price to18money, the market is going to have to the second	- at we really
18 of process. I think 60 bucks would be a small price to 18 money, the market is going to have to	at we really
18of process. I think 60 bucks would be a small price to18money, the market is going to have to 1919pay in this to go ahead and get it would solve a lot of19deal with that issue if it's something th	-
18of process. I think 60 bucks would be a small price to18money, the market is going to have to 1919pay in this to go ahead and get it would solve a lot of19deal with that issue if it's something th20my concerns about due process and my concerns about20need.	huge imposition
18of process. I think 60 bucks would be a small price to18money, the market is going to have to the small price to19pay in this to go ahead and get it would solve a lot of18money, the market is going to have to the small price to20my concerns about due process and my concerns about19deal with that issue if it's something the small price.21whether the borrower is really getting notice.21MR. BARRETT: Well, it's and the small price to the small price.	huge imposition expenses either
18of process. I think 60 bucks would be a small price to18money, the market is going to have to the second	huge imposition e expenses either state

12 (Pages 42 to 45)

	Page 46		Page 48
1	MR. BARRETT: Paid when they reinstate or	1	that to you.
2	when they pay off or they're paid by investors, and of	2	HON. AMALIA RODRIGUEZ-MENDOZA: So then
3	course, most of the investors ultimately are insured and	3	we'll end up with two methods, the e-filing method and the
4	that means the taxpayers pay it. 60 percent of the loans	4	manual processing, which, I mean, it's workable. I'm not
5	are HUD loans, and all the loans that don't go back, are	5	saying it's not. I'm just trying to bring that
6	not reinstated, wind up being paid for by Federal funds	6	MR. BAGGETT: It's going to cause you an
7	out of HUD. That's plain tax money, so the market you're	7	expense.
8	describing is us, the voters, the taxpayers, the citizens.	8	HON. AMALIA RODRIGUEZ-MENDOZA: into it.
9	MR. BAGGETT: Ultimately we've got to pay	9	MR. REDDING: This is probably a ridiculous
10	for everything, but that doesn't mean we're not going to	10	idea, but I always look for the simplest solution.
11	do anything.	11	MR. BAGGETT: Yes.
12	MR. BASTIAN: Let me ask the clerks, if	12	MR. REDDING: Could you change up some of
13	you-all sent the notice, how big an imposition is that on	13	these rules such that when that final notice is sent to
14	you-all, to have the independent hand-off that Judge	14	them or the document is or the actual order or the
15	Priddy is talking about?	15	application for the order is sent to them, that you put it
16	HON. AMALIA RODRIGUEZ-MENDOZA: When we file	16	on the outside of the envelope?
17	the application or the and we have to make a copy of it	17	MR. NEWBURGER: Lawyers can't do that. The
18	because it's electronic, so that's an expense that will	18	Fair Debt Collection Practices Act forbids any notices on
19	be have to be charged on the number of copies that we	19	the outside of an envelope that are sent from a debt
20	have to do to file the to submit the citation. So it's	20	collector, which includes any of the law firms conducting
21	an added work to our employees, but, you know, I think	21	foreclosures, and the limit is the name of the addressee
22	we'll have to just deal with it.	22	and the return address of the sender and their name if it
23	MR. BASTIAN: Okay. That may be kind of a	23	doesn't reflect that they're in the debt collection
24	philosophical thing that we have to deal with. I mean	24	business. If firms like Mike start putting stuff on the
25	MR. BAGGETT: Yeah, Manny.	25	outside of envelopes, that's a guaranteed class action.
	Page 47		Page 49
1	MR. NEWBURGER: We've got options elsewhere	1	MR. REDDING: Good reason not to then.
2	in the rules that or in the statutes that let us have	2	MR. BASTIAN: Well, there's probably an
3	alternate ways of service. For example, on foreign	3	unintended consequence with this whole service thing
4	judgments you can let the clerk give notice or you can let	4	because, as most of you-all know, in the rules if nobody
5	a party give notice. What if you simply provide the	5	files a response you're entitled to an order, but we have б	option of either the clerk or service and mandate that if	6	a matrix of all the courts in the state, and almost ten
7	they're going to have the clerk do it, they've got to	7	percent of them require a hearing, and I think many times
8	deliver the extra copies to the clerk's office so the	8	they require a hearing even if it's a default simply
9	clerk's office doesn't have that burden, and I don't want	9	because they're worried about what Judge Priddy is, did
10	to step on Amalia here. It may be the solution is not to	10	somebody really have notice, and that court wants to be
11	allow e-filing. I don't know if e-filing is a bad thing	11	kind of the arbiter, a fail-safe, or whatever you want to 12	here, but if it's a good thing for you-all	12	call it that 13	HON. AMALIA RODRIGUEZ-MENDOZA: It's a good	13	MR. BAGGETT: They're also worried about the 14	thing.	14	applicant.
15	MR. NEWBURGER: they have to deliver the	15	MR. BASTIAN: Well, you know, all of those
16	copies, but certainly we've got a precedent for giving	16	kind of things and kind of gets back, and then really what
17	parties the option of service or a clerk doing a mailing.	17	happens is because of that and having the hearing and even
18	HON. AMALIA RODRIGUEZ-MENDOZA: I think the		judges the way they're looking at these things, is that is
19	way we've solved that is we actually make the copies and	19	the burden of proof to prove up one of these Rule 736s, is
20	then we charge the attorneys for the copies and then	20	it now the burden of proof for motion for summary judgment
0.1	MR. BASTIAN: What if the attorney had to	21	type proof or is it for a default proof? And those are 21
22	send to you the notice and then you just put it in your	22	two completely different things. If you had personal
22 23	send to you the notice and then you just put it in your envelope? I mean, because you already have the Pitney	23	service on somebody, I think every judge would just go on
22	send to you the notice and then you just put it in your

13 (Pages 46 to 49)

	Page 50		Page 52
1	requiring hearings that really aren't required in the	1	HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: With respect, no
2	rule, and then even if they don't have a hearing, they're	2	judge wants to have Marvin Zindler in their reception room
3	going to go through and look at the verification or your	3	when they get to the courthouse in the morning wanting to
4	evidence that you have and they're going to use the motion	4	know why you threw the Widow Jones out of the house. We
5	for summary judgment standard, which many times means that	5	had a judge who did that on a homeowners association deal
		6
6 7	you've got three or four months delay to go get all that stuff because the standard is so much different.	7	down here a couple of years ago, and the judge essentially was hounded off the bench, resigned.
8	So it has kind of an unintended consequence	8	HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: I had one judge,
9	when you have judges that are a little bit concerned about	9	one of my colleagues just we're civil judges. Harris
10	did the borrower really get notice and then they end up	10	County and Dallas I think are the only or I guess
11	vetting the files to make sure that, you know, everything	11	there's a few that are purely just civil. We just do
12	is kosher.	12	civil cases, no criminal cases at all, so we don't sign
13	HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Well, let's start	13	death warrants. We can't do a capital punishment case,
14	with the I hate to back it up, but I wasn't on the	14	and one judge confessed to me that this is the closest
15	committee at the time. What is the purpose of judicial	15	thing that he has to a death warrant, is that we're
16	review? If it is not to make sure that the that	16	signing an order allowing someone's house to be taken
17	everything is copacetic, then why are judges even involved	17	away, and
18	at all?	18	MR. BAGGETT: I'm not disagreeing that there
19	MR. BASTIAN: Well, because that's the	19	ought to be a process for that, but we've got to balance
20	Constitution required a court order.	20	between how much we put back on the courts to do all that
21	HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: But why did the	21	versus what we if it's going to be the uncontested, is
22	Constitution require the court order is the question?	22	it going to just clog up the docket so that half your
23	MR. BASTIAN: Well, but there's kind of an	23	cases are these issues.
24	answer back to that, and that was the way this the core	24	HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: Right. And that's
25	principle the way Rule 736 was set up, we had the	25	the next issue that I had, is there's ambiguity on the
	Page 51		Page 53
1	assumption that 50 percent of all the home equity	1	default situation, what Mr. Bastian was pointing out, and
2	applications that were going to be filed were going to be	2	I think we need to clarify that. In the rule (8)(a) says
3	uncontested, and that was we figured that would be
	uncontested, and that was we figured that would be	3
		3 4	that you have to prove the certain elements before you can
4	maybe a high number. In truth it's probably very, very		that you have to prove the certain elements before you can grant an order, but then sub (5) talks about default, "You
4 5	maybe a high number. In truth it's probably very, very I mean, it's very low. I mean, a whole lot less than that	4 5	that you have to prove the certain elements before you can grant an order, but then sub (5) talks about default, "You shall grant if there's no answer and the notice is on file
4 5 6	maybe a high number. In truth it's probably very, very I mean, it's very low. I mean, a whole lot less than that have ever been challenged, and this whole idea of the rule	4 5 6	that you have to prove the certain elements before you can grant an order, but then sub (5) talks about default, "You shall grant if there's no answer and the notice is on file for ten days" or something like that. The question there
4 5 6 7	maybe a high number. In truth it's probably very, very I mean, it's very low. I mean, a whole lot less than that have ever been challenged, and this whole idea of the rule was if nobody was going to contest that you basically have	4 5	that you have to prove the certain elements before you can grant an order, but then sub (5) talks about default, "You shall grant if there's no answer and the notice is on file for ten days" or something like that. The question there is do they still have to prove the elements in the
4 5 6 7 8	maybe a high number. In truth it's probably very, very I mean, it's very low. I mean, a whole lot less than that have ever been challenged, and this whole idea of the rule was if nobody was going to contest that you basically have a foreclosure like you do now, and it just goes through	4 5 6 7 8	that you have to prove the certain elements before you can grant an order, but then sub (5) talks about default, "You shall grant if there's no answer and the notice is on file for ten days" or something like that. The question there is do they still have to prove the elements in the application? Do they have to prove everything that's I
4 5 7 8 9	maybe a high number. In truth it's probably very, very I mean, it's very low. I mean, a whole lot less than that have ever been challenged, and this whole idea of the rule was if nobody was going to contest that you basically have a foreclosure like you do now, and it just goes through the process. That was the whole idea that Rule 736 was	4 5 6 7 8 9	that you have to prove the certain elements before you can grant an order, but then sub (5) talks about default, "You shall grant if there's no answer and the notice is on file for ten days" or something like that. The question there is do they still have to prove the elements in the application? Do they have to prove everything that's I believe it's the elements of (1)
4 5 7 8 9 10	maybe a high number. In truth it's probably very, very I mean, it's very low. I mean, a whole lot less than that have ever been challenged, and this whole idea of the rule was if nobody was going to contest that you basically have a foreclosure like you do now, and it just goes through the process. That was the whole idea that Rule 736 was set up, so that if somebody didn't contest that you didn't	4 5 7 8 9 10	that you have to prove the certain elements before you can grant an order, but then sub (5) talks about default, "You shall grant if there's no answer and the notice is on file for ten days" or something like that. The question there is do they still have to prove the elements in the application? Do they have to prove everything that's I believe it's the elements of (1) MS. DOGGETT: (e).
4 5 7 8 9 10 11	maybe a high number. In truth it's probably very, very I mean, it's very low. I mean, a whole lot less than that have ever been challenged, and this whole idea of the rule was if nobody was going to contest that you basically have a foreclosure like you do now, and it just goes through the process. That was the whole idea that Rule 736 was set up, so that if somebody didn't contest that you didn't clog up the courts. If they did contest, you had all of	4 5 7 8 9 10 11	that you have to prove the certain elements before you can grant an order, but then sub (5) talks about default, "You shall grant if there's no answer and the notice is on file for ten days" or something like that. The question there is do they still have to prove the elements in the application? Do they have to prove everything that's I believe it's the elements of (1) MS. DOGGETT: (e). HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: (e). Does that
4 5 7 8 9 10 11 12	maybe a high number. In truth it's probably very, very I mean, it's very low. I mean, a whole lot less than that have ever been challenged, and this whole idea of the rule was if nobody was going to contest that you basically have a foreclosure like you do now, and it just goes through the process. That was the whole idea that Rule 736 was set up, so that if somebody didn't contest that you didn't clog up the courts. If they did contest, you had all of these things in place so they could come in and say	4 5 7 8 9 10 11 12	that you have to prove the certain elements before you can grant an order, but then sub (5) talks about default, "You shall grant if there's no answer and the notice is on file for ten days" or something like that. The question there is do they still have to prove the elements in the application? Do they have to prove everything that's I believe it's the elements of (1) MS. DOGGETT: (e). HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: (e). Does that have to be proved in the application or does the fact that
4 5 7 8 9 10 11 12 13	maybe a high number. In truth it's probably very, very I mean, it's very low. I mean, a whole lot less than that have ever been challenged, and this whole idea of the rule was if nobody was going to contest that you basically have a foreclosure like you do now, and it just goes through the process. That was the whole idea that Rule 736 was set up, so that if somebody didn't contest that you didn't clog up the courts. If they did contest, you had all of these things in place so they could come in and say there's something wrong with this, the servicing, the	4 5 7 8 9 10 11 12 13	that you have to prove the certain elements before you can grant an order, but then sub (5) talks about default, "You shall grant if there's no answer and the notice is on file for ten days" or something like that. The question there is do they still have to prove the elements in the application? Do they have to prove everything that's I believe it's the elements of (1) MS. DOGGETT: (e). HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: (e). Does that have to be proved in the application or does the fact that they don't answer do you accept all allegations as
4 5 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14	maybe a high number. In truth it's probably very, very I mean, it's very low. I mean, a whole lot less than that have ever been challenged, and this whole idea of the rule was if nobody was going to contest that you basically have a foreclosure like you do now, and it just goes through the process. That was the whole idea that Rule 736 was set up, so that if somebody didn't contest that you didn't clog up the courts. If they did contest, you had all of these things in place so they could come in and say there's something wrong with this, the servicing, the loan, whatever it is.	4 5 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14	that you have to prove the certain elements before you can grant an order, but then sub (5) talks about default, "You shall grant if there's no answer and the notice is on file for ten days" or something like that. The question there is do they still have to prove the elements in the application? Do they have to prove everything that's I believe it's the elements of (1) MS. DOGGETT: (e). HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: (e). Does that have to be proved in the application or does the fact that they don't answer do you accept all allegations as true? I don't think you do that. The normal default
4 5 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	maybe a high number. In truth it's probably very, very I mean, it's very low. I mean, a whole lot less than that have ever been challenged, and this whole idea of the rule was if nobody was going to contest that you basically have a foreclosure like you do now, and it just goes through the process. That was the whole idea that Rule 736 was set up, so that if somebody didn't contest that you didn't clog up the courts. If they did contest, you had all of these things in place so they could come in and say there's something wrong with this, the servicing, the loan, whatever it is. MR. BAGGETT: Let me get mechanics of how	4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	that you have to prove the certain elements before you can grant an order, but then sub (5) talks about default, "You shall grant if there's no answer and the notice is on file for ten days" or something like that. The question there is do they still have to prove the elements in the application? Do they have to prove everything that's I believe it's the elements of (1) MS. DOGGETT: (e). HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: (e). Does that have to be proved in the application or does the fact that they don't answer do you accept all allegations as true? I don't think you do that. The normal default situation doesn't seem to apply because we have this
4 5 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	maybe a high number. In truth it's probably very, very I mean, it's very low. I mean, a whole lot less than that have ever been challenged, and this whole idea of the rule was if nobody was going to contest that you basically have a foreclosure like you do now, and it just goes through the process. That was the whole idea that Rule 736 was set up, so that if somebody didn't contest that you didn't clog up the courts. If they did contest, you had all of these things in place so they could come in and say there's something wrong with this, the servicing, the loan, whatever it is. MR. BAGGETT: Let me get mechanics of how we get an order are very important, and they've got to do	4 5 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	that you have to prove the certain elements before you can grant an order, but then sub (5) talks about default, "You shall grant if there's no answer and the notice is on file for ten days" or something like that. The question there is do they still have to prove the elements in the application? Do they have to prove everything that's I believe it's the elements of (1) MS. DOGGETT: (e). HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: (e). Does that have to be proved in the application or does the fact that they don't answer do you accept all allegations as true? I don't think you do that. The normal default situation doesn't seem to apply because we have this obligation to bring forward facts in the initial pleading,
4 5 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	maybe a high number. In truth it's probably very, very I mean, it's very low. I mean, a whole lot less than that have ever been challenged, and this whole idea of the rule was if nobody was going to contest that you basically have a foreclosure like you do now, and it just goes through the process. That was the whole idea that Rule 736 was set up, so that if somebody didn't contest that you didn't clog up the courts. If they did contest, you had all of these things in place so they could come in and say there's something wrong with this, the servicing, the loan, whatever it is. MR. BAGGETT: Let me get mechanics of how we get an order are very important, and they've got to do what we need to protect people, but don't forget what	4 5 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	that you have to prove the certain elements before you can grant an order, but then sub (5) talks about default, "You shall grant if there's no answer and the notice is on file for ten days" or something like that. The question there is do they still have to prove the elements in the application? Do they have to prove everything that's I believe it's the elements of (1) MS. DOGGETT: (e). HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: (e). Does that have to be proved in the application or does the fact that they don't answer do you accept all allegations as true? I don't think you do that. The normal default situation doesn't seem to apply because we have this obligation to bring forward facts in the initial pleading, in the application. So there is to me an ambiguity of
4 5 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	maybe a high number. In truth it's probably very, very I mean, it's very low. I mean, a whole lot less than that have ever been challenged, and this whole idea of the rule was if nobody was going to contest that you basically have a foreclosure like you do now, and it just goes through the process. That was the whole idea that Rule 736 was set up, so that if somebody didn't contest that you didn't clog up the courts. If they did contest, you had all of these things in place so they could come in and say there's something wrong with this, the servicing, the loan, whatever it is. MR. BAGGETT: Let me get mechanics of how we get an order are very important, and they've got to do what we need to protect people, but don't forget what we're doing here is all we're doing is getting an order	4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	that you have to prove the certain elements before you can grant an order, but then sub (5) talks about default, "You shall grant if there's no answer and the notice is on file for ten days" or something like that. The question there is do they still have to prove the elements in the application? Do they have to prove everything that's I believe it's the elements of (1) MS. DOGGETT: (e). HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: (e). Does that have to be proved in the application or does the fact that they don't answer do you accept all allegations as true? I don't think you do that. The normal default situation doesn't seem to apply because we have this obligation to bring forward facts in the initial pleading, in the application. So there is to me an ambiguity of whether before you grant a default you have to make sure
4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19	maybe a high number. In truth it's probably very, very I mean, it's very low. I mean, a whole lot less than that have ever been challenged, and this whole idea of the rule was if nobody was going to contest that you basically have a foreclosure like you do now, and it just goes through the process. That was the whole idea that Rule 736 was set up, so that if somebody didn't contest that you didn't clog up the courts. If they did contest, you had all of these things in place so they could come in and say there's something wrong with this, the servicing, the loan, whatever it is. MR. BAGGETT: Let me get mechanics of how we get an order are very important, and they've got to do what we need to protect people, but don't forget what we're doing here is all we're doing is getting an order saying you can foreclose. You've still got to go through	4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19	that you have to prove the certain elements before you can grant an order, but then sub (5) talks about default, "You shall grant if there's no answer and the notice is on file for ten days" or something like that. The question there is do they still have to prove the elements in the application? Do they have to prove everything that's I believe it's the elements of (1) MS. DOGGETT: (e). HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: (e). Does that have to be proved in the application or does the fact that they don't answer do you accept all allegations as true? I don't think you do that. The normal default situation doesn't seem to apply because we have this obligation to bring forward facts in the initial pleading, in the application. So there is to me an ambiguity of whether before you grant a default you have to make sure that the all the elements of (1)(e) are proven or not.
4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	maybe a high number. In truth it's probably very, very I mean, it's very low. I mean, a whole lot less than that have ever been challenged, and this whole idea of the rule was if nobody was going to contest that you basically have a foreclosure like you do now, and it just goes through the process. That was the whole idea that Rule 736 was set up, so that if somebody didn't contest that you didn't clog up the courts. If they did contest, you had all of these things in place so they could come in and say there's something wrong with this, the servicing, the loan, whatever it is. MR. BAGGETT: Let me get mechanics of how we get an order are very important, and they've got to do what we need to protect people, but don't forget what we're doing here is all we're doing is getting an order saying you can foreclose. You've still got to go through the whole process that you do anyway, so yeah, there is	4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	that you have to prove the certain elements before you can grant an order, but then sub (5) talks about default, "You shall grant if there's no answer and the notice is on file for ten days" or something like that. The question there is do they still have to prove the elements in the application? Do they have to prove everything that's I believe it's the elements of (1) MS. DOGGETT: (e). HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: (e). Does that have to be proved in the application or does the fact that they don't answer do you accept all allegations as true? I don't think you do that. The normal default situation doesn't seem to apply because we have this obligation to bring forward facts in the initial pleading, in the application. So there is to me an ambiguity of whether before you grant a default you have to make sure that the all the elements of (1)(e) are proven or not. (8)(a) seems to say that to me.
4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	maybe a high number. In truth it's probably very, very I mean, it's very low. I mean, a whole lot less than that have ever been challenged, and this whole idea of the rule was if nobody was going to contest that you basically have a foreclosure like you do now, and it just goes through the process. That was the whole idea that Rule 736 was set up, so that if somebody didn't contest that you didn't clog up the courts. If they did contest, you had all of these things in place so they could come in and say there's something wrong with this, the servicing, the loan, whatever it is. MR. BAGGETT: Let me get mechanics of how we get an order are very important, and they've got to do what we need to protect people, but don't forget what we're doing here is all we're doing is getting an order saying you can foreclose. You've still got to go through the whole process that you do anyway, so yeah, there is judicial participation because they've got to make sure	4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	that you have to prove the certain elements before you can grant an order, but then sub (5) talks about default, "You shall grant if there's no answer and the notice is on file for ten days" or something like that. The question there is do they still have to prove the elements in the application? Do they have to prove everything that's I believe it's the elements of (1) MS. DOGGETT: (e). HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: (e). Does that have to be proved in the application or does the fact that they don't answer do you accept all allegations as true? I don't think you do that. The normal default situation doesn't seem to apply because we have this obligation to bring forward facts in the initial pleading, in the application. So there is to me an ambiguity of whether before you grant a default you have to make sure that the all the elements of (1)(e) are proven or not. (8)(a) seems to say that to me. MS. DOGGETT: Why do you have to have a
4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	maybe a high number. In truth it's probably very, very I mean, it's very low. I mean, a whole lot less than that have ever been challenged, and this whole idea of the rule was if nobody was going to contest that you basically have a foreclosure like you do now, and it just goes through the process. That was the whole idea that Rule 736 was set up, so that if somebody didn't contest that you didn't clog up the courts. If they did contest, you had all of these things in place so they could come in and say there's something wrong with this, the servicing, the loan, whatever it is. MR. BAGGETT: Let me get mechanics of how we get an order are very important, and they've got to do what we need to protect people, but don't forget what we're doing here is all we're doing is getting an order saying you can foreclose. You've still got to go through the whole process that you do anyway, so yeah, there is judicial participation because they've got to make sure that what we say is done is done, but it does not	4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	that you have to prove the certain elements before you can grant an order, but then sub (5) talks about default, "You shall grant if there's no answer and the notice is on file for ten days" or something like that. The question there is do they still have to prove the elements in the application? Do they have to prove everything that's I believe it's the elements of (1) MS. DOGGETT: (e). HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: (e). Does that have to be proved in the application or does the fact that they don't answer do you accept all allegations as true? I don't think you do that. The normal default situation doesn't seem to apply because we have this obligation to bring forward facts in the initial pleading, in the application. So there is to me an ambiguity of whether before you grant a default you have to make sure that the all the elements of (1)(e) are proven or not. (8)(a) seems to say that to me. MS. DOGGETT: Why do you have to have a hearing to prove it?
4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	maybe a high number. In truth it's probably very, very I mean, it's very low. I mean, a whole lot less than that have ever been challenged, and this whole idea of the rule was if nobody was going to contest that you basically have a foreclosure like you do now, and it just goes through the process. That was the whole idea that Rule 736 was set up, so that if somebody didn't contest that you didn't clog up the courts. If they did contest, you had all of these things in place so they could come in and say there's something wrong with this, the servicing, the loan, whatever it is. MR. BAGGETT: Let me get mechanics of how we get an order are very important, and they've got to do what we need to protect people, but don't forget what we're doing here is all we're doing is getting an order saying you can foreclose. You've still got to go through the whole process that you do anyway, so yeah, there is judicial participation because they've got to make sure that what we say is done is done, but it does not immediately take away from all the normal foreclosure	4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	that you have to prove the certain elements before you can grant an order, but then sub (5) talks about default, "You shall grant if there's no answer and the notice is on file for ten days" or something like that. The question there is do they still have to prove the elements in the application? Do they have to prove everything that's I believe it's the elements of (1) MS. DOGGETT: (e). HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: (e). Does that have to be proved in the application or does the fact that they don't answer do you accept all allegations as true? I don't think you do that. The normal default situation doesn't seem to apply because we have this obligation to bring forward facts in the initial pleading, in the application. So there is to me an ambiguity of whether before you grant a default you have to make sure that the all the elements of (1)(e) are proven or not. (8)(a) seems to say that to me. MS. DOGGETT: Why do you have to have a hearing to prove it? HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: Oh, you don't have
4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	maybe a high number. In truth it's probably very, very I mean, it's very low. I mean, a whole lot less than that have ever been challenged, and this whole idea of the rule was if nobody was going to contest that you basically have a foreclosure like you do now, and it just goes through the process. That was the whole idea that Rule 736 was set up, so that if somebody didn't contest that you didn't clog up the courts. If they did contest, you had all of these things in place so they could come in and say there's something wrong with this, the servicing, the loan, whatever it is. MR. BAGGETT: Let me get mechanics of how we get an order are very important, and they've got to do what we need to protect people, but don't forget what we're doing here is all we're doing is getting an order saying you can foreclose. You've still got to go through the whole process that you do anyway, so yeah, there is judicial participation because they've got to make sure that what we say is done is done, but it does not	4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	that you have to prove the certain elements before you can grant an order, but then sub (5) talks about default, "You shall grant if there's no answer and the notice is on file for ten days" or something like that. The question there is do they still have to prove the elements in the application? Do they have to prove everything that's I believe it's the elements of (1) MS. DOGGETT: (e). HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: (e). Does that have to be proved in the application or does the fact that they don't answer do you accept all allegations as true? I don't think you do that. The normal default situation doesn't seem to apply because we have this obligation to bring forward facts in the initial pleading, in the application. So there is to me an ambiguity of whether before you grant a default you have to make sure that the all the elements of (1)(e) are proven or not. (8)(a) seems to say that to me. MS. DOGGETT: Why do you have to have a hearing to prove it?

dee2jones@hwtx.com

(512) 751-2618

14 (Pages 50 to 53)

	Page 54		Page 56
1	evidence as would be admissible at trial, is I believe the	1	objective was just to create this opportunity for the
2	standard in the rule, to see if they established evidence	2	debtor to come in and say, "Wait, wait, wait"
3	instead of just an allegation that these necessary	3	MR. BAGGETT: Yeah.
4	elements are established, and that's if we can clarify	4	MS. NEELEY: "irregularities," that's it.
5	that, if you want to say that if there is no answer we	5	And if they didn't have an irregularity then, you know,
6	assume all facts as true as in the normal situation, we	6	they had their opportunity, and that was it.
7	should make that explicit, and that will streamline a lot		MR. BAGGETT: I think you're right. We're
8	of a lot of things if we make that explicit.	8	trying to deal with the balance between these that there's
9	MR. BASTIAN: Yeah, the rule says "as will	9	no problem with and clogging up the courts with those.
10	be admissible in evidence" and then that's it. It doesn't	10	However, I agree with the judges that if there's something
11	really say that's the way it is, but you certainly have	11	that says you've got to do it, they ought to be able to be
12	this two different standards of proof, motion for summary	12
13	judgment proof or just plain default proof, and again,	13	comfortable that's what we've got to do. Now, what that's 14	that's that philosophical difference, and it may go back	14	probably going to mean is we're going to put more on the
	to either because you don't have personal service I	15	courts, send out notice or this, that, and the other, and 15			we didn't want to burden the courts, overburden the courts
16	mean, I don't know all the reasons why, but you'll see	16	with this process. That's the balance we're trying to get 17	those variations in lots of these courts.	17	to.
18	HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Well, a lot of	18	MS. NEELEY: Well, I think the real balance
19	a number of my colleagues say, "We didn't ask for this	19	is 20	job, but if we have it, then, you know, there must be a	20	MR. BAGGETT: Judges and the coordinators
21	purpose behind us being required to be the gatekeepers to	21	and the clerks. You have to send out extra notices.
22	make sure all procedures have been followed," and there	22	MR. TEMPLE: Mike, I agree with Karen. I
23	are other judges that take the position, "These people	23	think the original concept of the court order that she
24	borrowed the money, they didn't make their loan payments,	24	said was somewhere in between the standard and nonjudicial
25	end of the road."	25	foreclosure that we have on 99 percent of the cases and
	Page 55		Page 57
1	The rules should be as explicit and clear as	1	the provisions that are available for judicial
2	possible as to what has to be there in order for one of	2	foreclosure, and while the law doesn't quite say this, the
3	these to be granted and exactly what the procedure should		forectosure, and while the law doesn't quite say this, the these to be granted and exactly what the procedure should	3	concept was that if the application is filed and there's
4	be, and the current rule is in my view no as clear as it	3 4
4 5			concept was that if the application is filed and there's be, and the current rule is in my view no as clear as it	4	concept was that if the application is filed and there's no response to it, what the court is effectively doing is
5	be, and the current rule is in my view no as clear as it should be one way or the other.	4 5	concept was that if the application is filed and there's no response to it, what the court is effectively doing is saying "We have not been provided with any reason why the
5 6	be, and the current rule is in my view no as clear as it should be one way or the other. MS. NEELEY: Okay, for what it's worth	4 5 6	concept was that if the application is filed and there's no response to it, what the court is effectively doing is saying "We have not been provided with any reason why the lender ought not to be able to proceed with the standard
5 6 7	be, and the current rule is in my view no as clear as it should be one way or the other. MS. NEELEY: Okay, for what it's worth and Larry and Kelly can kick in if I'm getting it wrong,	4 5 6 7	concept was that if the application is filed and there's no response to it, what the court is effectively doing is saying "We have not been provided with any reason why the lender ought not to be able to proceed with the standard nonjudicial foreclosure." That's all that is. It's not
5 6 7 8	be, and the current rule is in my view no as clear as it should be one way or the other. MS. NEELEY: Okay, for what it's worth and Larry and Kelly can kick in if I'm getting it wrong, but I believe if you go back to the legislative history	4 5 6 7 8	concept was that if the application is filed and there's no response to it, what the court is effectively doing is saying "We have not been provided with any reason why the lender ought not to be able to proceed with the standard nonjudicial foreclosure." That's all that is. It's not really giving the court the responsibility of saying, yes,
5 6 7 8 9	be, and the current rule is in my view no as clear as it should be one way or the other. MS. NEELEY: Okay, for what it's worth and Larry and Kelly can kick in if I'm getting it wrong, but I believe if you go back to the legislative history there was a colloquy on the floor between Mr. Woolins and	4 5 7 8 9	concept was that if the application is filed and there's no response to it, what the court is effectively doing is saying "We have not been provided with any reason why the lender ought not to be able to proceed with the standard nonjudicial foreclosure." That's all that is. It's not really giving the court the responsibility of saying, yes, we think Widow Jones ought to be kicked out of her house.
5 6 7 8 9 10	be, and the current rule is in my view no as clear as it should be one way or the other. MS. NEELEY: Okay, for what it's worth and Larry and Kelly can kick in if I'm getting it wrong, but I believe if you go back to the legislative history there was a colloquy on the floor between Mr. Woolins and Harriet Earhart about the legislative intent of this	4 5 7 8 9 10	concept was that if the application is filed and there's no response to it, what the court is effectively doing is saying "We have not been provided with any reason why the lender ought not to be able to proceed with the standard nonjudicial foreclosure." That's all that is. It's not really giving the court the responsibility of saying, yes, we think Widow Jones ought to be kicked out of her house. It's more the negative of we see no reason why, have been
5 6 7 8 9 10 11	be, and the current rule is in my view no as clear as it should be one way or the other. MS. NEELEY: Okay, for what it's worth and Larry and Kelly can kick in if I'm getting it wrong, but I believe if you go back to the legislative history there was a colloquy on the floor between Mr. Woolins and Harriet Earhart about the legislative intent of this particular section in the Constitution, and the concept	4 5 7 8 9 10 11	concept was that if the application is filed and there's no response to it, what the court is effectively doing is saying "We have not been provided with any reason why the lender ought not to be able to proceed with the standard nonjudicial foreclosure." That's all that is. It's not really giving the court the responsibility of saying, yes, we think Widow Jones ought to be kicked out of her house. It's more the negative of we see no reason why, have been provided no reason why, they ought not to be able to
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12	be, and the current rule is in my view no as clear as it should be one way or the other. MS. NEELEY: Okay, for what it's worth and Larry and Kelly can kick in if I'm getting it wrong, but I believe if you go back to the legislative history there was a colloquy on the floor between Mr. Woolins and Harriet Earhart about the legislative intent of this particular section in the Constitution, and the concept here, there's a tension between normal foreclosure,	4 5 7 8 9 10 11 12	concept was that if the application is filed and there's no response to it, what the court is effectively doing is saying "We have not been provided with any reason why the lender ought not to be able to proceed with the standard nonjudicial foreclosure." That's all that is. It's not really giving the court the responsibility of saying, yes, we think Widow Jones ought to be kicked out of her house. It's more the negative of we see no reason why, have been provided no reason why, they ought not to be able to proceed with a standard form of the foreclosure.
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13	be, and the current rule is in my view no as clear as it should be one way or the other. MS. NEELEY: Okay, for what it's worth and Larry and Kelly can kick in if I'm getting it wrong, but I believe if you go back to the legislative history there was a colloquy on the floor between Mr. Woolins and Harriet Earhart about the legislative intent of this particular section in the Constitution, and the concept here, there's a tension between normal foreclosure, posting at the courthouse door, no judicial action at all,	4 5 7 8 9 10 11 12 13	concept was that if the application is filed and there's no response to it, what the court is effectively doing is saying "We have not been provided with any reason why the lender ought not to be able to proceed with the standard nonjudicial foreclosure." That's all that is. It's not really giving the court the responsibility of saying, yes, we think Widow Jones ought to be kicked out of her house. It's more the negative of we see no reason why, have been provided no reason why, they ought not to be able to proceed with a standard form of the foreclosure. MR. BAGGETT: I don't disagree with you, but
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14	be, and the current rule is in my view no as clear as it should be one way or the other. MS. NEELEY: Okay, for what it's worth and Larry and Kelly can kick in if I'm getting it wrong, but I believe if you go back to the legislative history there was a colloquy on the floor between Mr. Woolins and Harriet Earhart about the legislative intent of this particular section in the Constitution, and the concept here, there's a tension between normal foreclosure, posting at the courthouse door, no judicial action at all, judicial foreclosure, something in between, and the	4 5 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14	concept was that if the application is filed and there's no response to it, what the court is effectively doing is saying "We have not been provided with any reason why the lender ought not to be able to proceed with the standard nonjudicial foreclosure." That's all that is. It's not really giving the court the responsibility of saying, yes, we think Widow Jones ought to be kicked out of her house. It's more the negative of we see no reason why, have been provided no reason why, they ought not to be able to proceed with a standard form of the foreclosure. MR. BAGGETT: I don't disagree with you, but I think that we've got to make the rule have the basic
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	be, and the current rule is in my view no as clear as it should be one way or the other. MS. NEELEY: Okay, for what it's worth and Larry and Kelly can kick in if I'm getting it wrong, but I believe if you go back to the legislative history there was a colloquy on the floor between Mr. Woolins and Harriet Earhart about the legislative intent of this particular section in the Constitution, and the concept here, there's a tension between normal foreclosure, posting at the courthouse door, no judicial action at all, judicial foreclosure, something in between, and the concept that was put in here was that there needed to be some simple mechanism whereby the debtor would have an	4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	concept was that if the application is filed and there's no response to it, what the court is effectively doing is saying "We have not been provided with any reason why the lender ought not to be able to proceed with the standard nonjudicial foreclosure." That's all that is. It's not really giving the court the responsibility of saying, yes, we think Widow Jones ought to be kicked out of her house. It's more the negative of we see no reason why, have been provided no reason why, they ought not to be able to proceed with a standard form of the foreclosure. MR. BAGGETT: I don't disagree with you, but I think that we've got to make the rule have the basic elements in there that does what we hope it does, which is
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	be, and the current rule is in my view no as clear as it should be one way or the other. MS. NEELEY: Okay, for what it's worth and Larry and Kelly can kick in if I'm getting it wrong, but I believe if you go back to the legislative history there was a colloquy on the floor between Mr. Woolins and Harriet Earhart about the legislative intent of this particular section in the Constitution, and the concept here, there's a tension between normal foreclosure, posting at the courthouse door, no judicial action at all, judicial foreclosure, something in between, and the concept that was put in here was that there needed to be some simple mechanism whereby the debtor would have an opportunity to say, "Well, wait, there is an irregularity	4 5 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	concept was that if the application is filed and there's no response to it, what the court is effectively doing is saying "We have not been provided with any reason why the lender ought not to be able to proceed with the standard nonjudicial foreclosure." That's all that is. It's not really giving the court the responsibility of saying, yes, we think Widow Jones ought to be kicked out of her house. It's more the negative of we see no reason why, have been provided no reason why, they ought not to be able to proceed with a standard form of the foreclosure. MR. BAGGETT: I don't disagree with you, but I think that we've got to make the rule have the basic elements in there that does what we hope it does, which is they actually get notice, and it actually is the right
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	be, and the current rule is in my view no as clear as it should be one way or the other. MS. NEELEY: Okay, for what it's worth and Larry and Kelly can kick in if I'm getting it wrong, but I believe if you go back to the legislative history there was a colloquy on the floor between Mr. Woolins and Harriet Earhart about the legislative intent of this particular section in the Constitution, and the concept here, there's a tension between normal foreclosure, posting at the courthouse door, no judicial action at all, judicial foreclosure, something in between, and the concept that was put in here was that there needed to be some simple mechanism whereby the debtor would have an	4 5 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	concept was that if the application is filed and there's no response to it, what the court is effectively doing is saying "We have not been provided with any reason why the lender ought not to be able to proceed with the standard nonjudicial foreclosure." That's all that is. It's not really giving the court the responsibility of saying, yes, we think Widow Jones ought to be kicked out of her house. It's more the negative of we see no reason why, have been provided no reason why, they ought not to be able to proceed with a standard form of the foreclosure. MR. BAGGETT: I don't disagree with you, but I think that we've got to make the rule have the basic elements in there that does what we hope it does, which is they actually get notice, and it actually is the right party
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	be, and the current rule is in my view no as clear as it should be one way or the other. MS. NEELEY: Okay, for what it's worth and Larry and Kelly can kick in if I'm getting it wrong, but I believe if you go back to the legislative history there was a colloquy on the floor between Mr. Woolins and Harriet Earhart about the legislative intent of this particular section in the Constitution, and the concept here, there's a tension between normal foreclosure, posting at the courthouse door, no judicial action at all, judicial foreclosure, something in between, and the concept that was put in here was that there needed to be some simple mechanism whereby the debtor would have an opportunity to say, "Well, wait, there is an irregularity in this transaction and the lien is invalid," and by having this sort of intermediate process, there was an	4 5 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	concept was that if the application is filed and there's no response to it, what the court is effectively doing is saying "We have not been provided with any reason why the lender ought not to be able to proceed with the standard nonjudicial foreclosure." That's all that is. It's not really giving the court the responsibility of saying, yes, we think Widow Jones ought to be kicked out of her house. It's more the negative of we see no reason why, have been provided no reason why, they ought not to be able to proceed with a standard form of the foreclosure. MR. BAGGETT: I don't disagree with you, but I think that we've got to make the rule have the basic elements in there that does what we hope it does, which is they actually get notice, and it actually is the right party MR. TEMPLE: Absolutely. MR. BAGGETT: trying to get it, and
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19	be, and the current rule is in my view no as clear as it should be one way or the other. MS. NEELEY: Okay, for what it's worth and Larry and Kelly can kick in if I'm getting it wrong, but I believe if you go back to the legislative history there was a colloquy on the floor between Mr. Woolins and Harriet Earhart about the legislative intent of this particular section in the Constitution, and the concept here, there's a tension between normal foreclosure, posting at the courthouse door, no judicial action at all, judicial foreclosure, something in between, and the concept that was put in here was that there needed to be some simple mechanism whereby the debtor would have an opportunity to say, "Well, wait, there is an irregularity in this transaction and the lien is invalid," and by having this sort of intermediate process, there was an opportunity for the debtor to say, "The loan is irregular,	4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19	concept was that if the application is filed and there's no response to it, what the court is effectively doing is saying "We have not been provided with any reason why the lender ought not to be able to proceed with the standard nonjudicial foreclosure." That's all that is. It's not really giving the court the responsibility of saying, yes, we think Widow Jones ought to be kicked out of her house. It's more the negative of we see no reason why, have been provided no reason why, they ought not to be able to proceed with a standard form of the foreclosure. MR. BAGGETT: I don't disagree with you, but I think that we've got to make the rule have the basic elements in there that does what we hope it does, which is they actually get notice, and it actually is the right party MR. TEMPLE: Absolutely. MR. BAGGETT: trying to get it, and there's a default, and we've got to get to a place to
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	be, and the current rule is in my view no as clear as it should be one way or the other. MS. NEELEY: Okay, for what it's worth and Larry and Kelly can kick in if I'm getting it wrong, but I believe if you go back to the legislative history there was a colloquy on the floor between Mr. Woolins and Harriet Earhart about the legislative intent of this particular section in the Constitution, and the concept here, there's a tension between normal foreclosure, posting at the courthouse door, no judicial action at all, judicial foreclosure, something in between, and the concept that was put in here was that there needed to be some simple mechanism whereby the debtor would have an opportunity to say, "Well, wait, there is an irregularity in this transaction and the lien is invalid," and by having this sort of intermediate process, there was an opportunity for the debtor to say, "The loan is irregular, so I really should be off the hook."	4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	concept was that if the application is filed and there's no response to it, what the court is effectively doing is saying "We have not been provided with any reason why the lender ought not to be able to proceed with the standard nonjudicial foreclosure." That's all that is. It's not really giving the court the responsibility of saying, yes, we think Widow Jones ought to be kicked out of her house. It's more the negative of we see no reason why, have been provided no reason why, they ought not to be able to proceed with a standard form of the foreclosure. MR. BAGGETT: I don't disagree with you, but I think that we've got to make the rule have the basic elements in there that does what we hope it does, which is they actually get notice, and it actually is the right party MR. TEMPLE: Absolutely. MR. BAGGETT: trying to get it, and there's a default, and we've got to get to a place to where we do that without overburdening the judges and the
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	be, and the current rule is in my view no as clear as it should be one way or the other. MS. NEELEY: Okay, for what it's worth and Larry and Kelly can kick in if I'm getting it wrong, but I believe if you go back to the legislative history there was a colloquy on the floor between Mr. Woolins and Harriet Earhart about the legislative intent of this particular section in the Constitution, and the concept here, there's a tension between normal foreclosure, posting at the courthouse door, no judicial action at all, judicial foreclosure, something in between, and the concept that was put in here was that there needed to be some simple mechanism whereby the debtor would have an opportunity to say, "Well, wait, there is an irregularity in this transaction and the lien is invalid," and by having this sort of intermediate process, there was an opportunity for the debtor to say, "The loan is irregular, so I really should be off the hook." It was not conceptually a judicial	4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	concept was that if the application is filed and there's no response to it, what the court is effectively doing is saying "We have not been provided with any reason why the lender ought not to be able to proceed with the standard nonjudicial foreclosure." That's all that is. It's not really giving the court the responsibility of saying, yes, we think Widow Jones ought to be kicked out of her house. It's more the negative of we see no reason why, have been provided no reason why, they ought not to be able to proceed with a standard form of the foreclosure. MR. BAGGETT: I don't disagree with you, but I think that we've got to make the rule have the basic elements in there that does what we hope it does, which is they actually get notice, and it actually is the right party MR. TEMPLE: Absolutely. MR. BAGGETT: trying to get it, and there's a default, and we've got to get to a place to
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	be, and the current rule is in my view no as clear as it should be one way or the other. MS. NEELEY: Okay, for what it's worth and Larry and Kelly can kick in if I'm getting it wrong, but I believe if you go back to the legislative history there was a colloquy on the floor between Mr. Woolins and Harriet Earhart about the legislative intent of this particular section in the Constitution, and the concept here, there's a tension between normal foreclosure, posting at the courthouse door, no judicial action at all, judicial foreclosure, something in between, and the concept that was put in here was that there needed to be some simple mechanism whereby the debtor would have an opportunity to say, "Well, wait, there is an irregularity in this transaction and the lien is invalid," and by having this sort of intermediate process, there was an opportunity for the debtor to say, "The loan is irregular, so I really should be off the hook." It was not conceptually a judicial foreclosure or a requirement that you had to go through	4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	concept was that if the application is filed and there's no response to it, what the court is effectively doing is saying "We have not been provided with any reason why the lender ought not to be able to proceed with the standard nonjudicial foreclosure." That's all that is. It's not really giving the court the responsibility of saying, yes, we think Widow Jones ought to be kicked out of her house. It's more the negative of we see no reason why, have been provided no reason why, they ought not to be able to proceed with a standard form of the foreclosure. MR. BAGGETT: I don't disagree with you, but I think that we've got to make the rule have the basic elements in there that does what we hope it does, which is they actually get notice, and it actually is the right party MR. TEMPLE: Absolutely. MR. BAGGETT: trying to get it, and there's a default, and we've got to get to a place to where we do that without overburdening the judges and the courts with it. Now, how you get to that balance, I don't
5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	be, and the current rule is in my view no as clear as it should be one way or the other. MS. NEELEY: Okay, for what it's worth and Larry and Kelly can kick in if I'm getting it wrong, but I believe if you go back to the legislative history there was a colloquy on the floor between Mr. Woolins and Harriet Earhart about the legislative intent of this particular section in the Constitution, and the concept here, there's a tension between normal foreclosure, posting at the courthouse door, no judicial action at all, judicial foreclosure, something in between, and the concept that was put in here was that there needed to be some simple mechanism whereby the debtor would have an opportunity to say, "Well, wait, there is an irregularity in this transaction and the lien is invalid," and by having this sort of intermediate process, there was an opportunity for the debtor to say, "The loan is irregular, so I really should be off the hook." It was not conceptually a judicial	4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	concept was that if the application is filed and there's no response to it, what the court is effectively doing is saying "We have not been provided with any reason why the lender ought not to be able to proceed with the standard nonjudicial foreclosure." That's all that is. It's not really giving the court the responsibility of saying, yes, we think Widow Jones ought to be kicked out of her house. It's more the negative of we see no reason why, have been provided no reason why, they ought not to be able to proceed with a standard form of the foreclosure. MR. BAGGETT: I don't disagree with you, but I think that we've got to make the rule have the basic elements in there that does what we hope it does, which is they actually get notice, and it actually is the right party MR. TEMPLE: Absolutely. MR. BAGGETT: trying to get it, and there's a default, and we've got to get to a place to where we do that without overburdening the judges and the courts with it. Now, how you get to that balance, I don't know.

	Page 58		Page 60
1	MR. FUCHS: Go ahead.	1	from where they had been storing green cards. Again, I've
2	MS. KELLUM: I was just going to say in the	2	got to tell you that the cost of all of this is
3	CYA world that we live in today if you've got a judge like	3	monumental. Most of these actions are redeemed by
4	the judge that I work for, he's not going to sign a leaf	4	reinstatement, so every time you add cost to the process,
5	that blows in the window, and he's going to want some	5	you add cost to the people who are trying to reinstate б	substance behind it.	6	their mortgages, and in an era when holding onto your home
7	MR. BAGGETT: I understand that.	7	is a very difficult process, raising the cost of retention
8	MR. FUCHS: Currently under the rule we	8	is probably something that we should be very circumspect
9	allow for service of and showing that service has been	9	about.
10	completed just on these certificate of service by the	10	It's costly to do a green card process,
11	attorney for the applicant. One and that the judge can	11	probably as much as 20, 25 bucks a file by the time you
12	grant the default if there's no response within time and	12	pay for the postage and pay for the storage and pay for
13	that certificate of service has been on filed for ten	13	the clerical manipulation of it. Barrett Burke, for
14	days. One additional part of the concern is shady	14	example, is an entirely paperless outfit. We don't keep
15	attorneys who are perhaps not complying, and one	15	paper. If we've got to keep green cards then we're going
16	possibility would be some extra requirement of proof of	16	to have to go create a place to keep the green cards.
17	service; i.e., because there's the i.e. that the attorney	17	MR. FUCHS: But do you scan the green cards
18	who seeks the default would have to show a copy, a copy of	18	after you get them back so that 19	the green card having come back or a and show that if	19	MR. BARRETT: If the rule said that, but
20	it does if the green card didn't come back, a copy of	20	we've got a lot of judges that say, no, I want green
21	the envelope that's come back showing it was unclaimed and	21	pieces of paper.
22	a copy of the envelope showing it was mailed by first	22	MR. BASTIAN: What I found with judges on
23	class mail.	23	the green card, lots of them have their computer on their 24	I mean, you can still play with those, but	24	desk and I say, "Judge, here is the number, type it in,
25	it's harder on the certified mail, and that would give	25	U.S. Post Office, type in the number." They do it
	-
	Page 59		Page 61
1	Page 59 some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then	1	Page 61 themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof.
1 2	some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then that the attorney had indeed complied with the notice	2	themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof. MR. FUCHS: That's good enough.
	some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then that the attorney had indeed complied with the notice requirement other than taking the attorney's word. It		themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof. MR. FUCHS: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough.
2	some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then that the attorney had indeed complied with the notice requirement other than taking the attorney's word. It doesn't deal completely with Judge Priddy's concern about	2 3 4	themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof. MR. FUCHS: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BARRETT: Yeah.
2 3	some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then that the attorney had indeed complied with the notice requirement other than taking the attorney's word. It doesn't deal completely with Judge Priddy's concern about the fact that the consumer may ignore the notice because	2 3 4 5	themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof. MR. FUCHS: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. BASTIAN: Because that's the U.S. Post
2 3 4 5 6	some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then that the attorney had indeed complied with the notice requirement other than taking the attorney's word. It doesn't deal completely with Judge Priddy's concern about the fact that the consumer may ignore the notice because he or she may have gotten five or six	2 3 4 5 6	themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof. MR. FUCHS: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. BASTIAN: Because that's the U.S. Post Office. You have an independent source that comes in and
2 3 4 5 6 7	some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then that the attorney had indeed complied with the notice requirement other than taking the attorney's word. It doesn't deal completely with Judge Priddy's concern about the fact that the consumer may ignore the notice because he or she may have gotten five or six (Sirens)	2 3 4 5 6 7	themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof. MR. FUCHS: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. BASTIAN: Because that's the U.S. Post Office. You have an independent source that comes in and says that was actually deposited with the U.S. Post Office
2 3 4 5 6 7 8	some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then that the attorney had indeed complied with the notice requirement other than taking the attorney's word. It doesn't deal completely with Judge Priddy's concern about the fact that the consumer may ignore the notice because he or she may have gotten five or six (Sirens) MR. BAGGETT: Here's some consumers coming	2 3 4 5 6 7 8	themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof. MR. FUCHS: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. BASTIAN: Because that's the U.S. Post Office. You have an independent source that comes in and says that was actually deposited with the U.S. Post Office and then you don't have to mess with the green cards
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9	some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then that the attorney had indeed complied with the notice requirement other than taking the attorney's word. It doesn't deal completely with Judge Priddy's concern about the fact that the consumer may ignore the notice because he or she may have gotten five or six (Sirens) MR. BAGGETT: Here's some consumers coming after us, all the sirens.	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9	themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof. MR. FUCHS: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. BASTIAN: Because that's the U.S. Post Office. You have an independent source that comes in and says that was actually deposited with the U.S. Post Office and then you don't have to mess with the green cards unless somebody wants to mess with them.
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10	some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then that the attorney had indeed complied with the notice requirement other than taking the attorney's word. It doesn't deal completely with Judge Priddy's concern about the fact that the consumer may ignore the notice because he or she may have gotten five or six (Sirens) MR. BAGGETT: Here's some consumers coming after us, all the sirens. MR. FUCHS: but sort of in keeping with	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10	themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof. MR. FUCHS: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. BASTIAN: Because that's the U.S. Post Office. You have an independent source that comes in and says that was actually deposited with the U.S. Post Office and then you don't have to mess with the green cards unless somebody wants to mess with them. MR. BAGGETT: Okay, let's do this. Let's
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11	some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then that the attorney had indeed complied with the notice requirement other than taking the attorney's word. It doesn't deal completely with Judge Priddy's concern about the fact that the consumer may ignore the notice because he or she may have gotten five or six (Sirens) MR. BAGGETT: Here's some consumers coming after us, all the sirens. MR. FUCHS: but sort of in keeping with the concept that we assure that there's notice yet that	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11	themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof. MR. FUCHS: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. BASTIAN: Because that's the U.S. Post Office. You have an independent source that comes in and says that was actually deposited with the U.S. Post Office and then you don't have to mess with the green cards unless somebody wants to mess with them. MR. BAGGETT: Okay, let's do this. Let's try to figure out some way we can do it that is least
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12	some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then that the attorney had indeed complied with the notice requirement other than taking the attorney's word. It doesn't deal completely with Judge Priddy's concern about the fact that the consumer may ignore the notice because he or she may have gotten five or six (Sirens) MR. BAGGETT: Here's some consumers coming after us, all the sirens. MR. FUCHS: but sort of in keeping with the concept that we assure that there's notice yet that it's a streamlined process. I just throw that out.	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12	themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof. MR. FUCHS: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. BASTIAN: Because that's the U.S. Post Office. You have an independent source that comes in and says that was actually deposited with the U.S. Post Office and then you don't have to mess with the green cards unless somebody wants to mess with them. MR. BAGGETT: Okay, let's do this. Let's try to figure out some way we can do it that is least obtrusive to you guys and expensive, but judges are more
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13	some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then that the attorney had indeed complied with the notice requirement other than taking the attorney's word. It doesn't deal completely with Judge Priddy's concern about the fact that the consumer may ignore the notice because he or she may have gotten five or six (Sirens) MR. BAGGETT: Here's some consumers coming after us, all the sirens. MR. FUCHS: but sort of in keeping with the concept that we assure that there's notice yet that it's a streamlined process. I just throw that out. MR. BASTIAN: I'm going to jump in here on	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13	themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof. MR. FUCHS: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. BASTIAN: Because that's the U.S. Post Office. You have an independent source that comes in and says that was actually deposited with the U.S. Post Office and then you don't have to mess with the green cards unless somebody wants to mess with them. MR. BAGGETT: Okay, let's do this. Let's try to figure out some way we can do it that is least obtrusive to you guys and expensive, but judges are more comfortable that they're getting the durn papers that they
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14	some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then that the attorney had indeed complied with the notice requirement other than taking the attorney's word. It doesn't deal completely with Judge Priddy's concern about the fact that the consumer may ignore the notice because he or she may have gotten five or six (Sirens) MR. BAGGETT: Here's some consumers coming after us, all the sirens. MR. FUCHS: but sort of in keeping with the concept that we assure that there's notice yet that it's a streamlined process. I just throw that out. MR. BASTIAN: I'm going to jump in here on the green cards because that's a real pain, but now with	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14	themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof. MR. FUCHS: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. BASTIAN: Because that's the U.S. Post Office. You have an independent source that comes in and says that was actually deposited with the U.S. Post Office and then you don't have to mess with the green cards unless somebody wants to mess with them. MR. BAGGETT: Okay, let's do this. Let's try to figure out some way we can do it that is least obtrusive to you guys and expensive, but judges are more comfortable that they're getting the durn papers that they need to get, and we'll work on that and see how we get
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then that the attorney had indeed complied with the notice requirement other than taking the attorney's word. It doesn't deal completely with Judge Priddy's concern about the fact that the consumer may ignore the notice because he or she may have gotten five or six (Sirens) MR. BAGGETT: Here's some consumers coming after us, all the sirens. MR. FUCHS: but sort of in keeping with the concept that we assure that there's notice yet that it's a streamlined process. I just throw that out. MR. BASTIAN: I'm going to jump in here on the green cards because that's a real pain, but now with the U.S. Post Office you can get a certified number, and	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof. MR. FUCHS: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. BASTIAN: Because that's the U.S. Post Office. You have an independent source that comes in and says that was actually deposited with the U.S. Post Office and then you don't have to mess with the green cards unless somebody wants to mess with them. MR. BAGGETT: Okay, let's do this. Let's try to figure out some way we can do it that is least obtrusive to you guys and expensive, but judges are more comfortable that they're getting the durn papers that they need to get, and we'll work on that and see how we get into everything, but I don't and I don't the three
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then that the attorney had indeed complied with the notice requirement other than taking the attorney's word. It doesn't deal completely with Judge Priddy's concern about the fact that the consumer may ignore the notice because he or she may have gotten five or six (Sirens) MR. BAGGETT: Here's some consumers coming after us, all the sirens. MR. FUCHS: but sort of in keeping with the concept that we assure that there's notice yet that it's a streamlined process. I just throw that out. MR. BASTIAN: I'm going to jump in here on the green cards because that's a real pain, but now with the U.S. Post Office you can get a certified number, and there is just a printout that you ought to be able to	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof. MR. FUCHS: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. BASTIAN: Because that's the U.S. Post Office. You have an independent source that comes in and says that was actually deposited with the U.S. Post Office and then you don't have to mess with the green cards unless somebody wants to mess with the green cards unless somebody wants to mess with them. MR. BAGGETT: Okay, let's do this. Let's try to figure out some way we can do it that is least obtrusive to you guys and expensive, but judges are more comfortable that they're getting the durn papers that they need to get, and we'll work on that and see how we get into everything, but I don't and I don't the three that you said are fine, defining "the applicant" is
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then that the attorney had indeed complied with the notice requirement other than taking the attorney's word. It doesn't deal completely with Judge Priddy's concern about the fact that the consumer may ignore the notice because he or she may have gotten five or six (Sirens) MR. BAGGETT: Here's some consumers coming after us, all the sirens. MR. FUCHS: but sort of in keeping with the concept that we assure that there's notice yet that it's a streamlined process. I just throw that out. MR. BASTIAN: I'm going to jump in here on the green cards because that's a real pain, but now with the U.S. Post Office you can get a certified number, and there is just a printout that you ought to be able to attach that. I mean, that's coming from the post office	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof. MR. FUCHS: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: Because that's the U.S. Post Office. You have an independent source that comes in and says that was actually deposited with the U.S. Post Office and then you don't have to mess with the green cards unless somebody wants to mess with them. MR. BAGGETT: Okay, let's do this. Let's try to figure out some way we can do it that is least obtrusive to you guys and expensive, but judges are more comfortable that they're getting the durn papers that they need to get, and we'll work on that and see how we get into everything, but I don't and I don't the three that you said are fine, defining "the applicant" is important because you've got to have the right party to do
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then that the attorney had indeed complied with the notice requirement other than taking the attorney's word. It doesn't deal completely with Judge Priddy's concern about the fact that the consumer may ignore the notice because he or she may have gotten five or six (Sirens) MR. BAGGETT: Here's some consumers coming after us, all the sirens. MR. FUCHS: but sort of in keeping with the concept that we assure that there's notice yet that it's a streamlined process. I just throw that out. MR. BASTIAN: I'm going to jump in here on the green cards because that's a real pain, but now with the U.S. Post Office you can get a certified number, and there is just a printout that you ought to be able to attach that. I mean, that's coming from the post office that says, "This was delivered to the post office and	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof. MR. FUCHS: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. BASTIAN: Because that's the U.S. Post Office. You have an independent source that comes in and says that was actually deposited with the U.S. Post Office and then you don't have to mess with the green cards unless somebody wants to mess with them. MR. BAGGETT: Okay, let's do this. Let's try to figure out some way we can do it that is least obtrusive to you guys and expensive, but judges are more comfortable that they're getting the durn papers that they need to get, and we'll work on that and see how we get into everything, but I don't and I don't the three that you said are fine, defining "the applicant" is important because you've got to have the right party to do that, regularize it with the Property Code is important,
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19	some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then that the attorney had indeed complied with the notice requirement other than taking the attorney's word. It doesn't deal completely with Judge Priddy's concern about the fact that the consumer may ignore the notice because he or she may have gotten five or six (Sirens) MR. BAGGETT: Here's some consumers coming after us, all the sirens. MR. FUCHS: but sort of in keeping with the concept that we assure that there's notice yet that it's a streamlined process. I just throw that out. MR. BASTIAN: I'm going to jump in here on the green cards because that's a real pain, but now with the U.S. Post Office you can get a certified number, and there is just a printout that you ought to be able to attach that. I mean, that's coming from the post office that says, "This was delivered to the post office and there's the proof" and you attach that, so you don't have	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19	themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof. MR. FUCHS: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. BASTIAN: Because that's the U.S. Post Office. You have an independent source that comes in and says that was actually deposited with the U.S. Post Office and then you don't have to mess with the green cards unless somebody wants to mess with them. MR. BAGGETT: Okay, let's do this. Let's try to figure out some way we can do it that is least obtrusive to you guys and expensive, but judges are more comfortable that they're getting the durn papers that they need to get, and we'll work on that and see how we get into everything, but I don't and I don't the three that you said are fine, defining "the applicant" is important because you've got to have the right party to do that, regularize it with the Property Code is important, and verifying the application.
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then that the attorney had indeed complied with the notice requirement other than taking the attorney's word. It doesn't deal completely with Judge Priddy's concern about the fact that the consumer may ignore the notice because he or she may have gotten five or six (Sirens) MR. BAGGETT: Here's some consumers coming after us, all the sirens. MR. FUCHS: but sort of in keeping with the concept that we assure that there's notice yet that it's a streamlined process. I just throw that out. MR. BASTIAN: I'm going to jump in here on the green cards because that's a real pain, but now with the U.S. Post Office you can get a certified number, and there is just a printout that you ought to be able to attach that. I mean, that's coming from the post office that says, "This was delivered to the post office and there's the proof" and you attach that, so you don't have to have the green card, because to get green cards is just	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof. MR. FUCHS: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. BASTIAN: Because that's the U.S. Post Office. You have an independent source that comes in and says that was actually deposited with the U.S. Post Office and then you don't have to mess with the green cards unless somebody wants to mess with the green cards unless somebody wants to mess with them. MR. BAGGETT: Okay, let's do this. Let's try to figure out some way we can do it that is least obtrusive to you guys and expensive, but judges are more comfortable that they're getting the durn papers that they need to get, and we'll work on that and see how we get into everything, but I don't and I don't the three that you said are fine, defining "the applicant" is important because you've got to have the right party to do that, regularize it with the Property Code is important, and verifying the application. MS. NEELEY: What does that mean.
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then that the attorney had indeed complied with the notice requirement other than taking the attorney's word. It doesn't deal completely with Judge Priddy's concern about the fact that the consumer may ignore the notice because he or she may have gotten five or six (Sirens) MR. BAGGETT: Here's some consumers coming after us, all the sirens. MR. FUCHS: but sort of in keeping with the concept that we assure that there's notice yet that it's a streamlined process. I just throw that out. MR. BASTIAN: I'm going to jump in here on the green cards because that's a real pain, but now with the U.S. Post Office you can get a certified number, and there is just a printout that you ought to be able to attach that. I mean, that's coming from the post office that says, "This was delivered to the post office and there's the proof" and you attach that, so you don't have to have the green card, because to get green cards is just a royal	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof. MR. FUCHS: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. BASTIAN: Because that's the U.S. Post Office. You have an independent source that comes in and says that was actually deposited with the U.S. Post Office and then you don't have to mess with the green cards unless somebody wants to mess with the green cards unless somebody wants to mess with them. MR. BAGGETT: Okay, let's do this. Let's try to figure out some way we can do it that is least obtrusive to you guys and expensive, but judges are more comfortable that they're getting the durn papers that they need to get, and we'll work on that and see how we get into everything, but I don't and I don't the three that you said are fine, defining "the applicant" is important because you've got to have the right party to do that, regularize it with the Property Code is important, and verifying the application. MS. NEELEY: What does that mean. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah.
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then that the attorney had indeed complied with the notice requirement other than taking the attorney's word. It doesn't deal completely with Judge Priddy's concern about the fact that the consumer may ignore the notice because he or she may have gotten five or six (Sirens) MR. BAGGETT: Here's some consumers coming after us, all the sirens. MR. FUCHS: but sort of in keeping with the concept that we assure that there's notice yet that it's a streamlined process. I just throw that out. MR. BASTIAN: I'm going to jump in here on the green cards because that's a real pain, but now with the U.S. Post Office you can get a certified number, and there is just a printout that you ought to be able to attach that. I mean, that's coming from the post office that says, "This was delivered to the post office and there's the proof" and you attach that, so you don't have to have the green card, because to get green cards is just a royal MR. BARRETT: Well, there was a client of	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof. MR. FUCHS: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: Because that's the U.S. Post Office. You have an independent source that comes in and says that was actually deposited with the U.S. Post Office and then you don't have to mess with the green cards unless somebody wants to mess with the green cards unless somebody wants to mess with them. MR. BAGGETT: Okay, let's do this. Let's try to figure out some way we can do it that is least obtrusive to you guys and expensive, but judges are more comfortable that they're getting the durn papers that they need to get, and we'll work on that and see how we get into everything, but I don't and I don't the three that you said are fine, defining "the applicant" is important because you've got to have the right party to do that, regularize it with the Property Code is important, and verifying the application. MS. NEELEY: What does that mean. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. NEELEY: And then if we can enhance the
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then that the attorney had indeed complied with the notice requirement other than taking the attorney's word. It doesn't deal completely with Judge Priddy's concern about the fact that the consumer may ignore the notice because he or she may have gotten five or six (Sirens) MR. BAGGETT: Here's some consumers coming after us, all the sirens. MR. FUCHS: but sort of in keeping with the concept that we assure that there's notice yet that it's a streamlined process. I just throw that out. MR. BASTIAN: I'm going to jump in here on the green cards because that's a real pain, but now with the U.S. Post Office you can get a certified number, and there is just a printout that you ought to be able to attach that. I mean, that's coming from the post office that says, "This was delivered to the post office and there's the proof" and you attach that, so you don't have to have the green card, because to get green cards is just a royal MR. BARRETT: Well, there was a client of ours two years ago that decided they were no longer going	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof. MR. FUCHS: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. BASTIAN: Because that's the U.S. Post Office. You have an independent source that comes in and says that was actually deposited with the U.S. Post Office and then you don't have to mess with the green cards unless somebody wants to mess with the green cards unless somebody wants to mess with them. MR. BAGGETT: Okay, let's do this. Let's try to figure out some way we can do it that is least obtrusive to you guys and expensive, but judges are more comfortable that they're getting the durn papers that they need to get, and we'll work on that and see how we get into everything, but I don't and I don't the three that you said are fine, defining "the applicant" is important because you've got to have the right party to do that, regularize it with the Property Code is important, and verifying the application. MS. NEELEY: What does that mean. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. NEELEY: And then if we can enhance the notification process to give comfort that there is due
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	some at least additional confidence to the judiciary then that the attorney had indeed complied with the notice requirement other than taking the attorney's word. It doesn't deal completely with Judge Priddy's concern about the fact that the consumer may ignore the notice because he or she may have gotten five or six (Sirens) MR. BAGGETT: Here's some consumers coming after us, all the sirens. MR. FUCHS: but sort of in keeping with the concept that we assure that there's notice yet that it's a streamlined process. I just throw that out. MR. BASTIAN: I'm going to jump in here on the green cards because that's a real pain, but now with the U.S. Post Office you can get a certified number, and there is just a printout that you ought to be able to attach that. I mean, that's coming from the post office that says, "This was delivered to the post office and there's the proof" and you attach that, so you don't have to have the green card, because to get green cards is just a royal MR. BARRETT: Well, there was a client of	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	themselves and they see it pop up, and that's proof. MR. FUCHS: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: That's good enough. MR. BASTIAN: Because that's the U.S. Post Office. You have an independent source that comes in and says that was actually deposited with the U.S. Post Office and then you don't have to mess with the green cards unless somebody wants to mess with the green cards unless somebody wants to mess with them. MR. BAGGETT: Okay, let's do this. Let's try to figure out some way we can do it that is least obtrusive to you guys and expensive, but judges are more comfortable that they're getting the durn papers that they need to get, and we'll work on that and see how we get into everything, but I don't and I don't the three that you said are fine, defining "the applicant" is important because you've got to have the right party to do that, regularize it with the Property Code is important, and verifying the application. MS. NEELEY: What does that mean. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. NEELEY: And then if we can enhance the

16 (Pages 58 to 61)

	Page 62		Page 64
1	concerns can be allayed, the person didn't respond because	1	fine. Thank you, Judge.
2	they didn't have anything to say, but they really knew	2	HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: I promise I'll be
3	they had an opportunity. That's key.	3	there live at the next meeting.
4	HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: It would be almost	4	MR. BAGGETT: No problem.
5	like in terms of a show cause order, tell us a reason why	5	(Recess from 10:58 a.m. to 11:09 a.m.)
6	I shouldn't let the lender foreclose, come up with a	6	MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Why don't we do this,
7	reason if you don't with the standard being if you	7	we will put that in a committee form and try to come up
8	don't come up with reasons the court's going to grant it.	8	with something that is not swinging one way or another,
9	MR. BASTIAN: And that could be put in the	9	kind of comes down the middle and the court people don't
10	rule. I mean, I think that could very easily, because	10	get killed in it and that's okay with you-all I assume,
11	that's your standard that you're looking for.	11	and the judges feel okay that they've done what they need
12	MR. TEMPLE: That was the concept	12	to do to make sure everybody got notice and a shot and 13	originally.	13	that's all fair. I don't have a problem with any of that.
14	MS. NEELEY: Yeah.	14	And then we've got to balance the cost, I understand, so
15	MR. BASTIAN: Say this is the standard you	15	we're going to figure how to do that.
16	use, because right now you have some judges saying the	16	HON. AMALIA RODRIGUEZ-MENDOZA: All in one.
17	default standard and some judges saying a motion for	17	MR. BAGGETT: Easy, easy. Okay. Now, why
18	summary judgment standard.	18	don't we do tax liens since we solved this other problem
19	HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: Right, and that's	19	so easily, and who wants to talk about tax liens? Because
20	something we need to clarify because I think (8)(a) to me	20	I know what tax liens are. I need to pay them or I'm in
21	seems to indicate that if there's no answer you still have	21	trouble. That's about the beginning and ending of what I
22	to use, as Tommy said, the summary judgment standard, and	22	know about it.
23	I don't know if that was intended in a default situation.	23	MR. BASTIAN: We need to talk about
23 24	If it wasn't, that needs to be clarified that that that	24	hearings.
24 25	in a default situation the lender does not have to prove	25	MR. BAGGETT: Hearings? What do you want to
25	^	25
	Page 63		Page 65
1	all the elements of (1)(a).	1	talk about on hearing?
2	MR. BASTIAN: To me that's just drafting. I	2	MR. BASTIAN: Well, under the rule you don't
3	think we can come up with the words for that. I mean, we	3	have to have a hearing if there's no response and you've
4	have two judges that are very and Fred that's very	4	got
5	interested in that language about what is the standard,	5	MR. BAGGETT: On this? All right. Sorry.
6	and we ought to be able to come up with the standard	6	MR. BASTIAN: That's another one of those 7	that's easy to enforce.	7	philosophical things we've got to kind of wrestle with.
8	MR. BAGGETT: Okay.	8	MR. BAGGETT: Okay. All right. Bring up
9	HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: I agree.	9	your issue. Now, we've got to get to tax liens because 10	MR. BAGGETT: I think those are the fair	10	that really is the reason why we're here. We do need to 11	issues. Yes.	11	coordinate everything, but we've got to get to tax liens.
12	MS. HOBBS: We need to give the court	12	Okay.
13	reporter a break.	13	MR. BASTIAN: Well, and again, this may be
14	MR. BAGGETT: Need a break? We don't have	14	one of the philosophical things we've got to deal with,
15 16	coffee or anything? Okay. We're going to take about a	15	and that is lots of judges are requiring hearings even if
16	ten-minute break.	16	there's no response, and part of this may be tied up with
17 10	HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: Okay. And I have		the service again. But the way the rule is written, that
18	to get on an airplane to San Diego, which is why I	18	if there is no response filed and the judge is supposed to 19 20	couldn't be there today.	19	sign the order and you go do the rest of the things that
20 21	MR. BAGGETT: Okay.	20	you have to do to foreclose, and I don't know if anybody
∠⊥	HONORABLE MARK DAVIDSON: I'm speaking at a	21 22	has a problem with that or rewriting the rule or something to make sure that you don't have to go have a hearing if
22	notionwide conference and I'm arms but show that she	44	to make sure that you don't have to go have a hearing if
22	nationwide conference, and I'm sorry, but when they give
23	me free first class airplane tickets to San Diego I go,	23	there's no response filed, or whether we want a hearing.

	Page 66		Page 68
1	hearings is there's really only two ways to get documents	1	point, well, you need to read it and make sure they did
2	that they can consider. One is the application in the	2	what they did, and if they didn't or you have a question
3	materials and the affidavit is attached to that, and then	3	about it, then have a hearing. That's going to put it on 4	there's also the I think rule (6) says at the hearing	4	the judge to do all that.
5	you can consider affidavits on file. To the extent that	5	MR. BASTIAN: Well
6	supplementation is required, if stuff is not in the	6	MR. BAGGETT: All right. We'll work on
7	application and then they file, like, as Judge Davidson	7	hearing, too. All right. And we've got as much time as
8	pointed out a lot of times courts will require you file	8	we need. We're going to have lunch and all that stuff, so
9	the assignment, wasn't in the original application, they	9	I'm not hurrying through it. I want to make sure we cover
10	file it later. Can a court consider that? It wasn't	10	tax liens. Who wants to talk about it first? Which one
11	attached to the application. Or does the court have to	11	of you were most active? Kelly?
12	have a hearing and then consider it at the hearing?	12	MS. RODGERS: Me.
13	To the extent that applicants try to offer	13	MS. NEELEY: Kelly.
14	documents that weren't in the original application, there	14	MR. BAGGETT: You're up, Kelly.
15	is some confusion or some disagreement among the courts of	15	MS. RODGERS: When we came into the last
16	whether they can consider that or whether they have to	16	legislative session this issue on tax lien transfers and
17	have a hearing to consider that, and that's one reason why	17	liens and foreclosures had been addressed in some prior
18	I think you have some hearings.	18	prior legislative sessions, but for whatever reason the 19	MR. BASTIAN: I think that can be drafted,	19	mortgage lenders were just beginning to see some of these
20	too.	20	tax lien foreclosures come through, because there's a
21	HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: No, we can draft	21	super priority lien with the tax lien that transfers from
22	around it. We just need to be clear on what we want.	22	the taxing authority to whoever pays off the taxes, and it
23	MR. BAGGETT: Okay. So what are we going to	23	trumps the first lien purchase money mortgage that's out
24	draft? What are we going to say about the hearings?	24	there. So sort of the impetus for all of this was that
25	MR. BASTIAN: Well, I think what we do is	25	some of the mortgage companies and mortgage lenders were
	Page 67		Page 69
1	come up with some suggestions in the group and look at it	1	getting notices that a foreclosure was about to take
2	after you see something work in the real world.	2	place, you know, four days before the foreclosure was
3	MR. BAGGETT: If on the face of the	3	about to take place, and they were obviously interested in
4	documents it doesn't appear to comply	4	going in and paying off the paying off the tax lien
5	MR. BASTIAN: Yeah, if it's proved up and	5	transfer loan.
6	you don't have a response, then no hearing. But maybe	6	As far as the do you want me to go
7	like you're saying, give the judge the discretion if he	7	through some of the more detail? Essentially the tax lien
8	wants well, see, that's the catch 22. A lot of judges	8	lenders were not regulated by any state agency of any
9	are doing you don't know why they do it. Because I've	9	sort, which was the only you know, the only lender in
10	had a lot of judges just do it, as soon as you show up,	10	the state of Texas that wasn't regulated. So one of the 11	nobody shows up, they give you the order. I mean, it's	11	things we did was pass House Bill 2138, which put them
12	kind of like an exercise in futility, but I mean, if it's	12	under the regulation of the Office of Consumer Credit
13	like you're saying, okay, here is the particular reason	13	Commissioner who is currently in the process of
14	why you have to have a hearing and that is you haven't	14	promulgating rules dealing with how those folks are
15	supplied it to the judge's satisfaction, then the judge	15	licensed and what kind of fees and expenses they can
16	has a hearing and that kind of also gives the enforcement	16	charge.
17	that, Mr. Attorney, if you don't do it right, then we're	17	MR. BAGGETT: Who has to be licensed?
18	going to make you suffer and have a hearing on this thing.	18	MS. RODGERS: The tax lien lenders have to
19	But if you do it right then there's no need for a hearing.	19	be licensed by the Consumer Credit Commissioner's office
20	HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: Right, but	20	now, and so we've got the regulatory side of it and then
		21	we've got Senate Bill 1520.
21	MR. BASTIAN: That would be kind of the 21 22	discipline that makes sure that the attorneys do it right	22	MR. BAGGETT: Put a mark in your mind, and
21 22 23	discipline that makes sure that the attorneys do it right when they file the application and all the proof then.	23	I'm going to go back to you, but let me tell you my
21 22	discipline that makes sure that the attorneys do it right

18 (Pages 66 to 69)

	Page 70		Page 72
1	never worried about ad valorem taxes being a priority	1	but not all the tax lien lenders and in particular one
2	because they had to be judicially foreclosed.	2	very large company was not doing so, and so they went to
3	MR. REDDING: That's right.	3	one of the representatives and said, "We would like to
	MR. BAGGETT: So it didn't bother me, and	4	have some amendment to make sure that everybody is doing
4		5
5	then I found out all the sudden they don't have to be		what we're doing." They kind of wanted a level playing
6	judicially foreclosed and they have a priority and you	6	field.
7	don't give notice to the first lienholder. I said, "How	7	So Representative Puente filed I think it
8	in the hell did we get there?" I'll just be honest with	8	was House Bill 2491, which started off as a very short
9	you. That was my reaction to it.	9	one-page bill that basically said if you foreclose
10	MR. REDDING: Well	10	pursuant to your transferred tax lien and you use the 11	MS. RODGERS: That was the reaction of a lot	11	Property Code nonjudicial procedures then you have to go
12	of the industry.	12	through and make sure everybody gets notice. That turned
13	MR. REDDING: Yeah. Mike, if I can	13	into House Bill 2220 was amended into it and it turned
14	interpose, because this was an issue obviously for the	14	out to be like a 40-page bill or something. We had very 15	title industry because	15	long coattails that session, and that resolved that
16	MR. BAGGETT: Yeah.	16	problem. It didn't resolve the a lot of the other
17	MR. REDDING: what you have is you have	17	issues and that's why we came back this session.
18	the tax lien lender claiming priority under the tax code	18	But one of the things that I think, just
19	and yet trying to avail themselves of the nonjudicial	19	personal opinion as to address your statement, Tim, is
20	provisions	20	that I think there is a way to marry those two or the idea
21	MR. BAGGETT: Right.	21	that you got a nonjudicial proceeding with a lien that
22	MR. REDDING: you know, in 51.002 for	22	could only be foreclosed judicially if it was held by a
23	foreclosure.	23	government unit is because of who's holding the lien and
24	MR. BAGGETT: Right.	24	because of the fact you know, coming from a background
25	MR. REDDING: And I don't think you can	25	where I filed 5,000 suits a year to foreclose property tax
	Page 71		Page 73
1	Tommy and I talked about this. We all talked about it,	1	liens, governments can handle that. Governments have, you
2	because it was how do you marry those two together without	2	know, their revenue stream set up based on those taxes,
3	giving notice? Tax code says you give notice to everybody	3	and they can predict what's going to happen, but nobody,
4	that has an interest in the property.	4	when I started doing representing taxing units, nobody
5	MR. BAGGETT: Right.	5	was doing property tax liens transfers because unless
6	MR. REDDINGS: And yet the foreclosure	6	you had a rich uncle because there was no way to recover
7	MR. BAGGETT: And you got it judicially	7	other than doing a judicial foreclosure, and you could
8	foreclosed.	8	only get ten percent interest.
9	MR. REDDING: Yeah, and the nonjudicial	9	I don't know if anybody remembers Oliver
10	foreclosure provisions say you only have to give notice to	10	Heard, but he was my boss at the time, and he, you know,
11	that person that is obligated on the note.	11	saw a way to make some money and got the code amended in
12	MR. BAGGETT: Correct.	12	'95 so that you could get 18 percent interest and do
13	MR. REDDING: So how do you marry those two	13	nonjudicial foreclosures and all of the sudden there's
14	and still protect them?	14	this new industry, but the theory was that, you know, if 15	MR. BAGGETT: We've been giving speeches	15	you've got a lien and you're a private entity you should
16	like that for 20 years.	16	be able to foreclose that pursuant to the most efficient
17	MR. REDDING: That's right. That's right.	17	process as opposed to a governmental unit. Now, the tax
18	MS. DOGGETT: Can I add something here?	18	code has been amended, and there are some nonjudicial
19	MS. RODGERS: Absolutely.	19	foreclosures of tax liens permitted nowadays by government
20	MS. DOGGETT: This is Mary Doggett. Oh,	20	units as well, but the vast majority I think Mike, as
21	he's off the line. In the 2005 legislative session, I	21	you said when we talked on the phone, the vast majority
22	represented a small tax lien lender that had been giving	22	are still foreclosed judicially. Okay. That's my speech,
23	notice. I had always advised them that if you don't give	23	Kelly.
24	notice to the lienholder you're not extinguishing their	24	MS. RODGERS: We essentially sat down with 25	interest in the property so you need to give them notice,	25	the tax lien lender representatives, including Mary. We,
20		1

	Page 74		Page 76
1	being the mortgage lender folks, and came up with what	1	the issues we've discussed this morning, the notice issues
2	ended up being an agreed bill, which is 1520, and some of	2	and those sorts of things
3	the uncertainties or language in it that may look very odd	3	MR. BAGGETT: All apply.
4	to anybody else made perfect sense to us when we were	4	MS. RODGERS: are all applicable. You
5	doing it.	5	know, once we fix that for home equity and reverse
6	MR. BAGGETT: Or at least at midnight that's	6	mortgages it's going to
7	what came out, right, is this?	7	MR. BAGGETT: It will fit for everybody.
8	MS. RODGERS: That's exactly right, and	8	Okay.
9	that's what leg. counsel left alone, so	9	MS. RODGERS: be the same for tax lien.
10	MS. DOGGETT: You know what this means and I	10	MR. BARRETT: What form of notice would you
11	know what this means, so it's okay.	11	recommend be required?
12	MS. RODGERS: Everybody else can figure it	12	MR. BAGGETT: Right.
13	out.	13	MS. RODGERS: In the sense of what the 14	MR. BAGGETT: Kind of like our great rules.	14	delivery mechanism is?
15	We can improve them. We know that we can.	15	MR. BARRETT: Yeah. If you were a tax lien
16	MS. RODGERS: That's right. That's right.	16	lender and you wanted to foreclose the interest of Bank of 17	But for our purposes, though, you know, we had a model	17	America, there are 1,191 addresses for Bank of America.
18	with the home equity loans and the reverse mortgages of	18	MS. RODGERS: That's right.
19	putting the foreclosure of tax lien loans, you know,	19	MS. NEELEY: Well, that's 20	somewhere, as Karen said, between nonjudicial and judicial	20	MR. BARRETT: What form of a notice would foreclosure, just to make sure that all the I's were	21	you have the tax lien lender give to Bank of America that
22	dotted and the T's were crossed and that everybody	22	would have any we've heard some claims here for due
23	MR. BAGGETT: Everybody got notice.	23	process.
24	MS. RODGERS: who needed to get notice,	24	MS. RODGERS: Right, I know.
25	and so that was the purpose of this, and because we had	25	MR. BARRETT: What form of notice would
	Page 75		Page 77
1	the model with the rules there, it was very easy for us to	1	cover due process when there are 1,190 addresses for one
2	punt to a task force instead of trying to figure it out	2	client?
3	ourselves at the last minute. So that's pretty much the	3	MS. NEELEY: That's why we need to address
4	history.	4	that.
5	MR. BAGGETT: That's fair, and I think if	5	MS. RODGERS: Well, and this was a
	you do give notice to everybody that's affected and it's	6	discussion. This has been a big issue for the tax lien
7	effective notice and it's not too expensive, that probably	7	lenders on how they give effective notice even under
8	does solve the problems.	8 9	the
9 10	MS. RODGERS: Well, and MR. BAGGETT: I would assume unless the	10	MS. DOGGETT: And to whom, yeah. MS. RODGERS: And to whom, and the 11		11	MR. BARRETT: So the process is hard for title companies have got a different issue that I don't	12	-
13	know about		them They get cerved and it's still hard to get the 10	know about.		them. They get served, and it's still hard to get the
14	MS. RODGERS: Right. Right.	13	right piece of paper
14 15	MS. RODGERS: Right. Right. MR. BAGGETT: You get the notices?	13 14	right piece of paper MS. RODGERS: To the right person.
15	MS. RODGERS: Right. Right. MR. BAGGETT: You get the notices? MR. REDDING: Yeah, that was our biggest	13 14 15	right piece of paper MS. RODGERS: To the right person. MR. BARRETT: in the hands of someone who
15 16	MS. RODGERS: Right. Right. MR. BAGGETT: You get the notices? MR. REDDING: Yeah, that was our biggest that was our big issue was making sure everybody got	13 14 15 16	right piece of paper MS. RODGERS: To the right person. MR. BARRETT: in the hands of someone who knows what to do and how to do it.
15 16 17	MS. RODGERS: Right. Right. MR. BAGGETT: You get the notices? MR. REDDING: Yeah, that was our biggest that was our big issue was making sure everybody got the	13 14 15 16 17	right piece of paper MS. RODGERS: To the right person. MR. BARRETT: in the hands of someone who knows what to do and how to do it. MS. RODGERS: That's right.
15 16 17 18	MS. RODGERS: Right. Right. MR. BAGGETT: You get the notices? MR. REDDING: Yeah, that was our biggest that was our big issue was making sure everybody got the MR. BAGGETT: Then you've got to write to	13 14 15 16 17 18	right piece of paper MS. RODGERS: To the right person. MR. BARRETT: in the hands of someone who knows what to do and how to do it. MS. RODGERS: That's right. MR. BAGGETT: I'll give you another example,
15 16 17 18	MS. RODGERS: Right. Right. MR. BAGGETT: You get the notices? MR. REDDING: Yeah, that was our biggest that was our big issue was making sure everybody got the MR. BAGGETT: Then you've got to write to reinstate.	13 14 15 16 17	right piece of paper MS. RODGERS: To the right person. MR. BARRETT: in the hands of someone who knows what to do and how to do it. MS. RODGERS: That's right. MR. BAGGETT: I'll give you another example, and I don't think it solves the problem, but this does
15 16 17 18 19	MS. RODGERS: Right. Right. MR. BAGGETT: You get the notices? MR. REDDING: Yeah, that was our biggest that was our big issue was making sure everybody got the MR. BAGGETT: Then you've got to write to	13 14 15 16 17 18 19	right piece of paper MS. RODGERS: To the right person. MR. BARRETT: in the hands of someone who knows what to do and how to do it. MS. RODGERS: That's right. MR. BAGGETT: I'll give you another example,
15 16 17 18 19 20	MS. RODGERS: Right. Right. MR. BAGGETT: You get the notices? MR. REDDING: Yeah, that was our biggest that was our big issue was making sure everybody got the MR. BAGGETT: Then you've got to write to reinstate. MS. RODGERS: And the title industry was at	13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	right piece of paper MS. RODGERS: To the right person. MR. BARRETT: in the hands of someone who knows what to do and how to do it. MS. RODGERS: That's right. MR. BAGGETT: I'll give you another example, and I don't think it solves the problem, but this does 25 days notice to the internal revenue, and I say this in
15 16 17 18 19 20 21	MS. RODGERS: Right. Right. MR. BAGGETT: You get the notices? MR. REDDING: Yeah, that was our biggest that was our big issue was making sure everybody got the MR. BAGGETT: Then you've got to write to reinstate. MS. RODGERS: And the title industry was at the table, too. I mean, they were very active in this	13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	right piece of paper MS. RODGERS: To the right person. MR. BARRETT: in the hands of someone who knows what to do and how to do it. MS. RODGERS: That's right. MR. BAGGETT: I'll give you another example, and I don't think it solves the problem, but this does 25 days notice to the internal revenue, and I say this in speeches all the time. I've never ever seen a foreclosure
15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	MS. RODGERS: Right. Right. MR. BAGGETT: You get the notices? MR. REDDING: Yeah, that was our biggest that was our big issue was making sure everybody got the MR. BAGGETT: Then you've got to write to reinstate. MS. RODGERS: And the title industry was at the table, too. I mean, they were very active in this discussion during session.	13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	right piece of paper MS. RODGERS: To the right person. MR. BARRETT: in the hands of someone who knows what to do and how to do it. MS. RODGERS: That's right. MR. BAGGETT: I'll give you another example, and I don't think it solves the problem, but this does 25 days notice to the internal revenue, and I say this in speeches all the time. I've never ever seen a foreclosure where they woke up in 25 days to do anything about it.

(512) 751-2618

20 (Pages 74 to 77)

	Page 78		Page 80
1	MS. DOGGETT: What most of the tax lien	1	of process, and but there's not there's not a simple
2	lenders that I represent have done is establish personal	2	way to go about it. There's no way to maintain a registry
3	relationships with the mortgage servicers, and they try to	3	of addresses and who the mortgage servicers are and the
4	pick up the phone, to tell you the truth. As the industry	4	lenders are and
5	grows it's not going to be possible.	5	MR. BARRETT: What if we limited the tax
6	MR. BAGGETT: That's great, but we can't	6	lien lenders recovery to their financial position and
7	rely on that.	7	required that any additional funds be returned to Fred's 8	MS. DOGGETT: Right. One of the things that	8	people? In other words, if you bought a tax lien for
9	we realized when we were one of the things we talked	9	$500
10	about when we were working on this bill was at the time	10	MR. BAGGETT: Wait, wait, wait. We're
11	that a property tax transfer is closed you're	11	legislating now. We're not a legislature, we're not a
12	communicating with the property owner and you can get the	12	court.
13	name of the mortgage servicer, but three years down the	13	MR. BARRETT: It's just a question, Mike.
14	road when the guy is no longer to be found and you have no	14	MR. BAGGETT: We've got rules people can
15	communication, that mortgage servicer might have changed	15	live by. I understand your issues are where you're
16	three times, and so the best you can do is contact the	16	coming from, but I don't think we have the power to do
17	holder of the note, and so it was written that way so that	17	that.
18	if a foreclosure occurs you contact whoever you can	18	MR. BARRETT: I think that's coming, though.
19	basically, and the holder of the notice is sufficient at	19	MR. BAGGETT: Well, that's fine. Get these 20	that point.	20	two ladies to go talk for you in the next session. Okay.
21	But then again you've got that trickle down	21	So your issue is, part of it is, how do we get service on
22	effect. You know, if you send something to the holder of	22	the lienholders that works
23	the note are they going to get it, and so we extended the	23	MS. RODGERS: Right.
24	notice from 38 days to 60 days. Is that even going to be	24	MR. BAGGETT: and same kind of issue we
25	sufficient?	25	have with
	Page 79
	5		Page 81
1	MS. RODGERS: Right.	1	MS. RODGERS: Same issues.
2	MS. RODGERS: Right. MR. FUCHS: The statute simply says the	2	MS. RODGERS: Same issues. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah.
	MS. RODGERS: Right. MR. FUCHS: The statute simply says the application must be served. I'm curious, was there a	2 3	MS. RODGERS: Same issues. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. RODGERS: And I assume what would work
2 3 4	MS. RODGERS: Right. MR. FUCHS: The statute simply says the application must be served. I'm curious, was there a legislative discussion on whether that had to be personal	2 3 4	MS. RODGERS: Same issues. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. RODGERS: And I assume what would work on the home equity loans would probably work with us.
2 3 4 5	MS. RODGERS: Right. MR. FUCHS: The statute simply says the application must be served. I'm curious, was there a legislative discussion on whether that had to be personal service, certified mail, first class mail?	2 3 4 5	MS. RODGERS: Same issues. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. RODGERS: And I assume what would work on the home equity loans would probably work with us. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Well, judges that don't
2 3 4 5 6	MS. RODGERS: Right. MR. FUCHS: The statute simply says the application must be served. I'm curious, was there a legislative discussion on whether that had to be personal service, certified mail, first class mail? MS. DOGGETT: There was, and	2 3 4 5 6	MS. RODGERS: Same issues. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. RODGERS: And I assume what would work on the home equity loans would probably work with us. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Well, judges that don't want Marvin Zindler although, I understand he's now
2 3 4 5 6 7	MS. RODGERS: Right. MR. FUCHS: The statute simply says the application must be served. I'm curious, was there a legislative discussion on whether that had to be personal service, certified mail, first class mail? MS. DOGGETT: There was, and MR. FUCHS: And?	2 3 4 5 6 7	MS. RODGERS: Same issues. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. RODGERS: And I assume what would work on the home equity loans would probably work with us. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Well, judges that don't want Marvin Zindler although, I understand he's now dead, so you-all are safe.
2 3 4 5 6 7 8	MS. RODGERS: Right. MR. FUCHS: The statute simply says the application must be served. I'm curious, was there a legislative discussion on whether that had to be personal service, certified mail, first class mail? MS. DOGGETT: There was, and MR. FUCHS: And? MS. DOGGETT: The overriding sentiment was	2 3 4 5 6 7 8	MS. RODGERS: Same issues. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. RODGERS: And I assume what would work on the home equity loans would probably work with us. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Well, judges that don't want Marvin Zindler although, I understand he's now dead, so you-all are safe. MR. BARRETT: I've had Marvin. That's no
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9	MS. RODGERS: Right. MR. FUCHS: The statute simply says the application must be served. I'm curious, was there a legislative discussion on whether that had to be personal service, certified mail, first class mail? MS. DOGGETT: There was, and MR. FUCHS: And? MS. DOGGETT: The overriding sentiment was that because everybody who was had an interest in the	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9	MS. RODGERS: Same issues. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. RODGERS: And I assume what would work on the home equity loans would probably work with us. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Well, judges that don't want Marvin Zindler although, I understand he's now dead, so you-all are safe. MR. BARRETT: I've had Marvin. That's no fun.
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10	MS. RODGERS: Right. MR. FUCHS: The statute simply says the application must be served. I'm curious, was there a legislative discussion on whether that had to be personal service, certified mail, first class mail? MS. DOGGETT: There was, and MR. FUCHS: And? MS. DOGGETT: The overriding sentiment was that because everybody who was had an interest in the property was going to be bearing the expense of personal	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10	MS. RODGERS: Same issues. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. RODGERS: And I assume what would work on the home equity loans would probably work with us. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Well, judges that don't want Marvin Zindler although, I understand he's now dead, so you-all are safe. MR. BARRETT: I've had Marvin. That's no fun. MR. BAGGETT: Marvin or his successors, you
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11	MS. RODGERS: Right. MR. FUCHS: The statute simply says the application must be served. I'm curious, was there a legislative discussion on whether that had to be personal service, certified mail, first class mail? MS. DOGGETT: There was, and MR. FUCHS: And? MS. DOGGETT: The overriding sentiment was that because everybody who was had an interest in the property was going to be bearing the expense of personal service, that it was decided that 21a was sufficient.	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11	MS. RODGERS: Same issues. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. RODGERS: And I assume what would work on the home equity loans would probably work with us. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Well, judges that don't want Marvin Zindler although, I understand he's now dead, so you-all are safe. MR. BARRETT: I've had Marvin. That's no fun. MR. BAGGETT: Marvin or his successors, you know, how are we going to deal with this one, too. Really
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12	MS. RODGERS: Right. MR. FUCHS: The statute simply says the application must be served. I'm curious, was there a legislative discussion on whether that had to be personal service, certified mail, first class mail? MS. DOGGETT: There was, and MR. FUCHS: And? MS. DOGGETT: The overriding sentiment was that because everybody who was had an interest in the property was going to be bearing the expense of personal service, that it was decided that 21a was sufficient. MR. CULBRETH: Which is consistent with 736,	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12	MS. RODGERS: Same issues. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. RODGERS: And I assume what would work on the home equity loans would probably work with us. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Well, judges that don't want Marvin Zindler although, I understand he's now dead, so you-all are safe. MR. BARRETT: I've had Marvin. That's no fun. MR. BAGGETT: Marvin or his successors, you know, how are we going to deal with this one, too. Really it's the same issue, is it not?
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13	MS. RODGERS: Right. MR. FUCHS: The statute simply says the application must be served. I'm curious, was there a legislative discussion on whether that had to be personal service, certified mail, first class mail? MS. DOGGETT: There was, and MR. FUCHS: And? MS. DOGGETT: The overriding sentiment was that because everybody who was had an interest in the property was going to be bearing the expense of personal service, that it was decided that 21a was sufficient. MR. CULBRETH: Which is consistent with 736, the certified mail.	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13	MS. RODGERS: Same issues. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. RODGERS: And I assume what would work on the home equity loans would probably work with us. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Well, judges that don't want Marvin Zindler although, I understand he's now dead, so you-all are safe. MR. BARRETT: I've had Marvin. That's no fun. MR. BAGGETT: Marvin or his successors, you know, how are we going to deal with this one, too. Really it's the same issue, is it not? MR. BASTIAN: It is the same issue.
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14	MS. RODGERS: Right. MR. FUCHS: The statute simply says the application must be served. I'm curious, was there a legislative discussion on whether that had to be personal service, certified mail, first class mail? MS. DOGGETT: There was, and MR. FUCHS: And? MS. DOGGETT: The overriding sentiment was that because everybody who was had an interest in the property was going to be bearing the expense of personal service, that it was decided that 21a was sufficient. MR. CULBRETH: Which is consistent with 736, the certified mail. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah, just certified mail.	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14	MS. RODGERS: Same issues. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. RODGERS: And I assume what would work on the home equity loans would probably work with us. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Well, judges that don't want Marvin Zindler although, I understand he's now dead, so you-all are safe. MR. BARRETT: I've had Marvin. That's no fun. MR. BAGGETT: Marvin or his successors, you know, how are we going to deal with this one, too. Really it's the same issue, is it not? MR. BASTIAN: It is the same issue. MR. BARRETT: Yeah.
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	MS. RODGERS: Right. MR. FUCHS: The statute simply says the application must be served. I'm curious, was there a legislative discussion on whether that had to be personal service, certified mail, first class mail? MS. DOGGETT: There was, and MR. FUCHS: And? MS. DOGGETT: The overriding sentiment was that because everybody who was had an interest in the property was going to be bearing the expense of personal service, that it was decided that 21a was sufficient. MR. CULBRETH: Which is consistent with 736, the certified mail. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah, just certified mail. MS. DOGGETT: Uh-huh.	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	MS. RODGERS: Same issues. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. RODGERS: And I assume what would work on the home equity loans would probably work with us. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Well, judges that don't want Marvin Zindler although, I understand he's now dead, so you-all are safe. MR. BARRETT: I've had Marvin. That's no fun. MR. BAGGETT: Marvin or his successors, you know, how are we going to deal with this one, too. Really it's the same issue, is it not? MR. BASTIAN: It is the same issue. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. TEMPLE: It really is.
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	MS. RODGERS: Right. MR. FUCHS: The statute simply says the application must be served. I'm curious, was there a legislative discussion on whether that had to be personal service, certified mail, first class mail? MS. DOGGETT: There was, and MR. FUCHS: And? MS. DOGGETT: The overriding sentiment was that because everybody who was had an interest in the property was going to be bearing the expense of personal service, that it was decided that 21a was sufficient. MR. CULBRETH: Which is consistent with 736, the certified mail. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah, just certified mail. MS. DOGGETT: Uh-huh. MR. BAGGETT: The way we have it now, I	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	MS. RODGERS: Same issues. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. RODGERS: And I assume what would work on the home equity loans would probably work with us. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Well, judges that don't want Marvin Zindler although, I understand he's now dead, so you-all are safe. MR. BARRETT: I've had Marvin. That's no fun. MR. BAGGETT: Marvin or his successors, you know, how are we going to deal with this one, too. Really it's the same issue, is it not? MR. BASTIAN: It is the same issue. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. TEMPLE: It really is. MR. BARRETT: I'm certainly sympathetic with
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	MS. RODGERS: Right. MR. FUCHS: The statute simply says the application must be served. I'm curious, was there a legislative discussion on whether that had to be personal service, certified mail, first class mail? MS. DOGGETT: There was, and MR. FUCHS: And? MS. DOGGETT: The overriding sentiment was that because everybody who was had an interest in the property was going to be bearing the expense of personal service, that it was decided that 21a was sufficient. MR. CULBRETH: Which is consistent with 736, the certified mail. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah, just certified mail. MS. DOGGETT: Uh-huh. MR. BAGGETT: The way we have it now, I guess.	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	MS. RODGERS: Same issues. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. RODGERS: And I assume what would work on the home equity loans would probably work with us. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Well, judges that don't want Marvin Zindler although, I understand he's now dead, so you-all are safe. MR. BARRETT: I've had Marvin. That's no fun. MR. BAGGETT: Marvin or his successors, you know, how are we going to deal with this one, too. Really it's the same issue, is it not? MR. BASTIAN: It is the same issue. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. TEMPLE: It really is. MR. BARRETT: I'm certainly sympathetic with the position it puts them in, because obviously facts
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	MS. RODGERS: Right. MR. FUCHS: The statute simply says the application must be served. I'm curious, was there a legislative discussion on whether that had to be personal service, certified mail, first class mail? MS. DOGGETT: There was, and MR. FUCHS: And? MS. DOGGETT: The overriding sentiment was that because everybody who was had an interest in the property was going to be bearing the expense of personal service, that it was decided that 21a was sufficient. MR. CULBRETH: Which is consistent with 736, the certified mail. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah, just certified mail. MS. DOGGETT: Uh-huh. MR. BAGGETT: The way we have it now, I guess. MS. DOGGETT: Right.	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	MS. RODGERS: Same issues. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. RODGERS: And I assume what would work on the home equity loans would probably work with us. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Well, judges that don't want Marvin Zindler although, I understand he's now dead, so you-all are safe. MR. BARRETT: I've had Marvin. That's no fun. MR. BAGGETT: Marvin or his successors, you know, how are we going to deal with this one, too. Really it's the same issue, is it not? MR. BASTIAN: It is the same issue. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. TEMPLE: It really is. MR. BARRETT: I'm certainly sympathetic with the position it puts them in, because obviously facts don't sell newspapers, and these reporters are rarely
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19	MS. RODGERS: Right. MR. FUCHS: The statute simply says the application must be served. I'm curious, was there a legislative discussion on whether that had to be personal service, certified mail, first class mail? MS. DOGGETT: There was, and MR. FUCHS: And? MS. DOGGETT: The overriding sentiment was that because everybody who was had an interest in the property was going to be bearing the expense of personal service, that it was decided that 21a was sufficient. MR. CULBRETH: Which is consistent with 736, the certified mail. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah, just certified mail. MS. DOGGETT: Uh-huh. MR. BAGGETT: The way we have it now, I guess. MS. DOGGETT: Right. MS. RODGERS: Well, and the issue of, you	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19	MS. RODGERS: Same issues. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. RODGERS: And I assume what would work on the home equity loans would probably work with us. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Well, judges that don't want Marvin Zindler although, I understand he's now dead, so you-all are safe. MR. BARRETT: I've had Marvin. That's no fun. MR. BAGGETT: Marvin or his successors, you know, how are we going to deal with this one, too. Really it's the same issue, is it not? MR. BASTIAN: It is the same issue. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. TEMPLE: It really is. MR. BARRETT: I'm certainly sympathetic with the position it puts them in, because obviously facts don't sell newspapers, and these reporters are rarely interested in the
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	MS. RODGERS: Right. MR. FUCHS: The statute simply says the application must be served. I'm curious, was there a legislative discussion on whether that had to be personal service, certified mail, first class mail? MS. DOGGETT: There was, and MR. FUCHS: And? MS. DOGGETT: The overriding sentiment was that because everybody who was had an interest in the property was going to be bearing the expense of personal service, that it was decided that 21a was sufficient. MR. CULBRETH: Which is consistent with 736, the certified mail. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah, just certified mail. MS. DOGGETT: Uh-huh. MR. BAGGETT: The way we have it now, I guess. MS. DOGGETT: Right. MS. RODGERS: Well, and the issue of, you know, to whom you send the notice, I mean, there was talk	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	MS. RODGERS: Same issues. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. RODGERS: And I assume what would work on the home equity loans would probably work with us. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Well, judges that don't want Marvin Zindler although, I understand he's now dead, so you-all are safe. MR. BARRETT: I've had Marvin. That's no fun. MR. BAGGETT: Marvin or his successors, you know, how are we going to deal with this one, too. Really it's the same issue, is it not? MR. BASTIAN: It is the same issue. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. TEMPLE: It really is. MR. BARRETT: I'm certainly sympathetic with the position it puts them in, because obviously facts don't sell newspapers, and these reporters are rarely interested in the MR. BAGGETT: Yeah.
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	MS. RODGERS: Right. MR. FUCHS: The statute simply says the application must be served. I'm curious, was there a legislative discussion on whether that had to be personal service, certified mail, first class mail? MS. DOGGETT: There was, and MR. FUCHS: And? MS. DOGGETT: The overriding sentiment was that because everybody who was had an interest in the property was going to be bearing the expense of personal service, that it was decided that 21a was sufficient. MR. CULBRETH: Which is consistent with 736, the certified mail. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah, just certified mail. MS. DOGGETT: Uh-huh. MR. BAGGETT: The way we have it now, I guess. MS. DOGGETT: Right. MS. RODGERS: Well, and the issue of, you know, to whom you send the notice, I mean, there was talk with Tommy, about, you know, a registry where you you	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	MS. RODGERS: Same issues. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. RODGERS: And I assume what would work on the home equity loans would probably work with us. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Well, judges that don't want Marvin Zindler although, I understand he's now dead, so you-all are safe. MR. BARRETT: I've had Marvin. That's no fun. MR. BAGGETT: Marvin or his successors, you know, how are we going to deal with this one, too. Really it's the same issue, is it not? MR. BASTIAN: It is the same issue. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. TEMPLE: It really is. MR. BARRETT: I'm certainly sympathetic with the position it puts them in, because obviously facts don't sell newspapers, and these reporters are rarely interested in the MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. BARGETT: Yeah. MR. BARRETT: Yeah.
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	MS. RODGERS: Right. MR. FUCHS: The statute simply says the application must be served. I'm curious, was there a legislative discussion on whether that had to be personal service, certified mail, first class mail? MS. DOGGETT: There was, and MR. FUCHS: And? MS. DOGGETT: The overriding sentiment was that because everybody who was had an interest in the property was going to be bearing the expense of personal service, that it was decided that 21a was sufficient. MR. CULBRETH: Which is consistent with 736, the certified mail. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah, just certified mail. MS. DOGGETT: Uh-huh. MR. BAGGETT: The way we have it now, I guess. MS. DOGGETT: Right. MS. RODGERS: Well, and the issue of, you know, to whom you send the notice, I mean, there was talk with Tommy, about, you know, a registry where you you know, financial institutions registered with whoever	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	MS. RODGERS: Same issues. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. RODGERS: And I assume what would work on the home equity loans would probably work with us. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Well, judges that don't want Marvin Zindler although, I understand he's now dead, so you-all are safe. MR. BARRETT: I've had Marvin. That's no fun. MR. BAGGETT: Marvin or his successors, you know, how are we going to deal with this one, too. Really it's the same issue, is it not? MR. BASTIAN: It is the same issue. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. TEMPLE: It really is. MR. BARRETT: I'm certainly sympathetic with the position it puts them in, because obviously facts don't sell newspapers, and these reporters are rarely interested in the MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. BARETT: Yeah. MR. Yean Ye
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	MS. RODGERS: Right. MR. FUCHS: The statute simply says the application must be served. I'm curious, was there a legislative discussion on whether that had to be personal service, certified mail, first class mail? MS. DOGGETT: There was, and MR. FUCHS: And? MS. DOGGETT: The overriding sentiment was that because everybody who was had an interest in the property was going to be bearing the expense of personal service, that it was decided that 21a was sufficient. MR. CULBRETH: Which is consistent with 736, the certified mail. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah, just certified mail. MS. DOGGETT: Uh-huh. MR. BAGGETT: The way we have it now, I guess. MS. DOGGETT: Right. MS. RODGERS: Well, and the issue of, you know, to whom you send the notice, I mean, there was talk with Tommy, about, you know, a registry where you you know, financial institutions registered with whoever service of process was. There was talk about, you know,	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	MS. RODGERS: Same issues. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. RODGERS: And I assume what would work on the home equity loans would probably work with us. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Well, judges that don't want Marvin Zindler although, I understand he's now dead, so you-all are safe. MR. BARRETT: I've had Marvin. That's no fun. MR. BAGGETT: Marvin or his successors, you know, how are we going to deal with this one, too. Really it's the same issue, is it not? MR. BASTIAN: It is the same issue. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. TEMPLE: It really is. MR. BARRETT: I'm certainly sympathetic with the position it puts them in, because obviously facts don't sell newspapers, and these reporters are rarely interested in the MR. BARRETT: eccentricities of the statute and truly understand the judge's role, so there is no question that the judge is being put in a bad spot.
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	MS. RODGERS: Right. MR. FUCHS: The statute simply says the application must be served. I'm curious, was there a legislative discussion on whether that had to be personal service, certified mail, first class mail? MS. DOGGETT: There was, and MR. FUCHS: And? MS. DOGGETT: The overriding sentiment was that because everybody who was had an interest in the property was going to be bearing the expense of personal service, that it was decided that 21a was sufficient. MR. CULBRETH: Which is consistent with 736, the certified mail. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah, just certified mail. MS. DOGGETT: Uh-huh. MR. BAGGETT: The way we have it now, I guess. MS. DOGGETT: Right. MS. RODGERS: Well, and the issue of, you know, to whom you send the notice, I mean, there was talk with Tommy, about, you know, a registry where you you know, financial institutions registered with whoever	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	MS. RODGERS: Same issues. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MS. RODGERS: And I assume what would work on the home equity loans would probably work with us. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Well, judges that don't want Marvin Zindler although, I understand he's now dead, so you-all are safe. MR. BARRETT: I've had Marvin. That's no fun. MR. BAGGETT: Marvin or his successors, you know, how are we going to deal with this one, too. Really it's the same issue, is it not? MR. BASTIAN: It is the same issue. MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. TEMPLE: It really is. MR. BARRETT: I'm certainly sympathetic with the position it puts them in, because obviously facts don't sell newspapers, and these reporters are rarely interested in the MR. BARRETT: Yeah. MR. YeaH Y

	Page 82		Page 84
1	then flicked this thing on the Court here, and we're kind	1	Tommy.
2	of the instrument of that infliction, but it's sure a bad	2	MR. BAGGETT: And I clearly didn't know.
3	spot for the judge.	3	Don't worry about that.
4	MR. BAGGETT: So whatever we come up with	4	MS. DOGGETT: And you didn't know any more
5	that's applicable to both of these issues is what we're	5	than I did, so no. It says that the liens shall be
6	going to get to live with, I guess, right?	6	foreclosed in this manner. It doesn't say that they shall
7	MS. RODGERS: Mary, do you see any	7	be foreclosed "pursuant to." It says it was crafted
8	difference between you know, from the standpoint of	8	very carefully so that it gives you the tax code provision
9	whether the notice on tax lien foreclosures and those	9	32.06(c)(2) says you shall foreclose in this manner,
10	sorts of things, any reason why it should be different	10	except in as modified by these few different
11	from what we're dealing with with regard to notice on the	11	parameters, notice shall be longer. I've got a whole list
12	home equity?	12	of them right here. I'm trying to paraphrase, but I don't 13	MS. DOGGETT: I haven't yet.	13	see the need and maybe somebody else could explain to 14	MS. RODGERS: Yeah.	14	me what it is in 736 and 32.06 that conflict and why we
15	MS. DOGGETT: So, no.	15	need to make a change to that.
16	MR. BAGGETT: Okay. Is there anything else	16	MS. NEELEY: Well, the content is totally
17	that we need to be doing with respect to tax liens that	17	different in terms of the application.
18	would be unique other than	18	MS. DOGGETT: But do you see what I'm
19	MS. NEELEY: Yeah. There's some unique	19	saying, Karen? It doesn't say
20	requirements in the statute as to what goes into them, the	20	MS. NEELEY: Yeah.
21	notice, the application, et cetera, so it spells it out in	21	MS. DOGGETT: "shall foreclose pursuant
22	some fairly significant detail.	22	to." It says "this is manner that's already set up in the 23	MR. BAGGETT: So we're going to have a new	23	law." You follow that.
24	part of 736.	24	MS. NEELEY: Yeah. $(c)(1)$ says what the 25	MR. BASTIAN: Make it 736a, but it's laid	25	application has to say.
	Page 83		Page 85
1	out one, two, three, four.	1	MS. DOGGETT: Right.
2	MS. NEELEY: It's specified.	2	MS. NEELEY: And the application in 736 has
3	MR. BASTIAN: It's pretty clear.	3	a different content. It's easy to do.
4	MR. BAGGETT: Okay. All right. We'll just	4	MR. BASTIAN: Yeah, it's easy to do.
5	make that (a). Yeah, we can just make it a whole new tax	5	MR. BAGGETT: I think you just put that all
6	lien deal.	6	into 736.
7	MR. TEMPLE: Mike, I think all that's going	7	MS. NEELEY: It's easy. You just do a cut
8	to be easier than maybe what it jumps out at some of you	8	and paste of $(c)(1)$ into 736 as the content of the 9	initially primarily because Kelly and Mary and Tommy and	9	application, boom, it's done.
10	others negotiated a lot of this during the session.	10	MS. DOGGETT: As you said, a separate 111
11	MR. BAGGETT: Right.	11	provision in 736
11 12	MR. TEMPLE: As Tommy says, it's set out	12	MS. NEELEY: Yeah.
11 12 13	MR. TEMPLE: As Tommy says, it's set out pretty well in Senate Bill 1520, and to kind of pick it up	12 13	MS. NEELEY: Yeah. MS. DOGGETT: as opposed to applying
11 12 13 14	MR. TEMPLE: As Tommy says, it's set out pretty well in Senate Bill 1520, and to kind of pick it up and put it in a rule isn't going to be as difficult as you	12 13 14	MS. NEELEY: Yeah. MS. DOGGETT: as opposed to applying 32.06 to law.
11 12 13 14 15	MR. TEMPLE: As Tommy says, it's set out pretty well in Senate Bill 1520, and to kind of pick it up and put it in a rule isn't going to be as difficult as you might initially think.	12 13 14 15	MS. NEELEY: Yeah. MS. DOGGETT: as opposed to applying 32.06 to law. MS. NEELEY: Yeah, because otherwise you've
11 12 13 14 15 16	MR. TEMPLE: As Tommy says, it's set out pretty well in Senate Bill 1520, and to kind of pick it up and put it in a rule isn't going to be as difficult as you might initially think. MR. BAGGETT: Okay.	12 13 14 15 16	MS. NEELEY: Yeah. MS. DOGGETT: as opposed to applying 32.06 to law. MS. NEELEY: Yeah, because otherwise you've got the wrong content in your application.
11 12 13 14 15 16 17	MR. TEMPLE: As Tommy says, it's set out pretty well in Senate Bill 1520, and to kind of pick it up and put it in a rule isn't going to be as difficult as you might initially think. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. MS. DOGGETT: I'm going to go out on a limb	12 13 14 15 16 17	MS. NEELEY: Yeah. MS. DOGGETT: as opposed to applying 32.06 to law. MS. NEELEY: Yeah, because otherwise you've got the wrong content in your application. MR. BASTIAN: And I have a practical comment
11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	MR. TEMPLE: As Tommy says, it's set out pretty well in Senate Bill 1520, and to kind of pick it up and put it in a rule isn't going to be as difficult as you might initially think. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. MS. DOGGETT: I'm going to go out on a limb here and go even further than that. I don't think that	12 13 14 15 16 17 18	MS. NEELEY: Yeah. MS. DOGGETT: as opposed to applying 32.06 to law. MS. NEELEY: Yeah, because otherwise you've got the wrong content in your application. MR. BASTIAN: And I have a practical comment to that, because you see it in the home equity line of
11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19	MR. TEMPLE: As Tommy says, it's set out pretty well in Senate Bill 1520, and to kind of pick it up and put it in a rule isn't going to be as difficult as you might initially think. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. MS. DOGGETT: I'm going to go out on a limb here and go even further than that. I don't think that the rule needs to be amended to reflect any of the changes	12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19	MS. NEELEY: Yeah. MS. DOGGETT: as opposed to applying 32.06 to law. MS. NEELEY: Yeah, because otherwise you've got the wrong content in your application. MR. BASTIAN: And I have a practical comment to that, because you see it in the home equity line of credit that's not in the Constitution. If you don't put
11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	MR. TEMPLE: As Tommy says, it's set out pretty well in Senate Bill 1520, and to kind of pick it up and put it in a rule isn't going to be as difficult as you might initially think. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. MS. DOGGETT: I'm going to go out on a limb here and go even further than that. I don't think that the rule needs to be amended to reflect any of the changes that are contained in Senate Bill 1520, because I spoke	12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	MS. NEELEY: Yeah. MS. DOGGETT: as opposed to applying 32.06 to law. MS. NEELEY: Yeah, because otherwise you've got the wrong content in your application. MR. BASTIAN: And I have a practical comment to that, because you see it in the home equity line of credit that's not in the Constitution. If you don't put it in that rule, you would be amazed how many people don't
11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	MR. TEMPLE: As Tommy says, it's set out pretty well in Senate Bill 1520, and to kind of pick it up and put it in a rule isn't going to be as difficult as you might initially think. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. MS. DOGGETT: I'm going to go out on a limb here and go even further than that. I don't think that the rule needs to be amended to reflect any of the changes that are contained in Senate Bill 1520, because I spoke with the legislative assistants for or the general	12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	MS. NEELEY: Yeah. MS. DOGGETT: as opposed to applying 32.06 to law. MS. NEELEY: Yeah, because otherwise you've got the wrong content in your application. MR. BASTIAN: And I have a practical comment to that, because you see it in the home equity line of credit that's not in the Constitution. If you don't put it in that rule, you would be amazed how many people don't even know what you're talking about. You need to put it
11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	MR. TEMPLE: As Tommy says, it's set out pretty well in Senate Bill 1520, and to kind of pick it up and put it in a rule isn't going to be as difficult as you might initially think. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. MS. DOGGETT: I'm going to go out on a limb here and go even further than that. I don't think that the rule needs to be amended to reflect any of the changes that are contained in Senate Bill 1520, because I spoke with the legislative assistants for or the general counsel for Wentworth and the former chief of staff for	12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	MS. NEELEY: Yeah. MS. DOGGETT: as opposed to applying 32.06 to law. MS. NEELEY: Yeah, because otherwise you've got the wrong content in your application. MR. BASTIAN: And I have a practical comment to that, because you see it in the home equity line of credit that's not in the Constitution. If you don't put it in that rule, you would be amazed how many people don't even know what you're talking about. You need to put it in the rule, because right now a lot of people will go
11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	MR. TEMPLE: As Tommy says, it's set out pretty well in Senate Bill 1520, and to kind of pick it up and put it in a rule isn't going to be as difficult as you might initially think. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. MS. DOGGETT: I'm going to go out on a limb here and go even further than that. I don't think that the rule needs to be amended to reflect any of the changes that are contained in Senate Bill 1520, because I spoke with the legislative assistants for or the general counsel for Wentworth and the former chief of staff for Paxton when the committee when this task force was	12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	MS. NEELEY: Yeah. MS. DOGGETT: as opposed to applying 32.06 to law. MS. NEELEY: Yeah, because otherwise you've got the wrong content in your application. MR. BASTIAN: And I have a practical comment to that, because you see it in the home equity line of credit that's not in the Constitution. If you don't put it in that rule, you would be amazed how many people don't even know what you're talking about. You need to put it in the rule, because right now a lot of people will go foreclose a home equity line of credit. Because they
11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	MR. TEMPLE: As Tommy says, it's set out pretty well in Senate Bill 1520, and to kind of pick it up and put it in a rule isn't going to be as difficult as you might initially think. MR. BAGGETT: Okay. MS. DOGGETT: I'm going to go out on a limb here and go even further than that. I don't think that the rule needs to be amended to reflect any of the changes that are contained in Senate Bill 1520, because I spoke with the legislative assistants for or the general counsel for Wentworth and the former chief of staff for	12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	MS. NEELEY: Yeah. MS. DOGGETT: as opposed to applying 32.06 to law. MS. NEELEY: Yeah, because otherwise you've got the wrong content in your application. MR. BASTIAN: And I have a practical comment to that, because you see it in the home equity line of credit that's not in the Constitution. If you don't put it in that rule, you would be amazed how many people don't even know what you're talking about. You need to put it in the rule, because right now a lot of people will go

22 (Pages 82 to 85)

	Page 86		Page 88
1	So it's just a practical thing, just put it	1	don't put it in the rule somebody is going to leave out an
2	there so everybody sees it because all you're going to do	2	element. If you cross-reference the statute and the
3	is just have a bunch of wrongful foreclosures on your	3	statute changes, you've taken care of the elements. It's
4	hands because somebody didn't bother to go look at the new	4	just going to be a matter of monitoring to make sure it's
5	provision in 36.05 or 36.065. It's too easy it seems to	5	fixed.
6	me. Just put it there so it's there and then you don't	6	HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: You know, we do
7	have to	7	have in the Rule of Civil Procedures, you know, an 8	MR. BAGGETT: Take what you've agreed to,	8	affidavit for introducing records, this will suffice, you
9	move it in there, and move on.	9	know, and we don't have a rule. We just say if it's
10	MS. NEELEY: Yeah, it's a cut and paste.	10	so-and-so, well, this is going to be good enough. Instead
11	HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: I mean, actually, I	11	of saying it's got to be this way, it says if you do it
12	mean, the rule does give the option, "in the manner	12	this way it will be good enough, so maybe somehow,
13	provided by"	13	somehow. I guess I'm just a little jumpy
14	MS. NEELEY: Yeah.	14	MR. BASTIAN: Some language that says
15	HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: "law for	15	HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: Exactly. I'm just 16	foreclosure of tax liens or in the manner" "or under	16	a little jumpy about having a rule and then having the 17	Rule 736." We can just if we don't amend the rule they	17	Legislature change it on us.
18	can't do a 736 for a tax lien, and we can just cut that	18	MS. NEELEY: They would never do that.
19	out, but I think we have to amend the rule to get tax lien	19	MR. BAGGETT: But when they go to change it,
20	foreclosures under 736.	20	I mean, part of it they've got to look at the rule. They
21	MR. BAGGETT: Right, so we just use the	21	can direct us again to modify the rule, because what
22	substance that they already have and put it in there.	22	they've done is they've told us to do it under 736.
23	HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: If I might just say	23	HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: A clause, "except 24	something, there may be a concern about taking a statutory	24	as otherwise provided by law" might
25	provision and putting it into the rule because next time	25	MS. NEELEY: Yeah.
	Page 87		Page 89
1	they meet over there, they change the statute, and then	1	HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: solve that.
2	we've got the rule, and that's the worst of all worlds.	2	MR. BAGGETT: I understand your point, but
3	You know, they're changing, and we've got to come back,	3	they shouldn't have told us to put it in the rule to begin
4	but we talk about bad foreclosures.	4	with if that's the case. We've got to figure out what to
5	MR. BAGGETT: Right.	5	do.
6	HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: That's going to be	6	HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: It's just a
7	a concern that I can see instead of simply referencing in	7	concern.
8	the rule, referencing whatever it is that they do over at	8	MR. BAGGETT: Yeah, that's fair.
9	the leg., because you just somebody may take a one-page	9	MR. REDDING: Well, could you just reference
10	bill, just a cleanup item, and all of the sudden now we've	10	it and then say "or as may be amended from time to time"
11	got people following the rules that won't go read the	11	and said you know, "said procedure be done in 12	statute, so I think that may well be a concern that we	12	accordance with then current law" or something like that,
13 14	ought to think about.	13	just add on a phrase to the back end of it?
	MS. NEELEY: That's a good point, but the problem is $(a)(1)$ says that your application for this	14	MR. BAGGETT: Okay. We can take a stab at
15 16	problem is $(c)(1)$ says that your application for this order must allege the lien as an ad valorem tax lien,	15 16	that one. That one shouldn't be too hard to at least
17	state that they don't want a home equity foreclosure,	17	start the stab. Here's what I want you-all to do, too, those
18	state that they provided notice, et cetera, et cetera, and	18	of you who are particularly interested in an area, I think
19	confirm that the property owner has not requested deferral	19	you've got e-mails on there, let me know which we're
20	of taxes. So there's four elements, and they're totally	20	going to have at least two subcommittees. One is going to
21	different from the elements in the application, so it	21	be the cleanup of 735 and 736, and the second one will be
22	either needs to be	22	the tax lien deal, which probably they'll kind of overlap
23	MR. BAGGETT: Yeah, take one of them.	23	some, but that's fine. And let me know which ones you
24	MS. NEELEY: something that says to	24	want to be on if you want to be on one. We've got to get
		1
25	me, I think Tommy is right. And you're both right, if you	25	this done by December 31, so subcommittees, if you want to

23 (Pages 86 to 89)

	Page 90		Page 92
1	be on one, you've got to you've got to be flexible with	1	with me after this?
2	time and get it done, because we've got to get it done and	2	MR. NEWBURGER: Thank you.
3	then have another meeting to make sure everybody is okay	3	MR. BAGGETT: Did you have something, Mike?
4	with it.	4	MR. BARRETT: Well, I wasn't sure whether
5	HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: Let me say this,	5	you were saying "forever hold your peace."
6	the Court wanted it December 31st because, as we	6	MR. BAGGETT: No, no.
7	understood, this needs to be done, and it needs to be done	7	MR. BARRETT: Tommy, do you want to hold
8	for the industry, and that's our concern, but we want to	8	forth on the judges that are ruling that the provisions in
9	make sure it's done right.	9	the deed of trust why don't you explain that? You're
10	MR. BAGGETT: Yeah, because right now what	10	much more scholarly than I.
11	do they do if we don't have the rule, and they've got to	11	MR. BASTIAN: Well, as you know, in our Rule
12	file a lawsuit, I guess, and do it judicially in the	12	736 proceeding it's not appealable, but there are judges
13	interim, but anyway, we'll see. Okay. Other issues that	13	that just kind of just like there are lawyers, just
14	we may or may not have? Anybody got? Tommy, you got any	14	like there is borrowers that go out, you know, kind of way
15	other issues?	15	out there, and I think we need to put something in the 16	MR. BASTIAN: Huh-uh.	16	rule that you have the ability to do a mandamus on these,
17	MR. BAGGETT: You've got to be kidding me.	17	and that would be kind of the check and balance on some
18	We're all love and affection. Manny.	18	judges. I mean, I've got some orders here where judges
19	MR. NEWBURGER: I'm going to raise one, but	19	are actually reading the deed of trust and having their
20	I'm not sure we can or should deal with this, but my	20	own interpretations and then going and denying the order,
21	client base is lawyers all over the country are under	21	and you know, that's way out there, that I think there
22	attack, and one of the biggest forms of attack is upon the	22	needs to be some I don't know how you and there's no
23	litigation privilege. The lawyers who follow the rules	23	check and balance on that. They can just
24	ought to get to follow the rules and not get sued for	24	MR. BARRETT: Don't we have one judge in
25	doing it. Is there any way we can put something in here	25	Houston that has declared the rules unconstitutional,
	· · · · · ·
	Page 91		Page 93
1	Page 91	1	Page 93
1	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas	1	these rules? The way I read this.
2	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas common law is intended to apply to proceedings under these	2	these rules? The way I read this. MR. BASTIAN: Well, you could
2 3	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas common law is intended to apply to proceedings under these rules?	2 3	these rules? The way I read this. MR. BASTIAN: Well, you could MR. BARRETT: She's inviting a declaratory
2 3 4	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas common law is intended to apply to proceedings under these rules? MR. BAGGETT: I think your first statement	2 3 4	these rules? The way I read this. MR. BASTIAN: Well, you could MR. BARRETT: She's inviting a declaratory judgment action to determine whether or not she's right,
2 3 4 5	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas common law is intended to apply to proceedings under these rules? MR. BAGGETT: I think your first statement was right. We're probably beyond what we can do with	2 3 4 5	these rules? The way I read this. MR. BASTIAN: Well, you could MR. BARRETT: She's inviting a declaratory judgment action to determine whether or not she's right, but she thinks that the internal language of the Fannie
2 3 4 5 6	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas common law is intended to apply to proceedings under these rules? MR. BAGGETT: I think your first statement was right. We're probably beyond what we can do with that.	2 3 4 5 6	these rules? The way I read this. MR. BASTIAN: Well, you could MR. BARRETT: She's inviting a declaratory judgment action to determine whether or not she's right, but she thinks that the internal language of the Fannie Mae deed of trust and the rules are self-cancelling and
2 3 4 5	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas common law is intended to apply to proceedings under these rules? MR. BAGGETT: I think your first statement was right. We're probably beyond what we can do with that. MR. NEWBURGER: I had to ask, because in	2 3 4 5 6 7	these rules? The way I read this. MR. BASTIAN: Well, you could MR. BARRETT: She's inviting a declaratory judgment action to determine whether or not she's right, but she thinks that the internal language of the Fannie Mae deed of trust and the rules are self-cancelling and that the rules themselves impose unconstitutional
2 3 4 5 6 7 8	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas common law is intended to apply to proceedings under these rules? MR. BAGGETT: I think your first statement was right. We're probably beyond what we can do with that. MR. NEWBURGER: I had to ask, because in Florida it's foreclosure firms, and it had to go all the	2 3 4 5 6 7 8	these rules? The way I read this. MR. BASTIAN: Well, you could MR. BARRETT: She's inviting a declaratory judgment action to determine whether or not she's right, but she thinks that the internal language of the Fannie Mae deed of trust and the rules are self-cancelling and that the rules themselves impose unconstitutional obligations, so
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas common law is intended to apply to proceedings under these rules? MR. BAGGETT: I think your first statement was right. We're probably beyond what we can do with that. MR. NEWBURGER: I had to ask, because in Florida it's foreclosure firms, and it had to go all the way to the Florida Supreme Court. There's a case, Cole	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9	these rules? The way I read this. MR. BASTIAN: Well, you could MR. BARRETT: She's inviting a declaratory judgment action to determine whether or not she's right, but she thinks that the internal language of the Fannie Mae deed of trust and the rules are self-cancelling and that the rules themselves impose unconstitutional obligations, so MR. BAGGETT: The rules aren't
2 3 4 5 6 7 8	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas common law is intended to apply to proceedings under these rules? MR. BAGGETT: I think your first statement was right. We're probably beyond what we can do with that. MR. NEWBURGER: I had to ask, because in Florida it's foreclosure firms, and it had to go all the way to the Florida Supreme Court. There's a case, Cole vs. Echevarria, just decided earlier this year that had to	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10	these rules? The way I read this. MR. BASTIAN: Well, you could MR. BARRETT: She's inviting a declaratory judgment action to determine whether or not she's right, but she thinks that the internal language of the Fannie Mae deed of trust and the rules are self-cancelling and that the rules themselves impose unconstitutional obligations, so MR. BAGGETT: The rules aren't constitutional?
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas common law is intended to apply to proceedings under these rules? MR. BAGGETT: I think your first statement was right. We're probably beyond what we can do with that. MR. NEWBURGER: I had to ask, because in Florida it's foreclosure firms, and it had to go all the way to the Florida Supreme Court. There's a case, Cole vs. Echevarria, just decided earlier this year that had to go all the way up there at a cost of hundreds of thousands	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9	these rules? The way I read this. MR. BASTIAN: Well, you could MR. BARRETT: She's inviting a declaratory judgment action to determine whether or not she's right, but she thinks that the internal language of the Fannie Mae deed of trust and the rules are self-cancelling and that the rules themselves impose unconstitutional obligations, so MR. BAGGETT: The rules aren't constitutional? MR. BARRETT: Yeah.
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas common law is intended to apply to proceedings under these rules? MR. BAGGETT: I think your first statement was right. We're probably beyond what we can do with that. MR. NEWBURGER: I had to ask, because in Florida it's foreclosure firms, and it had to go all the way to the Florida Supreme Court. There's a case, Cole vs. Echevarria, just decided earlier this year that had to go all the way up there at a cost of hundreds of thousands of dollars to get the state Supreme Court to decide	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11	these rules? The way I read this. MR. BASTIAN: Well, you could MR. BARRETT: She's inviting a declaratory judgment action to determine whether or not she's right, but she thinks that the internal language of the Fannie Mae deed of trust and the rules are self-cancelling and that the rules themselves impose unconstitutional obligations, so MR. BAGGETT: The rules aren't constitutional? MR. BARRETT: Yeah. HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: Under a Federal
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas common law is intended to apply to proceedings under these rules? MR. BAGGETT: I think your first statement was right. We're probably beyond what we can do with that. MR. NEWBURGER: I had to ask, because in Florida it's foreclosure firms, and it had to go all the way to the Florida Supreme Court. There's a case, Cole vs. Echevarria, just decided earlier this year that had to go all the way up there at a cost of hundreds of thousands of dollars to get the state Supreme Court to decide whether litigation privilege applied to their proceedings	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13	these rules? The way I read this. MR. BASTIAN: Well, you could MR. BARRETT: She's inviting a declaratory judgment action to determine whether or not she's right, but she thinks that the internal language of the Fannie Mae deed of trust and the rules are self-cancelling and that the rules themselves impose unconstitutional obligations, so MR. BAGGETT: The rules aren't constitutional? MR. BARRETT: Yeah. HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: Under a Federal like due process or under 750?
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas common law is intended to apply to proceedings under these rules? MR. BAGGETT: I think your first statement was right. We're probably beyond what we can do with that. MR. NEWBURGER: I had to ask, because in Florida it's foreclosure firms, and it had to go all the way to the Florida Supreme Court. There's a case, Cole vs. Echevarria, just decided earlier this year that had to go all the way up there at a cost of hundreds of thousands of dollars to get the state Supreme Court to decide whether litigation privilege applied to their proceedings to foreclose mortgages, and I would really hate to see	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14	these rules? The way I read this. MR. BASTIAN: Well, you could MR. BARRETT: She's inviting a declaratory judgment action to determine whether or not she's right, but she thinks that the internal language of the Fannie Mae deed of trust and the rules are self-cancelling and that the rules themselves impose unconstitutional obligations, so MR. BAGGETT: The rules aren't constitutional? MR. BARRETT: Yeah. HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: Under a Federal like due process or under 750? MR. BARRETT: Yeah, they're due process.
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas common law is intended to apply to proceedings under these rules? MR. BAGGETT: I think your first statement was right. We're probably beyond what we can do with that. MR. NEWBURGER: I had to ask, because in Florida it's foreclosure firms, and it had to go all the way to the Florida Supreme Court. There's a case, Cole vs. Echevarria, just decided earlier this year that had to go all the way up there at a cost of hundreds of thousands of dollars to get the state Supreme Court to decide whether litigation privilege applied to their proceedings to foreclose mortgages, and I would really hate to see that process clog up the Texas courts if there were a way	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13	these rules? The way I read this. MR. BASTIAN: Well, you could MR. BARRETT: She's inviting a declaratory judgment action to determine whether or not she's right, but she thinks that the internal language of the Fannie Mae deed of trust and the rules are self-cancelling and that the rules themselves impose unconstitutional obligations, so MR. BAGGETT: The rules aren't constitutional? MR. BARRETT: Yeah. HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: Under a Federal like due process or under 750? MR. BARRETT: Yeah, they're due process. She says the deed of trust creates or the statute or
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas common law is intended to apply to proceedings under these rules? MR. BAGGETT: I think your first statement was right. We're probably beyond what we can do with that. MR. NEWBURGER: I had to ask, because in Florida it's foreclosure firms, and it had to go all the way to the Florida Supreme Court. There's a case, Cole vs. Echevarria, just decided earlier this year that had to go all the way up there at a cost of hundreds of thousands of dollars to get the state Supreme Court to decide whether litigation privilege applied to their proceedings to foreclose mortgages, and I would really hate to see	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	these rules? The way I read this. MR. BASTIAN: Well, you could MR. BARRETT: She's inviting a declaratory judgment action to determine whether or not she's right, but she thinks that the internal language of the Fannie Mae deed of trust and the rules are self-cancelling and that the rules themselves impose unconstitutional obligations, so MR. BAGGETT: The rules aren't constitutional? MR. BARRETT: Yeah. HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: Under a Federal like due process or under 750? MR. BARRETT: Yeah, they're due process. She says the deed of trust creates or the statute or the Constitution that provided nonrecourse status for home
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas common law is intended to apply to proceedings under these rules? MR. BAGGETT: I think your first statement was right. We're probably beyond what we can do with that. MR. NEWBURGER: I had to ask, because in Florida it's foreclosure firms, and it had to go all the way to the Florida Supreme Court. There's a case, Cole vs. Echevarria, just decided earlier this year that had to go all the way up there at a cost of hundreds of thousands of dollars to get the state Supreme Court to decide whether litigation privilege applied to their proceedings to foreclose mortgages, and I would really hate to see that process clog up the Texas courts if there were a way to put it in the rule. MR. BAGGETT: Makes sense. I think that's a	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	these rules? The way I read this. MR. BASTIAN: Well, you could MR. BARRETT: She's inviting a declaratory judgment action to determine whether or not she's right, but she thinks that the internal language of the Fannie Mae deed of trust and the rules are self-cancelling and that the rules themselves impose unconstitutional obligations, so MR. BAGGETT: The rules aren't constitutional? MR. BARRETT: Yeah. HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: Under a Federal like due process or under 750? MR. BARRETT: Yeah, they're due process. She says the deed of trust creates or the statute or the Constitution that provided nonrecourse status for home equity loans prevailed and that there are provisions about
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas common law is intended to apply to proceedings under these rules? MR. BAGGETT: I think your first statement was right. We're probably beyond what we can do with that. MR. NEWBURGER: I had to ask, because in Florida it's foreclosure firms, and it had to go all the way to the Florida Supreme Court. There's a case, Cole vs. Echevarria, just decided earlier this year that had to go all the way up there at a cost of hundreds of thousands of dollars to get the state Supreme Court to decide whether litigation privilege applied to their proceedings to foreclose mortgages, and I would really hate to see that process clog up the Texas courts if there were a way to put it in the rule. MR. BAGGETT: Makes sense. I think that's a probably bigger issue for the overall rules committee	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	these rules? The way I read this. MR. BASTIAN: Well, you could MR. BARRETT: She's inviting a declaratory judgment action to determine whether or not she's right, but she thinks that the internal language of the Fannie Mae deed of trust and the rules are self-cancelling and that the rules themselves impose unconstitutional obligations, so MR. BAGGETT: The rules aren't constitutional? MR. BARRETT: Yeah. HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: Under a Federal like due process or under 750? MR. BARRETT: Yeah, they're due process. She says the deed of trust creates or the statute or the Constitution that provided nonrecourse status for home
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas common law is intended to apply to proceedings under these rules? MR. BAGGETT: I think your first statement was right. We're probably beyond what we can do with that. MR. NEWBURGER: I had to ask, because in Florida it's foreclosure firms, and it had to go all the way to the Florida Supreme Court. There's a case, Cole vs. Echevarria, just decided earlier this year that had to go all the way up there at a cost of hundreds of thousands of dollars to get the state Supreme Court to decide whether litigation privilege applied to their proceedings to foreclose mortgages, and I would really hate to see that process clog up the Texas courts if there were a way to put it in the rule. MR. BAGGETT: Makes sense. I think that's a	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	these rules? The way I read this. MR. BASTIAN: Well, you could MR. BARRETT: She's inviting a declaratory judgment action to determine whether or not she's right, but she thinks that the internal language of the Fannie Mae deed of trust and the rules are self-cancelling and that the rules themselves impose unconstitutional obligations, so MR. BAGGETT: The rules aren't constitutional? MR. BARRETT: Yeah. HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: Under a Federal like due process or under 750? MR. BARRETT: Yeah, they're due process. She says the deed of trust creates or the statute or the Constitution that provided nonrecourse status for home equity loans prevailed and that there are provisions about the rules that in her mind apply recourse and, therefore, are unconstitutional.
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas common law is intended to apply to proceedings under these rules? MR. BAGGETT: I think your first statement was right. We're probably beyond what we can do with that. MR. NEWBURGER: I had to ask, because in Florida it's foreclosure firms, and it had to go all the way to the Florida Supreme Court. There's a case, Cole vs. Echevarria, just decided earlier this year that had to go all the way up there at a cost of hundreds of thousands of dollars to get the state Supreme Court to decide whether litigation privilege applied to their proceedings to foreclose mortgages, and I would really hate to see that process clog up the Texas courts if there were a way to put it in the rule. MR. BAGGETT: Makes sense. I think that's a probably bigger issue for the overall rules committee whenever they're doing rules. If they want to get into	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19	these rules? The way I read this. MR. BASTIAN: Well, you could MR. BARRETT: She's inviting a declaratory judgment action to determine whether or not she's right, but she thinks that the internal language of the Fannie Mae deed of trust and the rules are self-cancelling and that the rules themselves impose unconstitutional obligations, so MR. BAGGETT: The rules aren't constitutional? MR. BARRETT: Yeah. HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: Under a Federal like due process or under 750? MR. BARRETT: Yeah, they're due process. She says the deed of trust creates or the statute or the Constitution that provided nonrecourse status for home equity loans prevailed and that there are provisions about the rules that in her mind apply recourse and, therefore,
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas common law is intended to apply to proceedings under these rules? MR. BAGGETT: I think your first statement was right. We're probably beyond what we can do with that. MR. NEWBURGER: I had to ask, because in Florida it's foreclosure firms, and it had to go all the way to the Florida Supreme Court. There's a case, Cole vs. Echevarria, just decided earlier this year that had to go all the way up there at a cost of hundreds of thousands of dollars to get the state Supreme Court to decide whether litigation privilege applied to their proceedings to foreclose mortgages, and I would really hate to see that process clog up the Texas courts if there were a way to put it in the rule. MR. BAGGETT: Makes sense. I think that's a probably bigger issue for the overall rules committee whenever they're doing rules. If they want to get into that, they can do that. That's when Marvin is going to come in and say, "This is lawyers writing rules to protect	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	these rules? The way I read this. MR. BASTIAN: Well, you could MR. BARRETT: She's inviting a declaratory judgment action to determine whether or not she's right, but she thinks that the internal language of the Fannie Mae deed of trust and the rules are self-cancelling and that the rules themselves impose unconstitutional obligations, so MR. BAGGETT: The rules aren't constitutional? MR. BARRETT: Yeah. HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: Under a Federal like due process or under 750? MR. BARRETT: Yeah, they're due process. She says the deed of trust creates or the statute or the Constitution that provided nonrecourse status for home equity loans prevailed and that there are provisions about the rules that in her mind apply recourse and, therefore, are unconstitutional. MR. BASTIAN: The best we can figure out,
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas common law is intended to apply to proceedings under these rules? MR. BAGGETT: I think your first statement was right. We're probably beyond what we can do with that. MR. NEWBURGER: I had to ask, because in Florida it's foreclosure firms, and it had to go all the way to the Florida Supreme Court. There's a case, Cole vs. Echevarria, just decided earlier this year that had to go all the way up there at a cost of hundreds of thousands of dollars to get the state Supreme Court to decide whether litigation privilege applied to their proceedings to foreclose mortgages, and I would really hate to see that process clog up the Texas courts if there were a way to put it in the rule. MR. BAGGETT: Makes sense. I think that's a probably bigger issue for the overall rules committee whenever they're doing rules. If they want to get into that, they can do that. That's when Marvin is going to	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	these rules? The way I read this. MR. BASTIAN: Well, you could MR. BARRETT: She's inviting a declaratory judgment action to determine whether or not she's right, but she thinks that the internal language of the Fannie Mae deed of trust and the rules are self-cancelling and that the rules themselves impose unconstitutional obligations, so MR. BAGGETT: The rules aren't constitutional? MR. BARRETT: Yeah. HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: Under a Federal like due process or under 750? MR. BARRETT: Yeah, they're due process. She says the deed of trust creates or the statute or the Constitution that provided nonrecourse status for home equity loans prevailed and that there are provisions about the rules that in her mind apply recourse and, therefore, are unconstitutional. MR. BASTIAN: The best we can figure out, what she's saying is that, as you know, a substitute trustee's deed, the warranties of title come from the
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas common law is intended to apply to proceedings under these rules? MR. BAGGETT: I think your first statement was right. We're probably beyond what we can do with that. MR. NEWBURGER: I had to ask, because in Florida it's foreclosure firms, and it had to go all the way to the Florida Supreme Court. There's a case, Cole vs. Echevarria, just decided earlier this year that had to go all the way up there at a cost of hundreds of thousands of dollars to get the state Supreme Court to decide whether litigation privilege applied to their proceedings to foreclose mortgages, and I would really hate to see that process clog up the Texas courts if there were a way to put it in the rule. MR. BAGGETT: Makes sense. I think that's a probably bigger issue for the overall rules committee whenever they're doing rules. If they want to get into that, they can do that. That's when Marvin is going to come in and say, "This is lawyers writing rules to protect lawyers. This is ridiculous."	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	these rules? The way I read this. MR. BASTIAN: Well, you could MR. BARRETT: She's inviting a declaratory judgment action to determine whether or not she's right, but she thinks that the internal language of the Fannie Mae deed of trust and the rules are self-cancelling and that the rules themselves impose unconstitutional obligations, so MR. BAGGETT: The rules aren't constitutional? MR. BARRETT: Yeah. HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: Under a Federal like due process or under 750? MR. BARRETT: Yeah, they're due process. She says the deed of trust creates or the statute or the Constitution that provided nonrecourse status for home equity loans prevailed and that there are provisions about the rules that in her mind apply recourse and, therefore, are unconstitutional. MR. BASTIAN: The best we can figure out, what she's saying is that, as you know, a substitute
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	to make it clear that the litigation privilege under Texas common law is intended to apply to proceedings under these rules? MR. BAGGETT: I think your first statement was right. We're probably beyond what we can do with that. MR. NEWBURGER: I had to ask, because in Florida it's foreclosure firms, and it had to go all the way to the Florida Supreme Court. There's a case, Cole vs. Echevarria, just decided earlier this year that had to go all the way up there at a cost of hundreds of thousands of dollars to get the state Supreme Court to decide whether litigation privilege applied to their proceedings to foreclose mortgages, and I would really hate to see that process clog up the Texas courts if there were a way to put it in the rule. MR. BAGGETT: Makes sense. I think that's a probably bigger issue for the overall rules committee whenever they're doing rules. If they want to get into that, they can do that. That's when Marvin is going to come in and say, "This is lawyers writing rules to protect lawyers. This is ridiculous." HONORABLE PHIL JOHNSON: Let me talk to you	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	these rules? The way I read this. MR. BASTIAN: Well, you could MR. BARRETT: She's inviting a declaratory judgment action to determine whether or not she's right, but she thinks that the internal language of the Fannie Mae deed of trust and the rules are self-cancelling and that the rules themselves impose unconstitutional obligations, so MR. BAGGETT: The rules aren't constitutional? MR. BARRETT: Yeah. HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: Under a Federal like due process or under 750? MR. BARRETT: Yeah, they're due process. She says the deed of trust creates or the statute or the Constitution that provided nonrecourse status for home equity loans prevailed and that there are provisions about the rules that in her mind apply recourse and, therefore, are unconstitutional. MR. BASTIAN: The best we can figure out, what she's saying is that, as you know, a substitute trustee's deed, the warranties of title come from the borrower and because the borrower has to give warranty of

24 (Pages 90 to 93)

	Page 94		Page 96
1	ask of anything from the borrower other than the property.	1	MS. RODGERS: Okay.
2	I mean, that's the best we can figure out her order, what	2	MR. BASTIAN: And we've tried to preserve
3	she's saying, but right now you can't do anything about	3	the law like it's always been, that if you had a
4	it. You have a choice. You can either	4	complaint, well, then you go file your lawsuit and then
5	MR. BARRETT: We've got 70 orders stacked up	5	that abated it.
б	in her court that she won't sign because the rules are	6	MS. RODGERS: Okay.
7	unconstitutional, so I think we should probably try to do	7	MR. BAGGETT: See, with the rules that we
8	something about clarifying whether the fact that the rules	8	have you don't have normal discovery and all that stuff,
9	conflict with recourse provisions in the Constitution.	9	so what we did is we said here's another way that you can
10	MR. BAGGETT: I don't think we can do that	10	do everything. So you don't want to be appealing
11	in the rules. "This is a real rule, and you better live	11	something that just gives you an order while you should be
12	by it."	12	litigating it over in a court, and you have a right to do
13	MS. NEELEY: And we mean it.	13	that that stops all this. I mean, you don't want them
14	MR. BARRETT: You said raise the issue.	14	going on simultaneously.
15	MR. BAGGETT: I understand.	15	MS. RODGERS: Right.
16	MR. BARRETT: I'm raising the issue.	16	MR. BAGGETT: And you have a right to stop
17	MR. BAGGETT: I'm glad you raised it. That	17	all that stuff and tee it up in a regular case.
18	would be my suggestion, mandamus.	18	MR. BASTIAN: Rule 736 was designed for 19	MR. BASTIAN: But see, mandamus, these are	19	those cases where nobody filed a response or didn't care
20	unappealable, so I mean, we've gone around and around, and	20	so it wouldn't clog up the system.
21	what we ended up doing, we just did judicial foreclosures,	21	MS. RODGERS: Right.
22	but now we have a record, so that then we can go do	22	MR. BASTIAN: That's its purpose.
23	but, you know, that's almost, wait a minute, that's a	23	MS. NEELEY: Yeah, exactly.
24	whole lot to have to go through.	24	MR. BAGGETT: And we really were thinking
25	HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: I don't think there	25	about the courts and what kind of burden it would be, and
	Page 95		Page 97
1	is anything that would prevent a Doggett and I were	1	if we got a whole bunch of these, if half their docket
2	talking. I don't think there is anything that would	2	were these cases, that would not be good, so how do we
3	prevent a mandamus. You ought to do it. You ought to do	3	balance all of that to make it work.
4	it and see, because I've always assumed that you can	4	MR. BASTIAN: What a lot of people forget is 5	mandamus these.	5	most of the pundits were saying you had to go do a б	MR. BARRETT: I agree. I don't think we	6	judicial foreclosure on these things. Man, lordy mercy.
7	need to change the rule to create	7	MR. NEWBURGER: This was actually a very
8	HONORABLE BRUCE PRIDDY: But if you mandamus	8	important trade-off because without this rule you would
9	and the court of appeals says you can't mandamus because	9	have to go out, as I always used to have to do, and get a
10	of the nonappealability provision then we can change the	10	restraining order to stop a foreclosure.
11	rule, but let's get a court of appeals	11	MR. BAGGETT: Right.
12	MR. BARRETT: Yeah. All right.	12	MR. NEWBURGER: And what this did was this 13	MR. BAGGETT: Any other issues we've got,	13	gave any consumer who wanted to raise a dispute the
1		14	ability to stop it merely by filing a lawsuit. So this
14	other than lunch?
14 15	other than lunch? MS. RODGERS: I have a question. Where did	15	was a win-win deal.
15 16	MS. RODGERS: I have a question. Where did the nonappealability come from? It's not in the	16
15 16 17	MS. RODGERS: I have a question. Where did		was a win-win deal.
15 16	MS. RODGERS: I have a question. Where did the nonappealability come from? It's not in the	16 17 18	was a win-win deal. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MR. NEWBURGER: Folks in Mike's business, unopposed, uncontested foreclosures were streamlined and
15 16 17	MS. RODGERS: I have a question. Where did the nonappealability come from? It's not in the Constitution.	16 17	was a win-win deal. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MR. NEWBURGER: Folks in Mike's business, unopposed, uncontested foreclosures were streamlined and didn't clog the courts. It was a win for consumers
15 16 17 18	MS. RODGERS: I have a question. Where did the nonappealability come from? It's not in the Constitution. MS. NEELEY: Yeah.	16 17 18	was a win-win deal. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MR. NEWBURGER: Folks in Mike's business, unopposed, uncontested foreclosures were streamlined and
15 16 17 18 19 20 21	MS. RODGERS: I have a question. Where did the nonappealability come from? It's not in the Constitution. MS. NEELEY: Yeah. MR. BAGGETT: No, it's not. MS. RODGERS: Where did you-all come up with that?	16 17 18 19 20 21	was a win-win deal. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MR. NEWBURGER: Folks in Mike's business, unopposed, uncontested foreclosures were streamlined and didn't clog the courts. It was a win for consumers because we went from a cumbersome process of seeking a restraining order and a temporary injunction to simply
15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	MS. RODGERS: I have a question. Where did the nonappealability come from? It's not in the Constitution. MS. NEELEY: Yeah. MR. BAGGETT: No, it's not. MS. RODGERS: Where did you-all come up with that? MR. BAGGETT: How did we do it? How did we	16 17 18 19 20 21 22	was a win-win deal. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MR. NEWBURGER: Folks in Mike's business, unopposed, uncontested foreclosures were streamlined and didn't clog the courts. It was a win for consumers because we went from a cumbersome process of seeking a
15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	MS. RODGERS: I have a question. Where did the nonappealability come from? It's not in the Constitution. MS. NEELEY: Yeah. MR. BAGGETT: No, it's not. MS. RODGERS: Where did you-all come up with that? MR. BAGGETT: How did we do it? How did we do it?	16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	was a win-win deal. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MR. NEWBURGER: Folks in Mike's business, unopposed, uncontested foreclosures were streamlined and didn't clog the courts. It was a win for consumers because we went from a cumbersome process of seeking a restraining order and a temporary injunction to simply having to file a suit and be able to accomplish the same thing.
15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	MS. RODGERS: I have a question. Where did the nonappealability come from? It's not in the Constitution. MS. NEELEY: Yeah. MR. BAGGETT: No, it's not. MS. RODGERS: Where did you-all come up with that? MR. BAGGETT: How did we do it? How did we	16 17 18 19 20 21 22	was a win-win deal. MR. BAGGETT: Yeah. MR. NEWBURGER: Folks in Mike's business, unopposed, uncontested foreclosures were streamlined and didn't clog the courts. It was a win for consumers because we went from a cumbersome process of seeking a restraining order and a temporary injunction to simply having to file a suit and be able to accomplish the same

25 (Pages 94 to 97)

	Page 98
1	somebody in Texas would say, "We don't follow anything in
2	Colorado, we do our own thing." So anyway.
3	Okay, I'm glad there are no other issues. I
4	need to go get lunch for you guys and see where the heck
5	it is, and I want to thank all of you for coming, and
6	we'll get two committees, and let me know which one you
7	want to be on, and we'll go down the road.
8	(Meeting adjourned.)
9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21
22
23 24
25	Da
	Page 99
1
2	REPORTER'S CERTIFICATION MEETING OF THE
~	TASK FORCE ON JUDICIAL FORECLOSURE RULES
3
4
4 5	* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *
4 5 6	* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *
4 5 6 7	* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *
4 5 6	* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *
4 5 7 8 9 10	* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *
4 5 7 8 9 10 11	K * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *
4 5 7 8 9 10 11 12	* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *
4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13	I, D'LOIS L. JONES, Certified Shorthand Reporter, State of Texas, hereby certify that I reported the above meeting of the Supreme Court Advisory Committee on the 7th day of November, 2007, and the same was thereafter reduced to computer transcription by me. I further certify that the costs for my
4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	I, D'LOIS L. JONES, Certified Shorthand Reporter, State of Texas, hereby certify that I reported the above meeting of the Supreme Court Advisory Committee on the 7th day of November, 2007, and the same was thereafter reduced to computer transcription by me. I further certify that the costs for my services in the matter are $ Charged to: The Supreme Court of Texas.
4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	I, D'LOIS L. JONES, Certified Shorthand Reporter, State of Texas, hereby certify that I reported the above meeting of the Supreme Court Advisory Committee on the 7th day of November, 2007, and the same was thereafter reduced to computer transcription by me. I further certify that the costs for my services in the matter are $ Charged to: The Supreme Court of Texas. Given under my hand and seal of office on
4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	I, D'LOIS L. JONES, Certified Shorthand Reporter, State of Texas, hereby certify that I reported the above meeting of the Supreme Court Advisory Committee on the 7th day of November, 2007, and the same was thereafter reduced to computer transcription by me. I further certify that the costs for my services in the matter are $ Charged to: The Supreme Court of Texas.
4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	I, D'LOIS L. JONES, Certified Shorthand Reporter, State of Texas, hereby certify that I reported the above meeting of the Supreme Court Advisory Committee on the 7th day of November, 2007, and the same was thereafter reduced to computer transcription by me. I further certify that the costs for my services in the matter are $ Charged to: The Supreme Court of Texas. Given under my hand and seal of office on
4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17	<pre>* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *</pre>
4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *
4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *
4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19	* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *
4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *
4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23	* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *
4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *	